HOW THEY BROKE GERMAN ARMY

Letter to Red Cross Tells Story of Advance Into Hunland

Some of the Christmas greeting letters which the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross sent to Newton men and women serving our country overseas did not reach their destination until long after Christmas. Some of the letters followed our men into Germany. One of them went to Dotzeroth, Germany, to Ralph C. Ellis, a private in the Regimental Machine Gun Company, 5th Regiment, U. S. Marine Corps. To the Chapter's letter Private Ellis sent this answer:

"I just received the Christmas letter from the Newton Branch of the American Red Cross, and was very glad to hear from my home town, and especially from the Red Cross. That is one, in fact, the one, organization which has always done its duty over here, and has always been on the job. If it had not been for the A.R.C., the Marines at Chateau Thierry would have been hard pressed to find food, and since then the Red Cross has always done its utmost for the men. Over here there is nothing but praise for the Red Cross, at least, in the Marine Corps, and I believe in the whole A. E. F.

I am a member of a division that has them all beat. When we were not on the line, we were preparing to go in. Naturally, our experiences came thick and fast. We had an order read to us the other day saying that the Second Division had suffered 10 per cent. of the casualties of the whole A. E. F., and had captured 25 per cent. of the guns, and 25 per cent. of the prisoners of the whole A. E. F. That is a pretty good record for one of the smallest divisions here.

I enlisted as a member of the Marine Corps in Boston in June 1917, and spent four months training at Paris Island, S. C. I was then sent to Quantico, Va., and joined the 8th Regiment. We sailed from Philadelphia on the USS Hancock, and thought that we were bound for the tropics, but the ship docked at Galveston, Texas, and the 8th Regiment is still there. I stayed there six months, then three hundred men were picked to go to France. I was lucky enough to be one of them.

We went back to Quantico by train, and remained there about two weeks. We were formed into the First Machine Gun Replacement Battalion, and left New York on the USS Henderson on May 27th, 1918. We had no encounters with the subs, and landed at Brest on June 8th. We were transported in the little French horse cars to Lilles sur Cher, a little town about a hundred kilometres south of Paris. We stayed there about two months, getting our machine gun training and trying out our very rudimentary French on the mademoiselles. Up to the end of this period we had a good percentage of play mixed in with our work, and we enjoyed both. But our play stopped suddenly, and since then it has been all work.

We received our "sailing orders" and left to join the fighting Marines after they were relieved from Soissons. At Haudemont, near Nancy, I was temporarily attached to the Intelligence Section of the 6th Machine Gun Battalion. In a few days, I joined the 8th Machine Gun Company, the 5th Regimental M.G. Company on the lines at Loisy, near Pont a Moussons. It was a quiet sector then, and the worst we had was a big trench raid. Our main diversion was watching aeroplane duels or the bursting of anti-craft shells.

RETIREES FROM BUSINESS

Arthur Hudson Has Been a Druggist in Newton for 43 Years

Mr. Arthur Hudson, for nearly forty three years, the principal druggist in Newton retired from active business last Saturday. Mr. Hudson has been in business here for many years longer than any other business man in the city and during his long period of service has formed a large number of warm friends, who will miss his genial presence in the "square".

Mr. Hudson has always been proud of his store and the character of its stock in trade and is said by competent authority to have carried a stock of drugs unequalled anywhere in New England. He has always had a large prescription business and has customers all over New England and the Middle States.

Mr. Hudson was born in England and studied the drug business in Newcastle under Messrs. Currie and Hutchinson. He also studied at Durham (England) University and under several preceptors in London. On arriving in Boston he was employed in the laboratory of Weeks and Potter and later with the firm of Charles I. Eaton. In 1876 he was examiner of food for the War Department. He came to Newton in that year and bought out the drug store of E. F. Billings, located on land now occupied by the present Centre street railroad bridge. Three years later he moved to the store at the corner of Centre and Elmwood streets where he stayed for eighteen years. He then moved to the quarters now occupied by the Newton post office, and a year later entering his present fine store across Nonantum square. He has filled the office of Milk Inspector since 1892 and has been the bacteriologist for the Health Department since 1895.

Mr. Bernard M. Burke, who has conducted a drug store on Centre street, Newton, for the past seven years, and

CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Rev. Dr. Emory W. Hunt of Newton Centre Will Go To Bucknell University

To go from the presidency of Denison University, Granville, O., to the same position with Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., after an interval of about six years is the honor which now is coming to the former Boston and present Newton preacher, Rev. Emory W. Hunt, D.D. In 1900 Dr. Hunt came from Toledo, after a highly successful pastorate there, to assume the charge of the Clarendon Street Baptist Church. He remained in the pastorate two years, going thence to Denison University as president, which position he held until 1913. For four years he has been at Newton Centre. His record is full of notable achievement.

Resigning from Denison University he was general secretary of the American Foreign Mission Society for two years. He left this work for the pastorate of the Newton Centre Baptist Church, which he will quit because of the invitation of the Bucknell board of trustees to be next president of the university. He will succeed Dr. John Howard Harris, who completes a term of thirty years in the presidency next June. The new president assumes his task while the institution is in the midst of one of its most successful and unifying periods, leaving him a high standard to maintain.

Success in leadership, however, has been marked in the career of Dr. Hunt since he was graduated from Crozer Theological Seminary in 1887, where he was one of the best students in one of the best classes which ever left the institution. He had been graduated

LARGE BUDGET

Mayor Childs Wants $1,904,037.48 for City Expenses in 1919

The annual budget for 1919 which was submitted Monday night by Mayor Childs calls for an expenditure of $1,904,037.28, as compared with a budget of $1,638,659.46 and a total expenditure of $1,681,712.04 in 1918, an increase of over $200,000. The principal increases come in the following departments: $5000 in the police department, $11,000 in the Fire and Wire departments, $67,000 in the Street department, of which $30,000 is for resurfacing streets, $7000 in the Forestry department, $48,000 in the School department, and $12,000 in the Playground department.

An interesting feature of the budget is the fact that the Mayor after submitting for five years a detailed budget in regard to salary items under each department, has this year requested a lump sum for clerical assistance under each department, and which if allowed by the board, will enable the department head to fix the salary of all his assistants subject to approval of the Mayor. This feature of the budget will undoubtedly cause some friction before the final figures are adopted.

The Mayor has been most generous in his recommendations for salary increases for heads of departments, which are submitted in detail, the figures recommended being as follows: Comptroller, $4000; Chairman Assessors, $3500; other assessors, $2500; City Treasurer, $4500; City Solicitor, $3750; City Clerk, $2500; City Messenger, $1500; City Engineer, $3500.

MANY HEARINGS AT CITY HALL

Strong Opposition to Widening of Commonwealth Avenue Near Prince Street

Principal I. O. Palmer of the Newton Technical High School with about forty of his pupils were interested spectators last Monday evening at the meeting of the board of aldermen. President Harriman was in the chair and every alderman was present.

The session was opened with a long list of hearings most of which were unopposed and included requests of the Saxony Worsted Mills to keep Fuel Oil between Bridge and Chapel streets, Herbert Swanson to keep gasoline at 1174 Beacon street, the Crystal Lake Ice Co., to keep gasoline at Norwood avenue, and for drain and sewers in Chandler place and Elliot terrace.

On petition of the Jenney Mfg. Co. for a gasoline station at Washington street and Charlesbank road, Mr. Burton Mitchell spoke in favor, showing photographs of the buildings put up by his company for such stations and remarks in opposition were made by John W. Hahn and James Hopkins.

At the hearing on proposed extension of Langley road from Jackson street to Boylston street, Mr. Burton Payne Gray appeared to protect the interests of Mr. Gasbarri who owns the land necessary for the extension. The matter of widening Commonwealth avenue at Prince street brought out considerable opposition. Mr. P. S. Cuniff appeared for the Michigan estate, saying that his clients had owned this property for 60 years. The widening would take a considerable part of the available land for buildings, as the land in the rear was low and swampy. There were four buildings and a garage now on the premises, the new street line would pass thru two of the buildings and the proposed building line would pass thru one building and the garage. The street here is 36 feet wide and is ample width for lawful traffic. Mr. J. P. Keefe spoke for the Sheehan estate and said there was no public necessity for the work, that it would take an appreciable portion of the small amount of good land, and he made a most vigorous protest against the proposed building line.

Alderman Forknall, in response to questions, said that the matter came up on recommendation of the Mayor, that the place was a dangerous curve and ought to be straightened out. Mr. Cuniff said that there had been but one accident there and that due to excessive speed. Mr. Cornelius Mehigan said that there had been some bad accidents there fifteen years ago but none of late years which were not due to racing or excessive speed. He modified this to say that one accident had taken place in the winter time due to ruts and skidding. He was emphatic in his belief that there was no reason for any accident if ordinary care was used and one could easily go at 20 miles an hour round the curve.

Alderman Cole was designated to draw jurors and the names of Wm. H. Meehan, Cherry street, Edward F. Rockwood, Beacon street and Ralph L. Warren, Waltham street were drawn.

Mayor Childs sent in the budget for 1919, a recommendation that $56,000 be appropriated for work on school houses required by the state police, $500 for legislative work on the Greater Boston matter, and $2500 for expenses of the training detachment last fall at the Technical High School.

The City Engineer sent in a long list of proposed sewer assessments which were duly approved by the board.

CHOSEN PRESIDENT

from Rochester University with honors in 1884. At the age of 25, just after leaving Crozer, he became pastor of the Ashland Avenue Baptist Church, Toledo, O. During the thirteen years in the pastorate, immediately preceding Dr. Hunt's coming to Boston, the membership of the Toledo church grew from 60 to upward of 500. Unanimously chosen by the trustees of Denison University for president, when Dr. D. B. Purington resigned, Dr. Hunt took up the new task in 1902. He had received the degree of D.D. from the institution in 1901. Under his leadership, the equipment of the university, both physical and scholastic, was extended greatly. A chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was established. He brought fame to the school by his speaking at educational and religious gatherings throughout Ohio and beyond; also as president of the Northern Baptist Convention.

Dr. Hunt had the advantage of sound, early training and schooling from his parents and he profited by his opportunities. His father also was a clergyman. Dr. Hunt was born in 1862, at East Clarence, in Western New York, the son of Rev. Harrison P. and Caroline Hunt. Besides gaining a thorough education from his parents, he came under the directing influence later of Dr. Martin B. Anderson, president of the University of Rochester.

Dr. Hunt was married in 1892, at Waltham, to Miss Elizabeth Olney. They have three daughters and one son, Miss Helen, is on her way to Burma to teach in a mission school. Another is the wife of Ensign C. Earl Richards of the United States Naval Aviation. Miss Carolyn, the third, will enter college next fall.

Dr. Hunt is a member of Alpha Delta Phi and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities. The degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him by the University of Rochester in 1902, and by McMaster University in 1906.

"Perhaps there is nothing more noteworthy in Dr. Hunt than his poise," says Professor C. L. Williams, L.H.D., a lifelong and intimate friend. "He is too healthy in body and mind to be either a cynic or a sentimentalist. His risible faculties are alert and have always been exercised enough to keep them healthy. Yet he is not flippant. His reverence for all that is sacred is ingrained and controlling. Dr. Hunt is a man of goodly and impressive equipage. One of the chief reasons for his remarkable hold on people, especially young people, is the wholesomeness of his Christian manhood."

WAR POSTER TABLEAU

The artistic Living Pictures representing War Posters recently given in the parlors of the Unitarian Church will be repeated on Friday evening, March 14, in Players' Hall for the benefit of the American Memorial Hospital in France.

The French Government in accepting from America the gift of the proposed Hospital requested that it be erected in Reims where the need for such an institution is most urgent. Reims was greatly devastated by the numerous air raids and constant shelling of the Cathedral and its surroundings by the Germans during the period of the war. The city itself is without a dispensary of any kind at present.

The American Fund for French Wounded, and friends and sympathizers of the cause, have undertaken to raise the required sum of money for the building of the Memorial Hospital, and in the meantime will open a dispensary for the sick and wounded from their own resources.

An American firm in Paris has volunteered to erect the hospital at cost. Six thousand dollars will endow a free bed in the institution forever. A Newton Committee was recently formed with the idea of raising enough money to name one of these beds after the City of Newton, but Auburndale with its freethoughtness seemed to collect, over night as it were, one half of this sum. Not to be outdone by a single representative of the city, the other wards are now planning to raise a sufficient sum to provide for at least two Newton beds.

With this idea in mind, the War Poster Tableaux are to be repeated under the management of Miss Ethel Howland and the aid of the Newton committee. Several new posters will be added to those previously shown, notably two very beautiful French ones. At the end of the program an auction sale of posters will take place which ought to prove an attraction to the numerous collectors of the city. An added feature of the evening will be the singing of eight of the popular war songs by the quartettes of the Congregational and Unitarian Churches. The pictures represent the window flyers of the Liberty Loan Campaign, and those of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A., the Navy, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, and the French War Loan. Some thirty people appear on the program.

Admission envelopes will be on sale at the next two Wednesday meetings of the Soldiers' Aid, West Newton, and the First National Bank on Saturday morning, March 8. A slight charge is made for the envelope in which a voluntary contribution is to be placed with the understanding that this contribution shall not be less than fifty (50) cents.

Mrs. Grace F. Rice, Mrs. Herbert Felton, Mrs. William F. Chase, Miss Mary S. Barbour, and Mrs. Pitt F. Drew will also have the envelopes.

BOWLING CONTEST CLOSES

SCOUTS TAKE HIKE

Eight scouts of Troop 7 took an interesting hike recently cooking many different dishes and having a fine trip. This troop received a visit from the Scout Executive at their last meeting, who gave them a lecture about their lack of attention and poor discipline during the drill period, which it is hoped, will have some effect. The Executive made a rule that those scouts that could not behave at the regular meetings, would be barred from the extra instruction and the hikes that he has been conducting. The assistant scoutmaster, who has been "signed up" with this troop, Mr. Percival Simonds, gave the scouts some very interesting work in the correct reporting of messages. The scouts were sent out to various parts of West Newton to find out various facts, such as the next mail for Brazil, the last fire in West Newton, when the next train goes to New York, etc. This will be carried on from time to time, until the scouts can correctly report and deliver messages.

Troop 5 Reorganizes

Troop 5 held a meeting at the Play-ground house this past week, with the idea of starting once more on real scout work. This troop has been fortunate in obtaining Mr. Alger as Scoutmaster. Mr. Alger was formerly scoutmaster in Gardner, Mass. after having passed through all the various grades from scout to scoutmaster. As an assistant to him, he has Mr. Spaulding of the Mason school, besides the old assistant scoutmaster, Mr. Harold Brown. It is quite possible that Mr. H. Langdon Pratt, the former scoutmaster, who was obliged to give up the active leadership of the troop on account of press of business, returns as another assistant scoutmaster, giving the scouts what time he is able. With officer found, and a fine Senior Patrol Leader, this troop will be heard from. They lead the city in War Savings Stamp sales and also in the Fourth Liberty Loan sales among the scout troops, and they say they will lead in this coming loan.

Troop 1

Several of the scouts are about ready for a Court of Honor examination, having been coached by Scoutmaster Duff at his home. Three of the scouts are planning a long hike, as far as Providence, R. I., and Newport. This will probably take place during the next school vacation. Scout Committee Meets School Board A committee from the Boy Scouts, consisting of Mr. J. C. Irwin, Rev. Father Haney and G. W. Talbot appeared before the School Committee this week, and explained to the members present how they thought the two could co-operate. Mr. Irwin explained the work of the scouts, and Father Haney told of his experiences in scout activities and the value it had to the boy.

Superintendent Wheeler highly praised the Scout work, and stated that he would like to see every boy in Newton have the benefit of its training.

Later in the evening the following vote was passed: "That the School Committee approve the co-operation of the principals and teachers, at their pleasure, with the representatives of the Boy Scouts of America, in order to promote Boy Scout training in this territory."

At the present time three of the teachers and commissioned officers in the Scout work, and it is expected that more soon will be.

A NEWTON BED

Plans for a Rummage Sale to be held the last week in March as a means of raising money for the Newton Bed in the proposed French Hospital for Tubercular Children, recently mentioned in the Newton papers, are rapidly maturing.

It is confidently expected that the public will give substantial aid in launching the enterprise by contributing from their homes second hand furniture, clothing, pictures, bric-a-brac, toys, etc. (not worthless dainties) which can be easily spared, and as past experience shows, will be eagerly sought after by those who can make good use of them.

Special arrangements for collecting these articles will be made. Gifts of money may be sent to Miss Mabel T. Eager, Treasurer, 49 Seminary avenue, Auburndale.

N. B. Remember the Rummage Sale is to be a Newton-wide, not a one-village affair.

Fashions in Humor

A lady once suggested "Alice in Wonderland" to a steady-going matron. The volume was soon returned with thanks and with the explanation that what was wanted was something "light," not all those puzzles. Unquestionably, there are fashions in humor.

A BOMBARDMENT

What It Feels Like

The droning whistle of the shell comes nearer. A sardonic, wry smile curves your lips. You continue your conversation as you march. "We're well off for paraffin for ——" The whistle reaches its lowest note. K-r-r-r-rump! You duck as the bits whiz past, and then,— the stove! you continue to make no other reference to the shells. There are just a stray one or two coming—odd ones, blind ones. "Tis a big country that is round you, and you are but a dot, a speck, on it. The odds in your favor are enormous. These thoughts run unbidden through your head, but—you are glad when the droning whistles cease. You feel a new man; you march a little more sprightly. Hello! There go the green lights again. "Fritz" has the "wind up" badly tonight," you mutter to your self. You know in a minute of two his S. O. S. will be answered, and you pass the word quietly to the lads who have not seen. You are in support, and you get into your little "cubby-holes"—shallow pits dug into the parapet; just a couple of feet of earth above you. If you are lucky you are sharing the hole with a pal. It is comforting.

The hole is a close fit for two, and you are squeezed together as you sit and your knees and feet are poking out into the trench. You light a cigarette and wait. You do not wait long. The whistle comes, and then the tearing, rending crash. Shrapnel, heavy and black and bursting low—you can tell by the crash of it. Bits patter like heavy hail on the trench outside and overhead. You nestle coarsely into the earth above; your vision sees but the clayey side of the trench opposite. You feel rather safe. You know it is foolish and that any decent-sized piece would come through the earth above you, but you do feel rather safe. You cannot help it.

The whistles are getting more frequent; now they are a chorus; how the whistles and bangs and K-r-r-rumps are hopelessly intermingled. The shrapnel is still tearing overhead, but the K-r-r-rumps and the crashes, with a peculiar metallic clann-g, and the rocking and trembling of the earth tell you that H. E.'s are dropping all around. You begin to feel a little less safe. You venture a look at your pal peering grins at you in the gloom. You pull yourself together. You press your back into the soil and your steel hat into the roof. Doing that seems to help a bit.

The trench outside is full of smoke and fumes and they drift in and make you cough. Your knees and feet are covered with bits of dirt, and pieces of earth from the roof are beginning to drop on you. The crashings, the earth-shakings are still going on. How your little hole contrives to be missed you do not know. Shells are dropping all round, within yards. You speak but you cannot hear your voice. There is a sort of splashing noise outside and you know part of the trench has fallen in.

You are getting a little dazed with it all; the nearness of the crashes worries you less.

The crashes are fewer; the smoke outside begins to blow away. The bombardment stops. It is as if weights were lifted from your head. You are fearfully thirsty and you drink from your bottle and pass it to your pal. Slowly, painfully you crawl out. You are stiff and you ache. The quiet is profound, and you hesitate for a moment before breaking it with your speech. You look at your watch; an hour and a half since it began. Five yards away is a lad with a broken leg. Another one is killed.

You can get used to some extent to shell fire for a few days, but not for a period that will include rests out of the line. Every turn "up" the line is like beginning all over again your apprenticeship to shells. But you take for a moment a few shells on your journey out of trench, then in your journey in. Exhaustion kills fear.

NOTED MUSICAL EVENT IN THIS CITY

Next Sunday afternoon choirs consisting of the choirs of the Second Church and singers from the choirs of other churches in greater Boston will sing Gounod's "Messe Solennelle." These choirs have had a training running over some years during which they have given the Mass annually under the direction of Mr. Wm. Lester Bates.

The great musical critic Saint-Saens has formulated the opinion that this "Messe de Saint Cecile" together with the Redemption and the Masses at Vita will survive all Gounod's operas, great as these are. It was in the Mass, and in the Redemption, he says, that Gounod rose highest.

The privilege of hearing this great work is open to all as far as the accommodations of the church will allow. All seats are free. The time of the service is four o'clock.

CATHOLIC CLUB SMOKER

The Newton Catholic Club held on Monday evening the first of a series of smokers and entertainments arranged in honor of returning members who have been in United States service. They are called "get together" smokers. Several service men were present and were guests of honor. Representative Charles "Sandy" Chapman, who saw active service as a Knight of Columbus secretary overseas, told of his many thrilling experiences. There was also an athletic and entertainment program. Among those taking part were Capt. James A. Waters, Private Walter J. McCann, who was severely wounded, and gassed and falsely reported dead, and Privates Edward O'Reilly, Amos Oldfield, and William M. Noone, all of whom were severely wounded.

Messrs. McKenney & Waterbury Co., 181 Franklin Street, corner Congress, Boston, Mass., are showing the latest and up-to-date Electric Gas and Oil Lighting Fixtures for homes and public buildings to be found in this country. All lighted to show the desired effects.

"Your Nose Knows"

All smoking tobaccos use some flavoring. The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco, "... on the Continent and in America certain 'sauces' are employed ... the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves."

Tuxedo uses chocolate—the purest, most wholesome and delicious of all flavorings! Everybody likes chocolate—we all know that chocolate added to anything as a flavoring always makes that thing still more enjoyable. That is why a dash of chocolate, added to the most carefully selected and properly aged burley tobacco, makes Tuxedo more enjoyable—

EDITORIAL

The aldermen have a difficult task before them in acting wisely on the matter of school house repairs demanded by the district police. It will be recalled that acting under the advice of a most competent Fire Hazard Commission, over $50,000 was recently expended in making changes suggested by that Commission, and which included the installation of a fire sprinkler system in the basement of every school building, on the theory that such a system would prevent fires from taking place. The state police, on the other hand, take the position that their duty lies along the lines of providing sufficient means of egress in case of a fire, which, so far as they are concerned could burn up the whole building, after the children are safely out. To comply with the state police requirements will cost about $56,000, a large part of which is for the installation of so called smoke screens in the stairways and corridors of school buildings. These smoke screens, as Alderman Whidden clearly pointed out on Monday night, usually block the exits, and by narrowing up the corridors, slow down the speed in emptying the building. An appeal from the orders of the police is possible, but it is doubtful whether or not it would be effective, as the Commission which would act on the matter would lean towards the view of the state police.

There is every reason to believe that the city will accept the verdict of the state police with as good grace as possible, but there is still some debate as to how much of the work should be done the present year. The representatives of the state police are willing part of the work should go over to another year and with a total expense of over $50,000 there is every reason on the part of the taxpayers to divide this amount in halves. When it is recalled that the $25,000 recommended for this year by the Finance Committee will call for 35 cents increase in the tax rate alone, there should be no question that it is inadvisable to place the whole burden of something like 80 cents on the 1919 tax rate, especially, as we have the positive assurance of experts in fire risks that the work the city has already accomplished is ample protection for our children.

After five years of a detailed salary budget, Mayor Childs suddenly decides that the department heads should fix salaries of their own and submit a lump sum salary budget for each department. For some years the aldermen have endeavored to make a rough kind of a salary classification of salaries in City Hall, in order that similar work in each department may be paid at about the same rate. Under the new plan, each head of a department can, subject to the total salary item, pay any favorite employee a larger sum than was formerly possible and jealousy and friction are bound to be the result. There is some curiosity over what action the board will take in these particular items in the budget and some speculation as to whether or not the detailed figures may not be required before the budget is actually passed.

Alderman McCarthy strikes a popular note in advocating a maximum salary for the members of the police and fire departments who return to their regular duties after service in the army and navy. The citizens fully appreciate the spirit of these men in offering their services to their country and the maximum pay is only one means of expressing that appreciation in a substantial manner.

We have heard some justifiable criticism of some recent articles in the Graphic relative to the income tax. These articles are furnished by the government and are used by urgent request of government officials.

In ordering a hearing on the proposed widening and relocation of Dedham and Walnut streets, the aldermen give indications of taking some action towards improving the very bad conditions which have existed on those streets for many years. The proposed plan calls for some kind of a permanent pavement, in order that the cost, which will run well over $100,000 can be raised by an issue of bonds. There is some criticism over the Dedham-Walnut street route as many persons believe that the most traffic follows the Dedham-Parker street route to Newton Centre rather than into Newton Highlands, but this is a matter of detail which will probably be worked out later. Congratulations to our Oak Hill friends on the prospects of some relief in traffic conditions.

The 1919 budget submitted by Mayor Childs calls for nearly two millions of dollars and is over two hundred thousand dollars larger than that of last year. If adopted without change this budget will add over three dollars to the present tax levy, and if the $56,000 needed for school house repairs is added, as some of our aldermen are going to insist, there will be 80 cents more, making a tax rate for this year of $22.20. Such a rate on top of greatly increased taxes in the state and nation will be a matter of great concern to most of our taxpayers.

While the flattening out of the curve in Commonwealth avenue near Prince street has been frequently agitated, the testimony of nearby residents before the aldermen on Monday night clearly showed that there was no danger to the ordinary traveller and there is absolutely no valid reason why the taxpayers should shoulder considerable expense in order that joy riders from other cities can drive recklessly thru our streets.

Residents of Newton and persons who frequently use Nonantum square are unanimous in their opposition to the proposed location of a gasoline station in that vicinity. There are plenty of good locations in this city, but Nonantum square should be kept free from any factor which will add to its traffic or its use.

Alderman Blake is on the right track in asking for prompt action looking towards the widening of Walnut street at Newtonville square, but we fear that the cost of such work will make the taxpayers open their eyes at first and will make them open their purses as well, if the project is carried out.

Opening Night Assembles Members—Bowling Teams Organizing

The newly organized Auburndale Club is greatly enjoying the new quarters recently fitted up in the Woodland park Casino. Saturday night over 100 members gathered for an opening event, and a great deal of enthusiasm was expressed over the pleasant social life in prospect for the club. Much interest is manifested in bowling, and teams are being organized at once to compete among the members. Then a team will be picked from these to represent the club. Arrangements are being made for matches with the Northgate Club. Four alleys have been brought up to a first class condition, and the members are making good scores.

DEATH OF COL. FERRIS

His Fine Career in Military Service and Business

Col. Alexander M. Ferris died this morning at 8.20, at his home, 87 Washington street, after a lingering illness accompanied by much suffering. Funeral services will take place at his late home Sunday at 2 P. M.

Alexander Marsh Ferris was born in

ALEXANDER M. FERRIS

Whiting, Vt., April 6, 1839. His parents were Robert Hammond Ferris and Fanny Rogers (Tarbell) Ferris, and his ancestors served in the early colonial and French and Indian wars and in the Revolution. His early education was received in the public schools of Lowell, Mass. His first business experience was as a bookkeeper and salesman followed by some years in dry goods, beef packing, machinery, and stock brokerage business. At the outbreak of the Civil War he resigned his position as bookkeeper, devoted several months to study in the military school of Prof. Salignac in Boston, and was attached to the 30th Massachusetts as senior captain. He served with it until it came home on a veterans' furlough.

In 1874 he helped organize the first regiment of Illinois state guards, and was senior captain of that body. In 1890 he joined the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company, and served as its commander in 1900 and 1901. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Loyal legion, and had been president of the Veterans' association of the 30th Massachusetts Volunteers, member of the society of colonial Wars, Sons of the Revolution, a 32d degree Mason, and connected with other organizations. He was married January 17, 1861, to Miss Emma Jane Fowler, who survives him, with one son, William M. Ferris, and a grandson, William M. Ferris, Jr.

DISCUSSED LABOR PROBLEM

The Men's Club of the First church at Newton Centre had a roast beef dinner Monday at the chapel, with an address by Mr. Antony D. Skilling, of the Babson Statistical organization of Wellesley Hills, formerly of the Department of Labor at Washington. He took up the growth of production and exchange in the past 25 years. He showed how the industrial organization had so grown as to overshadow the political and social organization, and the latter was not fitted to cope with the industrial powers that now exist. In such a town as Wilmington, Del., the great majority of the people work for the Du Ponts, and the managers of that industry are more powerful than the political government.

He referred to the condition of labor unrest, and took up the question what should be done to meet it. He suggested the ideas called the group system, as they are being worked out in England. He pointed out how the workers in an English industry are to organize throughout the industry, and then the stockholders and managements will organize, and both parties will get together and determine labor conditions, prices, etc.

That leaves out the public interest, he said, and he felt that such combinations might easily get together and put up prices for the benefit of both employers and workpeople, but disregarding the interest of the consumer. He felt that the government would also have to be represented to look after the interest of the people. Many questions were asked, and while his hearers were not wholly convinced, they were much interested in his suggestions.

NEWTON BRANCH SPECIAL AID

During the month of February the Society has sent in 260 knitted articles, 218 garments and 143 small articles. A portion of the knitted articles and garments have gone to Fort Lyon, Colorado, to the Tuberculosis Hospital. This hospital is for naval men who have contracted the disease in the service and who are unable to return. At present there are 1200 inmates. The springs in Colorado are cold, and the boys need warm clothes. Will knitters please continue making long sleeve sweaters to add to the comfort of these boys?

Since the first week in December the Wendell House on Mount Vernon street, Boston, run by the Massachusetts Branch of Special Aid, has entertained over 3,000 enlisted men. The hospitality included supper, bed and breakfast. This far it has proved a great success and has shown the need of a homelike, comfortable place for the boys. At the request of the War Camp Community the Special Aid has opened a similar house on Bay State road for officers and their families. During the one month of its existence it has accommodated over 50 guests. Open house is held on Thursday and Sunday afternoons.

Events since his return have shown that Mr. Bangs' estimate of the military situation at the time of his visit was correct.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—No actor of the American stage has eclipsed William Hodge's remarkable record for the longest consecutive runs in the four largest cities of the country.

When Mr. Hodge was elevated to stardom and appeared in "The Man from Home," he achieved the record-breaking run of fifty-seven weeks in New York, thirty-five in Chicago, twenty-nine in Boston, and nineteen in Philadelphia. Mr. Hodge played in "The Man from Home" for more than five years, and has since played only three other pieces. In "The Road to Happiness" he remained twenty-two weeks, in New York, and in another play of his own composition he enjoyed twelve weeks of prosperity. Mr. Hodge has consented to play a return engagement of two weeks only, at the Plymouth Theatre, beginning next Monday, March 10th. Mr. Hodge's endeavor has been to satisfy the need of the public for wholesome drama. His latest work, "A Cure for Curables," is bright in dialogue, clean in plot, direct in story, interesting in characters. It is wholesome and refreshing. It is permeated with the atmosphere of nature.

Latin Derivative.

Corporal is derived from the same Latin word as captain, but with an admixture of the meaning and spelling of the English word corps. Caporalis in medieval Latin meant a chief or commander; hence the French caporal.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The Art department of the State Federation, through the Bulletin, is calling attention to the pertinent question of War Memorials and the form which they shall take. From a series of suggestions issued by the American Foundation of Arts included in the March Bulletin, is this one:
"Aim at simplicity, scale and proportion, rather than profusion of detail, or costliness of material. The artistic quality of the work gives it its final value. Before any plans are made secure expert advice."Mr. R. Clifton Sturges, speaking on the subject at a recent conference of the department, brought out clearly and forcibly what their character will be if they are to commemorate the highest motives and qualities of our fighting men. They must be impersonal, embodying a righteous ideal, and whatever the symbols employed, the human figure, the eagle or other form,—these must be excellently done.
"One of the best forms for our country," he said, "is the flag mast standard, because it can be simple or elaborate, according to the means available, is usually sure of permanent setting either in the open, or associated with some building, and is always carrying the country's colors, appropriately symbolic."The chairman of the department, Mrs. Walter S. Little, adds that the time for action on these memorials is now. Get people thinking artistic memorials by seeing them in pictures.
Public opinion wants the best. It knows in such a matter, it is for us, the clubs—to guide it to what is really fine.

Local Happenings

It is always a red-letter day for the West Newton Women's Educational Club when the Travel Class entertains and last Friday was no exception.
A series of papers on the countries through which the class has been traveling this season, interspersed with appropriate songs by a chorus, assisted by Mrs. G. M. Holmes, furnished the program of the afternoon.
A full and interesting report of the State Federation meeting was presented by Mrs. S. L. Eaton. An especially festive tea and the sociability which accompanied it rounded out a very enjoyable occasion.
Last evening the club provided the entertainment and refreshments at the Sailors Haven in Charlestown.On Saturday last Mrs. F. S. Keith entertained the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club. The third act of Much Ado about Nothing was read and discussed, Mrs. F. C. Snow being in charge of the quiz.The Newton Highlands Monday Club met on March 3 with Mrs. G. W.
Barker, 31 Duncklee street. Mrs. C.
G. Wetherbee had charge of the afternoon, her subject being "American Women and the World War." Shetold many interesting facts and read articles describing what women have done and are still doing in this greatest crisis in the world's history.On Monday afternoon the members of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. met with Mrs. E. G. Swift. Mrs.
Philip S. Sweetser was in charge of the afternoon's study of Current Novels. Mrs. Sweetser reviewed and discussed a number of those recently published, among them being, "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "Amazing Interlude," "Out of the Silences," and "Elizabeth's Campaign."Mrs. Edward P. Allen was hostess for the meeting of the Christian Era Study Club on March 3. Mrs. E. F.
Drew read a paper on "The Spanish Inquisition," and Mrs. N. L. Grant one on "William of Orange."Miss J. Maud Campbell of the Public Library Commission gave a most interesting talk before the Newton Mothers' Club at the home of Mrs.
Henry Whitmore of Sterling street,
West Newton, Monday afternoon.
Miss Campbell spoke of her work with the foreigners in the public library, saying that they are extremely patriotic and most appreciative of anything which is done for them. She mentioned the great need for our having published in their own language many facts which they need to know.
Often times they come wishing information regarding things of their every day life, like help in raising food, and their knowledge of English is insufficient for them to get it from literature in English, but which they could get if it were printed in their native language. She cited sending to Portugal for instructions for a Portuguese relative to the culture of strawberries, and when the book arrived, it contained only a few words and, of course, not adapted to the soil of Cape Cod. Miss Campbell stated that much Bolshevik literature is being circulated in these foreign tongues. A great service might be rendered the country were there also printed in these same tongues replies to the principles now being promulgated. She paid high tribute to the wonderful work of teaching English which the clubs are now undertaking in many places.The Charity committee of the club reported that considerably more than $100 had been realized by the annual
New Year luncheon and musicale.
This sum was appropriated mostly for Newton charities in which the club has shared in former years, as well as a contribution to the Blind Babies Nursery in Boston.A pleasing program was given the Newtonville Woman's Club on March 4 by Miss Annie Varney Baker, who presented "The Seven Ages of Woman," choosing well-known characters to impersonate as representing the different ages, beginning with the baby in the high-chair and ending with Barbara Frietchie.The Auburndale Review Club met on Tuesday at the home of Miss Margaret Haskell, Miss L. A. Rider being chairman of the morning, and "Kenilworth" the subject.Mrs. Hilredth gave the story of Walter Scott's life and read part of a poem on Cumner Hall, which is said to have suggested to Scott his novel of Kenilworth.Mrs. Katell gave an outline of the story of Miss Rider read extracts from the book. Duets were sung by Mrs. Spaulding and Mrs. Legge, and part of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony was played by Mrs. Freeman and Mrs.
Leland."The basis of all society is the putting of the force of all at the disposal of all by means of some arrangement assented to by all for the protection of all, and this under certain prescribed forms." This quotation from James Russell Lowell, Prof. Bliss Perry cited in closing his address upon the poet before the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning, as showing the forward looking mind of Lowell and his kinship with the "Great Tradition" of American ideals."Centenaries," said Professor Perry,
"like taxes, never come at a convenient time. In the case of Lowell his death is long enough back for his writings to have gone out of style, but not long enough for them to have come back in again." The same is true with others whose centenaries are being celebrated this year—Ruskin, George Eliot, Walt Whitman, and others. It is impossible for us to look upon Lowell as did the people in 1890.On a great service, which Lowell performed through his political career abroad, in bringing the English-speaking races to understand each other better. He was a splendid internationalist, said the speaker. He possessed also great community loyalty. He is said to have gained his sense of poetry from the Craigie brook as he used as a boy to hear it flow under the bridge.
Professor Perry pointed out Lowell's service to the country through his Biglow Papers, through his political editorials in the Atlantic, in the North American Review, and through his prose essays. He was better at 70 than at 30, there is a richer vein in his writing after he had passed the first half of his life. In the great questions of his day, especially during the Mexican War and later in the Civil War, he was nearer right than anyone in the North. Professor Perry quoted comments of leading New Englanders on affairs of the sixties that closely parallel things which are being said today in regard to the conduct of public matters, tending to show that New England is often a little slow in feeling the pulse of the country and of the world.
The whole address was followed most closely and the inspiration of it was felt by the large audience present.At the business meeting which preceded reports were given of the State Federation meeting at East Boston, and of the Newton Federation meeting at Newtonville. Mrs. George E.
Merrill presented the four legislative matters, which had been endorsed by the State Federation, and they were likewise endorsed by the Club. The meeting opened by the singing of "America."TELEPHONE FREE; by asking operator to reverse

SCOUTS GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

The Boy Scouts of Troop 13, at Newton Upper Falls, presented a splendid entertainment to the public at the Emerson School Hall last Wednesday evening. The program had plenty of variety, ranging from songs and dances to an exhibition by various scouts, the most interesting part of the latter being the making of fire without matches, by means of a bow and drill. Altho the weather was so damp that the fire failed to light on the first two attempts, on a third trial, Scout Alfred Stafford succeeded in his attempt, and the tinder was in a blaze in less than a minute from the time he started the bow and drill working. An interesting signaling exhibition was shown by scouts from Troops 4 and 1, in both the International and Semaphore codes, the messages written by his Honor, Mayor Childs and Scout Executive Talbot being transmitted. The length of the hall without an error.
Troop 13 aided by a scout from troop 4 staged some First Aid work, the stretcher drill in which the scouts used their scout poles and coats to form the stretcher provoked much applause.The program was opened by the scouts of Troop 13 marching and going through the color ceremony, a scout sounding "to the Colors" on his bugle after which the scouts pledge to the flag was given. Then came the following program, interspersed with speeches by His Honor Mayor Edwin O. Childs and Mr. John H. Eddy, the President of the Local Scout Council:
Violin solo, Mr. Martone; Reading,
Miss Sylvia Burdett; Solo, Miss Elsie Bishop; Fancy Toe Dancing, Miss Gwendolyn Hamlin; Piano Duet, Scouts Head and Smith; Song, Mr.
Martone; Piano Solo, Mr. Martone.
Senior Patrol Leader Herbert Kestle in charge of first aid by scouts of Troop No. 13. Asst. Scout Master Bruce Stewart in charge of visiting scouts demonstration, Miss Viola Doyle was pianist. Mayor Childs spoke of how the scout work made better citizens of the boys, and complimented the scouts of the troop on their fine entertainment. Mr. Eddy referred to the need of scout leaders by the organization, and paid tribute to the unselfish work of the Scoutmaster of Troop 13 and the leaders of the other troops.In spite of the rainy weather, a large audience was present, many coming from other parts of Newton to attend. Especially pleasing was the work of Mr. Martone and little Miss Hamlin.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Auburndale Mothers' Association held its meeting in the Burr School Hall with an attendance of 150 ticipating in the programme of the afternoon. Our principal, Mr. Leighton, told us about the war activities

NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Monday at a meeting of the Athletic Committee the following were awarded N's in hockey: Alsworth Rane, Edgar Crosby, Joel Leete, John Seavey, George Owen (Captain), Belden Sly, Wallace Richmond, Clement Coady and Manager Ferry Allen. Edgar Crosby was unanimously elected captain for next year and Robert Strong appointed manager. The hockey season started off very well this year and then the team lost to Cambridge Latin and Brookline. After these two losses nine straight games were won both Cambridge and Brookline being beaten in the second game. A game had been arranged with Milton Academy and would have settled the state championship as this school claimed the private school title. The work of Captain Owen stood out above that of the others but the team as a whole turned out to be one of the best Newton has ever had.

Monday morning the senior class met in the lecture hall. The manager and editor of the Newtonian spoke about the increased cost of printing the book this year and the seniors voted unanimously to raise the price to a dollar and a quarter. At the same meeting it was also voted to adopt a French war orphan for two years and for this purpose to assess each member of the class forty cents in addition to the regular class tax. It was also voted to hold the senior reception in Temple Hall during the Easter vacation. The dance committee consisting of Dorothy Lockett, Charlotte Rowe, Jocelyn Young, Walter Holmes and Oliver Sylvester was elected. Owing to the increased cost of printing and engraving the Newtonian it was voted to hold a dance in the gymnasium to supply the funds for the organization photographs.

Wednesday morning the seniors and juniors passed to the assembly hall. Mrs. Rand, chairman of the West Newton W. C. T. U. awarded a prize of three dollars to Helen Hardy whose essay was selected as the best of those on the subject of prohibition submitted to the Union. Mrs. Rand complimented Miss Hardy on the neatness and general excellence of her paper. Dodge, the Editor and Lane, the business manager of the Newtonian spoke in the interest of securing subscriptions for the book.

The sophomores have chosen their class pins and have also voted to elect an executive committee to look after the accounts of the treasurer. The Bissetts, Eaton, Varney, Chestley, and Bissett were nominated for the prize student council. Two will be elected. Horr, Hayden and Ross were nominated for the boys' student council. One will be elected.

The class photographer wishes to say that it is not necessary to make an appointment for a sitting but that pictures of the seniors will be taken at any time during the week. The pictures are the most convenient time.

Newton will hold a dual track meet this afternoon in the gym with Wakefield High. At the B. A. A. meet last Saturday Steve Palmer, Newton's only entry was in for first place in the '600' when he fell on the last lap.

The rifle team has been officially recognized by the Athletic Committee and a match will be staged next Friday with Country Day School. The Newton team will then join the Inter-Scholastic Rifle Club and will follow the schedule arranged by that organization. An effort is being made to have the city appropriate money for the support of the team.

Monday evening several boys from the Classical High School were present at the regular meeting of the board of aldermen at the invitation of the president of the board.

COPELEY THEATRE—The production of "Garside's Career" at the Copley Theatre has been so great a success in bringing before the Boston public the first time, a noble play of English life that it will be continued for a second week. Its author is Harold Brighouse, who in recent years has achieved no little fame as a playwright. He is one of the Manchester school of dramatists, and his dramas both in their published form and on the stage have revealed a close knowledge of life and a thorough command of the technique of the stage. The cast includes Mr. Leslie as Peter Garside, Miss Newcombe as Margaret Shawcross, Miss Roach as Mrs. Garside, and the entire list of Henry Jewett Players.

FREE LECTURE COURSE

As announced in this issue the Committee of Management of the New Church, Highland Avenue, Newtonville, is offering the community a free lecture course entitled "The Great Awakening," Monday evenings, March 10th, 17th and 24th. On Monday, March 10th at 7:45 P. M. Mr. Edwin Markham, the Poet Laureate of America, Member American Institute of Arts and Letters, Honorary President of the Poetry Society of America, and author of the widely known poem "The Man with the Hoe" will lecture upon the very timely topic "The New Brotherhood." With the League of Nations soon to be an accomplished fact, this lecture will undoubtedly be of great interest. March 17th, the Rev. Adolph Roeder of the New Church, Orange, N. J., and President of the New Jersey Civic Federation will have for subject "The New Immortality" and the awakening to convictions of life after death as taught by the Bible, and found to be necessary for the hope and comfort of a world grieving over its soldier dead, will be forcibly presented by this gentleman who has the reputation of being a most brilliant and graceful speaker. Mr. Roeder is a leader in many reform movements in his State. On March 24th the Rev. Julian K. Smyth from New York, President of the New Church, will have for subject "The New Christianity."

All are cordially invited. Special music will be provided by the boy choir and instrumentalists before and after the lectures, and Mr. Albert L. Walker will preside at the organ which is up to date in every particular.

TREMONT THEATRE—"Blind Youth" a dramatic comedy with Lou Tellegen as the star, will be the attraction at the Tremont Theatre, Boston, for only two weeks beginning Monday, March 10. The play is in three acts and was written by Willard Mack and Mr. Tellegen. Not only is the brilliant young actor star and author of the play but is his own manager, as well. The piece was brought to production in New York last fall and had a prosperous engagement in the metropolis. The present tour is directed by Charles Emerson Cook. So great has been the popularity of Mr. Tellegen among the younger set that it would seem he has once more brought a matinee idol to our stage. His first appearance in this country was in the capacity of leading man with Madame Bernhardt. He fell in love with the United States and has remained here ever since and married an American girl, Geraldine Farrar. Since becoming an English speaking actor Mr. Tellegen has achieved many great successes on our stage and no single personality has proved more striking than his.

A CHANCE TO HELP

The Junior League for Newton Hospital Social Service wishes to make a special appeal for money which is needed to provide nursing care for a patient with an incurable disease. She is a refined, sensitive woman who lost her husband several years ago. Her relatives will do what they can to help with the expense, but cannot do all. Through the efforts of the Newton Hospital Social Service Department she now occupies a bright sunny room in a private hospital where she will receive skilled attention. We have raised all but ten dollars ($10.00) per week, which extra amount is necessary to keep her there. Anyone interested to help, will please report the amount they wish to contribute to Miss Grace E. Miller, Director Medical Social Service, Newton Hospital, Newton Falls.

BOTTLED HEALTH

Nobscot Spring Water is so pure and soft that to drink it is like drinking bottled health.

Analysis shows residue on evaporation only 3.8 parts per 100,000, and rating for hardness only 1.7 parts per 100,000.

That's why Nobscot means better digestion, less rheumatism, for those who drink it.

who is one of the live business men of the city, has purchased the business of Mr. Hudson and will continue to maintain the high standard set by him. Mr. Burke is a registered pharmacist and has a degree from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

Mr. Hudson does not intend to give up his laboratory work and will also continue his work as a chemist and analyst.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The Seventh Annual Declaration of the Newton Technical High School, the most successful performance of its kind in our history, is a thing of the past. The proceeds from the Declaration will be used, as in the past, for the running expenses of our school library. It is estimated that nearly $300 has been made in clear profit, a very fine tribute to the efforts of the faculty and pupils who were responsible for the success of the event.

Corporal William Noone, 1914, visited his former teachers a short time ago. He was a dispatch-bearer in the Yankee Division, and a veteran of Chateau-Thierry. San Mihel and Goune Forest. He had a very thrilling experience as a dispatch-bearer when he was blown off his motorcycle by a nearby exploding shell into the path of a heavy truck which ran over both his legs. The accident nearly cost him his life.

Sergeant Dewey Bennett, 1917, and Corporal John O'Dea, 1919, were both here a short time ago. These boys belonged to the 55th heavy artillery, and have spent one year abroad.

Sergeant Ray Adams, 1916, was here last week. He enlisted with the 101st Engineers, but was transferred to the Commissary department, superintending the forwarding of artillery supplies. He had twelve months of overseas service.

Lieutenant Hopewell Underhill is the first aviator who has visited our school on returning from abroad. He has had a year's overseas service and many thrilling experiences.

Charles Mahoney, the class president of 1914, recently visited us. He had just finished his training as an aviator in this country when the armistice was signed.

The teachers are anticipating a call from Arthur Connelly, president of 1911, who has seen one year's active service as an ensign on the scout cruiser, "Chester." He has been through many experiences and has been on duty in the submarine waters for several months. The "Chester" has the proud record of destroying its share of the U-boats as well as German submarine chasers.

Norton Nash, 1917, has accepted a position in the United Shoe Machinery Co., after teaching at the Mitchell Military Academy at Brookline.

Stewart Daniels is now out of the service and is working with the Dodge Co. of Boston.

Bartlett Shackford, 1913, editor-in-chief of the "Dynamo" that year, is about to graduate from the Harvard Medical School, and is now practicing his profession under a Boston doctor.

Francis Skelton, in the uniform of an ensign, called last Thursday. Among other interesting things, he told us that Milton Sleeper, 1915, had been recently married. His wife is a southern girl whom he met while engaged in aviation in Texas.

The Senior Assembly on February 14, 1919, was conducted by Miss Wetherbee's English division of senior girls. An interesting program was arranged with Miss Dorothy Titus as chairman.

Last week Mr. Andreas Hartel, father of Warrington Hartel, 1918, gave to the library the sum of two hundred dollars to be added to the 1918 Centennial Fund. This generous gift makes it possible to build a new, better case and fill it with useful and greatly needed books in the field of Civil Government, Community Civics, and Local Industries. On this case, plans for which are under way, a brass plate will say: "In Memoriam—Elmer Francis, Roland Warrington Hartel, Lillian Wait, Class of 1918."

Mr. Robert H. Brown, the instructor in cabinet making in the Vocational High School, has been engaged to build this memorial case to match the other 22 cases of the library.

A reception was given by Rev. and Mrs. Percival M. Wood of the Church of the Messiah and the vestrymen and their wives, on Friday night, to the girls of Latin seminary, who attended that church, together with members of the faculty and children of the Woodland park school. It took place at the parish hall, which was very beautifully decorated with the Lasell colors in blue and white, banners and flags. The colors were used in lamp shades, napkins, and in many minor details. The whole scheme represented a great deal of work and was very tastefully carried out.

There was a very original program of games and impromptu music, and refreshments were served. Prizes for the games were given, consisting of flowers and dishes of fruit. The attendance was over 40, and the guests very warmly appreciated all that had been done to entertain them.

TRAVELLED 15,000 MILES

Francis Charles Justice of Tremont street, Newton, a first class wireless and telegraph and telephone operator, has sailed for Bordeaux, France, on the transport Arizona. He has just completed a voyage on the Torpedo boat destroyer Ringgold, which has a record of 40 knots an hour, and is called the fastest ship in the navy. Since joining the navy 14 months ago, Mr. Justice had attended Harvard Radio School, and the New London Wireless Telephone school, he has been in San Francisco, and round by the Panama canal. When he completes the present trip he will have covered 15,000 miles.

OPPORTUNITY TO BE SEIZED.

A porter in London was engaged in cleaning a luggage van, when the door swung back, striking him violently on the head. "Oh! Pat," he exclaimed to an Irishman standing on the platform, "I believe I've cut open my head."

"Well, begor, now's the time to get something into it," was Pat's witty reply.

Just What He Had Done.

Charlie, trying to amuse himself as best he could, came out of the garage dragging an old cobwebby umbrella, which after much exertion he was able to open over his head. His grandmother, coming to the door, called out, "Charlie, you put that umbrella right up this minute." Charlie piped back, "I has dot it up and I se doin for a walk."

It was a very hot day and the kind-hearted woman had given a little girl a piece of ice. A newsboy asked her for it, but she refused to give it up. "Aw shucks!" said the boy. "I'll give it back to you—I only want the juice out of it."—Boston Transcript.

Japanese Taught to Repress Emotion.

Until late years the repression of any appearance of strong emotion was carefully drilled into the mind and life of every Japanese child of the better class. There is much more freedom now than formerly, but the influence of past training is seen everywhere—in art, in literature, on the stage and in the customs of daily life. Artists paint the autumn moon, which every Japanese adores, but he wraps the brilliant disk within a veil of cloud.

Caught On to Sailors' Trick.

If a man's hat blew overboard while leaving port many British skippers would turn back and delay sailing until the next day. It was an omen that one of the crew would be lost over the side during the trip. This sign, however, became discredited, as wily deckhands, desirous of another day ashore with their wives and families, contracted the habit of going aloft and assisting the wind to foretell disaster.

Protection From Live Wires.

For the sure protection of linemen handling live wires a pair of gloves inside and one outside of the rubber gloves have been recommended. The woven fabric inside glove takes up perspiration and shields the rubber from the finger nails and a leather gauntlet over the rubber glove protects from outside mechanical injury, aids in grasping tools and keeps the hands warm in winter.

"Commonwealth and Coffee."

The introduction of coffee into England dates from the period of the Cromwellian Protectorate; according to a Restoration pamphleteer, "Coffee and Commonwealth came in together." Jacobs, a Jew, opened a coffee house at Oxford in 1650, and two years later the first one was established in London by Pasqua Rosee, the Armenian servant of a city merchant.

THANKFUL TO BE ALIVE

Soldiers Tell Red Cross How It Feels to be Under Fire

One thing that must please all the members of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross, and all of the Newton people who contributed generously to the Red Cross funds, is the way the boys over seas speak of the Red Cross in the letters which they send to the Newton Chapter in answer to the letter which the Chapter sent to them. It is always pleasant to know that money given and work done resulted in good and this pleasant thought Red Cross workers and contributors have a right to.

Private L. V. Meislaes, of Co. E, 59th Infantry, walked his post on the Meuse on Christmas day and thought of the folks at home in Newton and later on the same day he received the letter from the Newton Chapter that told him the Newton folks were thinking of him. From Neheren, in Germany, some days later he wrote,—

"I am very thankful that I am alive. I have been in every battle since the big affair at Chateau Thierry. I have seen many of my friends give their lives that we may win. I have moved from my hole and a shell would explode one second after I had left it. In my first baptism of fire, I felt shaky, but after a few days I was all right. That is the way it acts upon all men. I went through the Argonne when every tree seemed to be a nest for the Hun machine-guns. I don't believe I would have given a cent for my chances to live through it all. And yet, I never even received a scratch. It was upon the Vesle River that a piece of shrapnel cut the clothes on my knee. My platoon sergeant has a handkerchief that a piece of shrapnel cut into thirty-eight pieces.

One time, they came near burying me for dead. A shell had exploded about eight feet from my hole, and had stunned me so that I could not use my legs. I was all covered with dirt. After a few minutes, I came to, and a little later could walk around. The day the armistice was signed, I was upon my way to the lines, and it all ended. I sure thanked the gods that that was the last barrage I ever would go through.

Upon November 19th, we started to hike into Germany, and it was one of the hardest and longest hikes in history. But the Yankee doughboy came with a song upon his lips. The Germans welcomed us with open arms. Poor souls, they have suffered much, but I don't think as much as France. They hate France just like France hates them. I have a very good hilet. Food is very scarce in this country.

Corporal John E. Ryan of the 344th Field Artillery was another who received his letter on Christmas Day but who had no chance to answer until he got into Germany. From Kempfeld the corporal sent a letter in which he said:—

"Am in receipt of your kind letter sending Christmas greetings to the Newton boys over here, and am writing you a few lines to express my thanks and appreciation for it. The letter came just at the right time also, for I received it Christmas night in a little town in Germany called Ciel, about seven kilometres north of Trier. I am sorry for my delay in answering, but as we have been "on the road" ever since, I have been unable to write, as we could not get transportation for our mail.

NEW CHURCH LECTURE

Mr. Edwin Markham Speaks on "The Great Awakening"

A large audience assembled in the Church of the New Jerusalem, Highland avenue, Newtonville, Monday evening to hear the first lecture in the course on the above subject. Mr. Edwin Markham, Poet Laureate of America had for his topic the New Brotherhood. The lecture was preceded by musical selections of organ and boy choir assisted by Mrs. Lillian Haines Walker, cello, Miss Adeline Packard, violin, Miss Alice McLaughlin, flute and Alvin Beamish, boy soprano. Mr. A. L. Walker presided at the organ. Tytil's Serenade, Doppler's Nocturne and Gounod's Berceuse were excellently rendered.

The lecturer was suitably introduced by the Rev. John Goddard, pastor of the church. Mr. Markham said his subject had reference to what he and many considered to be the greatest problem of mankind. It was at the heart of our religion. That problem was how to bring men together to work in harmony with one another and thereby to increase the happiness and power of the human race. The speaker declared that in all he should say he would have in mind the Words of Jesus for he interpreted those sayings as having reference to this brotherhood, this unity of men, this cooperation which was the dominant note in all his utterances. We were told Jesus went everywhere preaching the gospel of the kingdom. That was nearest his heart. His object was to establish a brotherhood in which harmony should prevail. Religion at bottom was a social bond. Its object was to gather the separated men and women of the planet, who were working against each other in competition, and bring them into harmonious relationship. That was the religion of our Divine Christ. Up to comparatively recent times however this thought seems not to have been in the world at all—in fact religion was not looked upon as something which has to do with political industrial human affairs of all sorts but as something to prepare us individually to pass into the other world. Yet the great creative thought that has come into the world is that all questions are religious questions. All religion has relation to life, and it is to create life and love in the individual and the social order that religion is in the world. Jesus said "I am come that they might

CLOTHING COLLECTION

Newton Red Cross to Ask for Clothing and Shoes for Destitute of Europe

Beginning with Monday the 24th of March the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross is to make a collection in the Newtons of clothing which the people are willing to give to help clothe the destitute people of Belgium and France and other sections of war devastated Europe. The people are asked to begin now to look over their unused clothing and to get together such as they will be willing to give. The collection to be made in Newton is only the local part of a collection throughout the country which it is hoped will enable the Red Cross to ship to Europe the clothing which the people there need so much. What Europe's needs are are only just beginning to be realized by the Europeans themselves. In the first flush after the signing of the armistice Europe thought she could look after herself, but now she finds that the war stripped her almost bare and that unless America helps there must be want and destitution. Almost every family has something it can give and the Newton Chapter hopes every family in the city will give.

The special committee of the Chapter in charge of collecting the clothing is made up of Mrs. Henry J. Nichols as chairman, Mrs. H. Belden Sly, Mrs. Alfred E. Vose and Mrs. Raymond Hunting, vice-chairmen and as representatives from the different villages. Mrs. Eugene W. Leighton of Newtonville, Mrs. Leon Rogers of West Newton, Mrs. J. W. Bucknam of Auburn, Mrs. Henry H. Kendall of Newton Centre, Mrs. H. I. Hunt of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Charles F. Rogers of Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds of Newton, Rev. A. J. Strait of Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Dana M. Dutch of Waban.

WHEELER—DEAN

A very quiet wedding took place Saturday, March 1, at the home of the bride, Miss Beatrice D. Dean, 80 Elm street, West Newton. Miss Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dean of West Newton, was married to Mr. Bernard Forrest Wheeler of Newport, Vermont. The Rev. R. K. Marvin of the Universalist Church, Franklin, Mass., performed the service.

CONSTABULARY WIND-UP

Demonstration Planned to End War Activities

General Orders have been issued to the Newton Constabulary stating that some sort of a demonstration will be held about the middle or last of April as a wind-up to the war-time activities. The tentative plan is to have a parade and battalion drill on Cabot Field followed by supper and a meeting at which addresses will be made by prominent national, state and local speakers. Drills will be continued so that a creditable appearance may be made on this occasion.

The Newton Constabulary whose organization was effected to meet war time demands has proved to be such a valuable adjunct to the City in so many ways, not only by reason of its training as police and military, but as an organized body of Newton citizens uniting the different sections of the City for concerted action in any emergency, that plans are under consideration to ensure the continuation of its efficient service.

HIGH SCHOOL

The intermediate team, consisting of Widener, Richards, Bengston, and McDavitt, was second in the trial heat. Hyde Park High was first and Lynn English High was third.

In the juniors, Newton High, represented by Connors, Brown, Taylor, and O'Malley, won over Charlestown High in the trials, and was second in the semi-finals, with Boston Latin first and Marblehead High third.

NEWTONVILLE CHURCH COUNCIL

Five Organizations Form Central Body For Community Work

The formation of a league of churches in Newtonville has been brought about with the institution of the Newtonville Church Council, an organization which has grown out of a unity of action on the part of the five churches to work hand in hand for the betterment of the Community and for a furtherance of practical religious ideals. The churches which are collaborating in the movement are the Central Congregational Church, St. John's Episcopal Church, Methodist Episcopal Church, the Church of the New Jerusalem and the Universalist Church.

One of the first steps of the new organization is to plan for a series of five "Go-to-Church" Sundays, which will start on Sunday, March 22, and end Easter Sunday, April 20. Through a united appeal the Council will urge all citizens of Newtonville to attend some church during that period and by their presence show to the community that they are in sympathy with the work being undertaken by the united churches.

Further particulars as to these "Go-to-Church Sundays" are to be announced from the pulpits and through the press.

In the words of Rev. Charles R. Ross, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church and one of the organizers of the Council, the Council intends to put "pep" into its Go-to-Church campaign.

"We shall depart somewhat from the usual conservative form of Church appeal," he said. "We shall advertise our Church wares through the press and through a system of cards and bulletins. It is also our intention to bring a personal invitation to every household in the community to go to one of the churches during the five weeks of our campaign. The Council means business," he continued.

"Everyone needs the Church and its influence today more than ever before. The fight to make the world safe for democracy is still on. The Church will assure democracy; Bolshevism will destroy it. Today is the psychological moment and there must be a decision either one way or the other. To sum up: The intent of the Newtonville Church Council is to combat this threatened menace and to bring about a practical religious unity for the benefit of every man, woman and child in our community.

The Newtonville Church Council was brought primarily through series of meetings of representatives of the several Men's Clubs which crystallized in a meeting at the Newton Club on February 9, when the pastors of five churches and five laymen from each denomination gathered to discuss the general needs for a broader application of religion in their village. The conditions of the present day appealed to them as a challenge and they agreed to accept the challenge and to organize for the fight.

Mr. A. M. Lyon is president of the new organization. Mr. W. H. Zoller is vice president. Mr. Philip M. Clark, secretary-treasurer and the following are members:

Church of the New Jerusalem: Rev. John Goddard, Dr. McLaughlin, R. B. Capon, John Daboll, Clinton Willey, W. C. Richardson, Donald Robb.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

New Troop Forms

A new troop of Boy Scouts is forming at the Country Day School under the direction of Mr. Percy M. Proctor. In fact, the Troop is already formed, and about sixteen boys registered as tenderfeet. A Court of Honor was held on Friday night at the School, at which these boys passed their tests. Bright and early Saturday morning, if the weather permits, the new scouts are going to start their camping by cooking their breakfast in the open. Mr. Proctor is an old camper, and promises to act as "chef" and to teach the scouts how to toss the elusive flap-jack. Already the scouts of this young and hustling troop are planning an overnight camping trip, lasting about four days, to start the last of March. Mr. Proctor will have as Assistant Scoutmaster Mr. John A. Bagnell of Newton, and expects to have one of the best troops in the district.

Troop 4

A very successful Court of Honor was held on Monday March 10 at the headquarters of this troop, eight new boys passing their tenderfoot tests. Their first trip is planning the formation of a Pine Tree Patrol, and is considering the purchase of a Track car for this purpose.

Hike Last Saturday

About sixteen scouts from various troops took a hike led by Scout Executive Talbot and Mr. E. J. Ovington to Hubbard's woods in Weston. Upon arrival at the gravel pit cooking tests were passed, the menu including things from flap-jacks and steak to cinnamon bread, cooked on a stick. When the "eats" were over, the scouts tried the scouts pace and tracking, the latter test proving a stumbling block for all but one scout. The scouts returned in time for supper at home, voting that they had spent a most delightful day. Another hike, led by Mr. Talbot, will take place Saturday, March 23rd, provided the weather permits. The scouts will assemble at the West Newton station at 9 A. M.

Troop 7

Last Tuesday several scouts were taken in the "flivver" to their camp and here two passed their tracking tests and three their scouts pace. Next Friday there will be a Court of Honor for this troop headquarters, and probably Troop 7 will send some scouts to be examined.

Troop 8

Because of the unavoidable absence of the scoutmaster on Monday evening, the regular meeting of troop eight was deferred until Tuesday, the evening following. An assistant scoutmaster has not as yet been chosen for troop eight, although one is greatly needed to help Mr. Waters. The main feature of the meeting on Tuesday was an exhibition boxing contest, given by two boys from Natick, who are, it appears, very well versed in "the noble art of self-defence." These two boys have been trained for boxing a number of years, they are brothers and have given several exhibition bouts in public. They gave a very clever display of speed and foot-work, and showed an excellent command of the gloves. This proved a welcome diversion from the regular order of the meetings, to the scouts.

After several rounds by the semi-professionals, in which the larger proved himself victor, a few boys were had by some of the larger members of the troop. When these were finished, the scoutmaster gave a talk on the necessity for discipline in the troop, especially during the meetings. This talk was well received, and the new members of the troop, who were not familiar with the rules which were necessary to obey in order to maintain discipline. The remainder of the meeting was occupied by drilling and the distributing of registration cards. Mr. Waters then told the troop of the plans for the future. A camping trip of two days is expected shortly, occupying Friday night, Saturday, Sunday night and Sunday.

A court of honor will be held at the Newton Centre Playground House on Monday evening, March 24, for the benefit of twelve second-class scouts who wish to take the first-class test. There are also a number of boys who wish to join the troop, who will take the tenderfoot test at the same time. Mr. Waters' knowledge of signalling, and woodcraft will greatly help those who are preparing for first and second class tests.

LASELL NOTES

Sunday evening, March 16, Prof. Marshall Perrin of Boston University addressed the Juniors.

On Tuesday noon Miss Mabel Eager spoke to the girls about the Newton bed to be founded in one of the Hospitals of France.

On March 8th, the Freshmen gave the Juniors a Barn Dance in Gardner Hall. The affair was a unique one. The students came dressed as farmers, while in place of the usual couches, piles of hay were picturesquely scattered about. An old-fashioned darkey orchestra furnished the music. Refreshments were in keeping with the occasion. Miss Florence Sheit of Alabama was an able master of ceremonies.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—Mary Nash's appearance in "The Big Chance" at the Majestic, Monday night is easily the theatrical event of chief importance for the current week. "The Big Chance" is a laughable comedy with here and there a tear, plentifully supplied with thrills and the kind of scenes that stir the heart with their love, interest and sentiment. Miss Nash has able support in William J. Kelly, William E. Meehan, Annie Mack Berlin, Ben Hendricks, Ramsey Wallace, Harry Robert, Katharine Harris Barrymore, and others. A popular dollar matinee will be given each Wednesday for out of town patrons.

PAY AND FILE INCOME TAX BEFORE MAR. 15

U. S. Internal Revenue Bureau Gives Warning That Severe Penalties Will Be Enforced.

WOMEN WITHIN LAW'S SCOPE; HOW THEY REPORT INCOME

The Income Tax drive comes to a close on Saturday night, March 15.

All payments and returns due on that date under the provisions of the new Revenue Law must be in the hands of local Internal Revenue Collectors before their offices close that night.

The Income Tax is being collected to meet the war expenses. Every person who should and tooted his horn on Armistice Day is now called upon to contribute his share of the cost of winning the war.

The laggards and the dodgers will face severe fines and jail sentences. The Internal Revenue Bureau announces that its officers will check us all up to see that every person who comes within the scope of the Income Tax law did his share.

Where to Pay and File.

Residents of Massachusetts are required to make their returns and pay their taxes to John F. Malley, Collector of Internal Revenue, Boston, Mass., or to any of his deputy collectors who are now doing free advisory work on Income Tax.

Payments sent by mail should be attached to the returns and should be in the form of check, money order or draft. Cash payments by mail are sent at the taxpayer's risk of loss.

If you are unable to make your return personally because of illness, absence or incapacity, an agent or legal representative may make your return.

If there are any doubtful points as to your items of income or allowable deductions, you should get in touch at once with a Revenue officer or a banker for advice.

Women Pay Tax.

Women are subject to all the requirements of the Income Tax. Whether single or married, a woman's income from all sources must be considered.

If unmarried, or if living apart from her husband, she must make her return for 1918 if her net income was $1,000 or over.

If married and living with her husband, her income must be considered with the husband's in determining the liability for a return. Their joint income, less the credits allowed by law, is subject to normal tax. The wife's net income is considered separately in computing any surtax that may be due. Husband and wife file jointly, as a rule. If the husband does not include his wife's income in his return, the wife must file a separate return.

Severe Penalties.

The new Revenue Law places severe penalties on a person who fails to make return on time, refuses to make return or renders a fraudulent return. For failure to make return and pay tax on time a fine of not more than $1,000 is named, and 25 per cent of the tax due is added to the assessment. For refusing wilfully to make return, or for making a false or fraudulent return there is a fine of not exceeding $10,000 and imprisonment of not exceeding one year, or both.

Farmers' Income Taxable.

Every farmer and ranchman who had a fair or good year in 1918 must heed the Income Tax this year. He must consider all his income as taxable. He is entitled to deduct from his gross income all amounts expended in carrying on his farm. The cost of farm machinery, farm buildings and improvements cannot be deducted. The cost of live stock, either for sale or for breeding purposes, is also regarded as investment.

Overtime and Bonus Taxed.

Salary and wage earners must consider as taxable every item received from employers and from other sources. Bonuses and overtime pay are to be reported, as well as the regular payments.

Allowances for Losses.

Losses sustained in 1918 and not covered by insurance are deductible items if incurred in the taxpayer's business or trade, in any transaction undertaken for profit, or arising from fire, storm, shipwreck or other casualty, or from theft.

SQUARE DEAL FOR EVERY INCOME TAX PAYER

Washington, D. C.—"The rights of all persons now filing Income Tax returns are amply protected by provisions for abatements, refunds and appeals," says Commissioner Daniel C. Roper.

"Every person can be sure of a square deal. No person is expected to pay more than his share of tax. His share is determined solely by the amount and nature of his net income for 1918, as defined in the law. "Abatement petitions are dealt with openly-mindedly. Refunds will be made in every case where too much tax is erroneously collected. "The Income Tax is 'on the level' all the way through."

THE GREAT AWAKENING—THE NEW BROTHERHOOD

have life more abundantly." This conception of the purpose of the Christ had with difficulty obtained an entrance into the minds of men. Although taught by Jesus 2000 years ago the world was only now beginning to understand it—yet we would find that with scarcely an exception Christ's teachings all refer to a new social order of which his noble mother Mary had a prophetic vision in her Magnificat which was the birth song of a Saviour who should cast down the mighty from their seats, exalt those of low degree, fill the hungry with good things but send the unworthy empty away. She brought a Saviour into the world to save a world gone wrong. The trouble with the world as Jesus saw it was that men were living abnormal lives—not living for each other but living on one another. Only two ideals of life were possible—One to live for self and the other to live for others—Competition and Co-operation—brute struggle or brotherhood. It is everywhere dawning upon the consciousness of the race that the competitive struggle has to a large extent exhausted itself and that a higher order of life must take its place—which is Co-operation or brotherhood. The trouble with the competitive System was that it paralyzed the love forces of the breast and separated men, and whatever separated men in their hearts is not in the Divine Order. Whatever unites men, draws them into friendly relations, makes them work for and love one another is of the Divine order. We saw this illustrated in the human body a creation of the higher power to express life, but we do not find any competition in the human body, only co-operation—all parts working for the good of all other parts—each for all and all for each—Co-operation was the divine order of things and was the principle at the heart of true religion, and the human task before men now was to organize life so that it should be an expression of the organic structure of the human body. A selfish soul was a lost soul. The speaker thought there was no sin but selfishness but that was sin enough. Jesus said that selfishness was the life motive of civilization of his day with few exceptions. Men were hypocrites, unjust, extortionate, adulterers, devouring widows' houses, oppressing the poor, and perhaps the world was not greatly changed today. The selfish principle still largely ruled although with some noble exceptions, and that being the case we have no Christian civilization although there are a sprinkling of Christians in it. The hopeful sign of a new era was that men were beginning to consider these questions. Everywhere—America, England, France, Italy, even Russia and Germany this problem of how to get to God and live together in a friendly and fraternal way—how to organize human society upon a higher plane—these questions were being discussed at all times, by all kinds of organizations, churches, clubs and theological seminaries as never before. For a closer study of this world awakening and movement towards brotherhood, Mr. Markham recommended work on the social principles of Jesus by Professor Rauschenbusch of Rochester, N. Y., and Swedenborg's Doctrine of Charity and his Work on the Divine Providence. Mr. Markham briefly outlined the teachings of the Sermon on the Mount with reference to this principle of brotherhood. That sermon was the constitution and laws so to speak of the kingdom of which Jesus came to preach the gospel. That kingdom while not to be a material kingdom was to be ultimately in the motives, lives and actions of his followers and so reach to the ground of all human needs. With justice as the ruling principle all human wants both spiritual and material could be satisfied in the Christian Brotherhood. The great were to be those who served others instead of those who received the service. Usefulness determined rank—the strong must stand up for and help the weak and not simply work for themselves. The true order was that men should bear one another's burdens. That would form the basis for heroic living greater than had been furnished even by the wars of the past. In such a brotherhood public servants would be very highly honored because of their use. The parables were intended chiefly to explain the principles of the new order. The story of the blinded fetter was to teach that he who would not consecrate his talents to the service of others would surely lose them—The fit survive by use. The unfit die. We keep fit by performing our use. Such principles would make a new world when understood and applied to the life of the race. Sacrifice was giving up the lower for the higher. We died to live. Self must die that true brotherly love might survive. The New Social Order typified in the New Earth of the Apocalypse which was to come down from God out of Heaven. The Apocalypse was a great poem or exalted vision of the truth, veiled in symbols, of the principles that would govern the new society that in time should have place on this earth when mutual service fraternity and unity shall rule. Our duty was to prepare the way for such a happy state.

An interesting feature of the evening was the question period when Mr. Markham replied to inquiries, and judging from the applause his answers were considered very satisfactory. The poet concluded a delightful evening by reading short selections from his poems. The second lecture will be given March 17th, and a similar musical programme will be provided.

He was born in Stow, Mass., September 27, 1832. When a very young man he entered his business career in Boston in which he was actively engaged until his eightieth year. During the Civil War, Mr. Robinson enlisted in the Newton company and his commission as Lieutenant of Co. K, 45th Massachusetts Regiment of Infantry was signed by Gov. Andrew.

Mr. John S. Farlow at that time presented him with his sash, sword and belt.

Mr. Robinson was a man of intense patriotism of strong upright character. His genial, cheerful disposition made him hosts of friends.

LA CROIX DE GUERRE

Low bending o'er the prostrate forms,
That lay in a field of rye,
With sweeping curves of his great,
white wings
The Angel of God drew nigh.

Some there were upon whose breast Rested the "Croix de Guerre."
In the silver moonlight it glittered and shone
And seemed so wondrous fair.

Yet the Angel of God stayed not by these
But he knelt by one lonely one Who far apart from his comrades lay
Where he fell when the day was done.

Then, bending down he placed upon him
A cross of most beautiful hue,
"Not for what thou hast done," he whispered low,
"But for what thou hast tried to do."
—Dorothy Drake.

COPLEY REPERTORY THEATRE

"The Magistrate", which the Henry Jewett Players are to give at the Copley Repertory Theatre during the coming week, is one of the most famous farces of recent years. Its author is Sir Arthur Pinero, the eminent English dramatist, whose name has since been associated with many plays dealing with problems of social life.

But there is nothing of a problem in "The Magistrate." It is filled with humor from beginning to end, and its only purpose is to amuse the many thousands of theatre-goers who want to be entertained and to laugh. Its production at the hands of the Henry Jewett Players, under Mr. Jewett's direction, will provide a week of exceptional enjoyment at the Copley Repertory Theatre.

It does a fellow a world of good to receive a letter such as the one I received from you, for it brings the fact home to him that not one or several persons only, are interested in his life over here, and his endeavors which he is making for Uncle Sam, but the whole United States, and especially the citizens of his own town, are interested in them. This is a thought which makes him "pack up his troubles in his old kit-bag and smile" and helps him over many a hard day on the road with its inevitable "corned-beef" wine and hardtack, and its bed of "soft" pine boards, or even the cold, cold ground.

I imagine that my life overseas is about the same as that which has been told and retold, time after time, by the newspapers and magazines. We all experience about the same hardships and pleasures, the same round of drills, etc., and I believe that any account I might write would bore rather than interest you. However, there is one thing you can be assured of, the days of sleeping on hard floors and in mud and dirt, and eating every once in a while, are over, at least, for the American Army in Occupied France. We are now getting the best that Germany can give us, and we all think that we are entitled to all we can get.

Before closing, I would like to say a few words of praise for the work of the Red Cross over here. It has been wonderful, and its name will go down in history as one to be long remembered. Many a boy owes his life to your organization, and we all owe it a huge debt of gratitude for the many pleasures and comforts it has brought us in times of hardship.

Private John W. Dunn, Co. F. 104th U. S. Infantry, got his letter after a day of drilling and sat right down and answered. Private Dunn says:

"Tonight, after our day's drilling, I received your kind and most welcome letter. At three o'clock in the afternoon we are finished for our day's drilling. Then what we look for is mail.

The Red Cross has done some great work for the boys; all you can hear is the boys telling of the great work which the Red Cross has done for us. I have been on the front since last February 6, till a week after the armistice was signed. And in every Sector, both going and coming, the Red Cross was there serving warm drinks and all kinds of eatables. I have mentioned the Red Cross in all of my letters, telling of the great work they have done for us. But when we get back, we can tell a great deal more about it. Because you sure deserve all the thanks we can give you.

We have just come back from the front, after a ten-day hike. The day that the armistice was signed, we were at the Verdun sector, after being there two months before it was signed. We lost a lot of the boys on that front, in attacking machine gun nests, but we got a lot of Boches, both killed and captured. We fought right up to the morning before the armistice was signed. The night of the armistice we sure did celebrate. We shot up rockets and all you could see was the sky illuminated with flares and not a sound of a gun. It was strange not doing but shells.

Well, I can't think of much more now, till we get home, which we all are looking for, for we sure deserve to go home. Most of the boys from home are in the 101st Field Artillery, which the Infantry don't see much. But I have seen most of them, and they are happy and well. I am the only Newton fellow. There were three of us, but the other two were wounded and have not come back yet.

Aurustine F. West, who is a member of the 101st Infantry Band, wrote: "Your kind letter received, and I cannot begin to explain or thank you folks for the kindness and help shown to us boys over here, especially when we needed a good Samaritan. On one occasion, we were hiking day and night for quite a while, going from one front to another, and one night we halted on a road awaiting orders, and as we sat along the roadside, some lying down from the long hike, who was the good friend that night in the cold at 10 P. M. to give us hot chocolate and cookies and cigarettes but the Red Cross. I will never forget it, and there is not a man over here that has not the highest praise for them.

As we entered Chateau-Thierry, in that big drive that turned the tide of war and saved Paris, your workers were there to greet us, and give us cigarettes, tobacco and chocolate for the asking, which no other association can boast of. I saw with my own eyes a Red Cross woman to be the first to give First Aid to a fellow that got a piece of shrapnel in the hip close to where she was standing, and putting a tourniquet about his leg, she saved the boy from bleeding to death. And so I could write of many more instances just the same, and the only way I can tell you how much the boys appreciate your kindness and help is to wait until the boys come home and they will tell from their own lips the help, the kindness, and spirit that the Red Cross workers have in France.

We the 101st Infantry Band, played at a Hospital in the heart of Paris, on New Year's and Christmas day, for the sick and wounded. And besides making everything comfortable for us, we each got a pair of socks filled with flax, nuts, candv. cigarettes and a pipe. We were like kiddies once more.

I am sending a postal to you that every soldier in the hospital gets to send to his folks as a Christmas card. Needless to say, you are glad the war is over, but if you were in our shoes you would see a happy lot of fellows looking forward to the day when we reach the good old U. S. A., the best country that God ever made. I am glad that I have the privilege and honor to say my mother helped you, and that I myself can write you as a friend, thinking you for the work you have done.

From Dinteville in France Sergeant Ernest Henley wrote:—Your kind letter was surely welcome, and it was with great pleasure that my comrades and I read your message of good cheer. The Red Cross Society has endeared itself to the A. E. F. by its many kind acts under most trying circumstances.

I do not think I exaggerate when I say that your society comes first in the hearts of the soldiers over here. Even as I write, we are in receipt of some winter clothing, and the fellows are praising the efficiency of the Red Cross. I myself am a Red Cross man, as I am with the Medical Department, and am therefore very pleased with the popularity of the brassard.

You ask me of my experiences in France. I can not much I can say, for I've not been here very long. I landed in Scotland Sept. 13, 1918, and from there I was sent to a training camp in Cherbourg, France. Here I stayed till I was sent to the Front Oct. 8, 1918. I joined the 77th Division just after the beginning of the big Argonne Forest Drive.

What a hard struggle it was through the dense forest! But our boys pushed on manfully, fighting their way ahead against terrible odds. For the Germans were on the hills and controlled the few roads and paths, and our fellows were compelled to make their way through the heavy shrubbery and thick foliage of the ravine known as "Dead Man's Valley." And with the continuous shell-fire and countless machine-guns facing them, the 77th rushed on and on, driving the enemy slowly but surely out of what they thought an impenetrable stronghold.

The story of the Argonne is just one long tale of work and advance, and more work and more advance. But one event stands out above all others,—the story of the "Lost Battalion." No doubt you have read of how the 1st Battalion, 308 Infantry, went too far in the forest and were surrounded by the enemy; how they had penetrated deep into the valley and when too late, realized that the enemy had cut them off. They could neither advance nor retreat. And there they lay for five days, with neither food nor drink, entirely at the mercy of the Huns, who kept up a continuous fire on our unfortunate men. The only protection they had was the little funk they had dug in the ground with their shovels. But our fellows, starving and exhausted, would not give in. Time and again other Battalions would try to save them, but they were always repulsed with severe losses. Our airplanes would attempt to drop food to our beleaguered troops, but the Germans would always frustrate our plans. For five days, the men suffered untold tortures, they gradually began to be killed or wounded, till finally the First Battalion, 307 Infantry, my own Battalion, succeeded in breaking through the German ring and rescuing the survivors of the terrible ordeal.

I doctored many of the poor chaps. And if ever men needed medical attention, it was they. Exhausted, starving, weak as babies, they could not walk and were carried on our shoulders. They had fed on leaves, and chewed their gums and tongues from hunger. But our men, through it all, had kept a stiff upper lip and would not surrender. The 77th can well be proud of the First Battalion, 308 Infantry.

We can also boast of capturing Grand Pre, the town that the Germans valued so highly and fought so hard to defend. It was the 1st Battalion, 307 that, in a sudden night-attack, drove the Huns from the town. From there we advanced steadily, gaining much ground from day to day, and when the armistice was signed, we were in front of Sedan.

Since then, we have hiked many, many miles, and now are near Chaumont, awaiting further orders. We hope and pray that the order will be "homeward bound." We are all glad that we were here to do our bit, but now that it's all over, we are keenly anxious to get home again to enjoy those little luxuries so long denied us. To ones more greet our relatives and friends and take our place in American society.

Corporal Leroy C. Sibbert wrote:—I left Hoboken on the fourteenth of March, a year ago. At six o'clock in the evening we steamed down the harbor on the steamer Matsonia. We were in a convoy of five vessels, and conveyed by one battleship. Twice, on the way, our ship was caught in the fire. The fires themselves were not serious, but as the ship was an oil-burner, the chances of danger were increased. As soon as the fire was discovered, all troops were ordered to their quarters, and ship's crew soon had the fire extinguished.

We arrived at the harbor of Brest on the morning of the 7th of March. We saw our first sign of land, and were returning from breakfast, and though it was nothing more than a light-house, it surely had a large number of spectators. We landed the next day, and were kept in a rest camp for nine days. From there, we went to Blois, where the company was split. Another fellow and myself were sent here to Tours, where we were assigned to the salvage. For three months we did the heavy work of sorting the kitchen stuff. Last July, I was put on driving the truck, and put in charge of the detail doing the collecting. From then on, I have been doing the same work.

Undoubtedly, all you folks realize what the Salvage Service does, but I wonder how many realize to what extent it is carried. Of course, all know that clothing, shoes, etc., are saved, and that all that can possibly be made serviceable are repaired. The branch of the Salvage which I am assigned to, the Kitchen Economic Branch, handles all the by-products of the kitchens. The handling of the surplus fat and grease, and all bones, is the main thing. Besides that, all damaged flour and grains, all canned goods, fruits and vegetables, tobacco, sacks, barrels and cases are also handled.

I will try to give you a brief account of the disposal of the various articles. All flour is put through a very fine sieve and issued to the Bakery in this city. Canned goods are all sorted. Any that are not spoiled are re-issued to the Post Commissary. Those that are damaged are used in making a poultry feed. They are mixed up with oats, bran and meal, cooked, and then ground.

The army has moved their barn out here to this plant, and the last week this poultry feed and canned goods has been mixed up, cooked, and used as pig feed. The pigs seem to enjoy it, and also to thrive on it. The bones which come in are rendered up and the grease from them used for soap.

SMOKING TOBACCO

FACTS FROM THE ENCYCLOPAEDIA

The Use of Flavorings Determines Difference In Brands

The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco: "... on the Continent and in America, certain 'sauces' are employed in the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves." Which indicates that a smoker's enjoyment depends as much upon the flavoring used as upon the tobacco.

Your nose is a sure guide in the matter of flavorings. Try this simple test with several tobacco brands: pour some tobacco into your palm, rub briskly, and smell. You will notice a distinct difference in the fragrance of every brand. The tobacco that smells best to you will smoke best in your pipe, you can rest assured.

Carefully aged, old Burley tobacco, plus a dash of pure chocolate, gives TUXEDO Tobacco a pure fragrance your nose can quickly distinguish from any other tobacco. Try it and see.

EDITORIAL

Hon. John W. Weeks of this city, who retired last week from the United States Senate, has just completed twenty years of public life, having entered the Newton board of aldermen in 1899. His public life covers three years as an alderman, two years as Mayor of Newton, about eight years as a Congressman and six years as United States senator. During all this term of service Mr. Weeks has accomplished much for the public weal. His record in Congress has been most remarkable and was recognized while in the House in his appointment to the chairmanship of the important committee on Post Office and Post roads, and was the father of the present postal savings law.

While in the House he took an important part in framing the Aldrich-Vreeland Currency law, was a member of the Monetary Commission, which laid the foundation for the present Federal Reserve Bank system, and while a member of the Senate took a prominent part in framing the law itself. He was the author of the White Mountain Appalachian law which has done so much to protect New England forests and was instrumental in passing the Weeks-McLain law for the protection of birds.

His service in the Senate as a member of the minority party is also remarkable, and he has been one of the leaders in the Military Affairs Committee in compelling the War Department to take appropriate and needed action in carrying on the war. His work at Washington has been highly commended by Democrats as well as by Republicans and there is a general feeling that his absence during the critical times ahead and the process of reconstruction, will be a serious handicap.

Few men have retired from public life in Washington with so many friends on both sides of the Chamber as Senator Weeks and his return to public life under the next Republican president is confidently predicted.

DISCUSSED LABOR QUESTION

The West Newton Men's Club met last Friday evening at the Unitarian church and heard an address on labor questions by Mr. Arthur M. Huddell, chairman of the re-organization committee of the Boston Central Labor Union, and first vice-president of the International Union of Steam and Operating Engineers. The meeting was in the nature of a Get-Together affair, to get the point of view of a representative union official.

Mr. Huddell was asked to speak on the question, "Do present conditions warrant an increase or decrease in wages?" He took the position that there should be a further increase over the present level. He felt that not merely should the American workingman have better living conditions, but he should be placed in a position where he could save money.

He talked for an hour, and then questions were asked him for about an equal time. No difference of opinion was expressed, the effort of the meeting being to get his point of view, and it was generally felt that he had expressed the labor viewpoint in a fair minded way. Supper was served and about 75 were present at the meeting.

It is also the desire of the Branch to instill a greater community interest into the organization.

The work of the branch as heretofore will be carried on by several sub-committees, that of the so-called wool room under the direction of Mrs. Andrew S. Woods, superintendent with Mrs. F. E. Jones, Mrs. William E. Crosby, and Mrs. Ernest F. Gile, as assistants.

During its nearly two years of activity the former knitting committee has completed 18,000 knitted articles which have been distributed. Since the order was given by the Red Cross to stack needles a few months ago, this committee has been working for the French refugees.

In addition to the great number of knitted articles distributed by this committee to the Newton Red Cross, the Charlestown Navy Yard and the aviation branch of the Special Aid, the committee completely fitted out the U. S. destroyers Kimberly and Evans.

The work of the Soldiers' Aid during the past year included over 400,000 surgical dressings and about 11,000 articles made in the sewing rooms which included pajamas, convalescent robes, surgical shirts, refugee garments, etc.

PROMINENT MILITARY FIGURE

Death of Capt. Albert W. Hersey, Active in Business and Military Life

The death of Capt. Albert W. Hersey of Central street, Auburndale, removes a man who had been very prominent in military and business life in this neighborhood. He died quite suddenly, as the result of a shock, which may have been the result of a fall some five weeks ago. He was a man of unusually magnetic quality, who made a great many friends, always cheerful and interested to do things for other people, and a lover of children. He made a notable fine appearance as a horseman, and was a prominent figure for many years at Framingham encampments and other military gatherings.

Capt. Hersey was born in 1842 at Spencer, and at the age of 17 entered the grocery business with the firm of Henry Cobb of Worcester. He enlisted in the Civil war in Co. C of the 51st Massachusetts Volunteers, and served until 1863. He was paymaster of the 1st regiment for some time. He was commissioned captain by Gov. John A. Andrew in 1865, and came to Boston the same year. He was in the grocery business in that city for nearly fifty years, retiring at the end of that period.

Capt. Hersey was past commander of Edward Kingsley Post of the Grand Army of Boston. He was two years in the Boston Common Council and was one of the trustees of the Boston cemetery for 25 years. He was a member of Tremont Lodge of Odd Fellows. He was very active in all military interests, was captain of the Roxbury City Guards, Past Commander of the Old Guards of Massachusetts, and president of the Retail Grocers' Association of Boston for some time.

Capt. Hersey married Mary Longley of Thompson, Conn., who survives him. There are no children. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 1 o'clock with Rev. Dr. Edward A. Horton of Boston and Rev. Dr. E. P. Drew, officiating. The burial was at Spencer. Capt. and Mrs. Hersey have lived in Auburndale for 11 years.

THE RUMMAGE SALE

The date for the opening of the Rummage Sale, March 22nd, draws near, and the committees in all parts of Newton are busy collecting articles and spreading information regarding the same.

Every house should produce some donation to help promote the success of this Rummage Sale, which is to be held in the interest of the wonderful memorial referred to in the following clipping from the Boston Transcript:

Paris, March 10.—Overlooking the fifteen thousand roofless houses of Rheims and overshadowed by its battered cathedral will stand the first great memorial of the American dead in France. The French Government will deed the ground in the environs of Rheims on which a great American hospital will be erected. The sum of $100,000, for the purpose has already been guaranteed by the American Fund for French Wounded in the United States. The raising of an endowment fund will be achieved by perpetual endowments of memorial beds by individuals. Mrs. Benjamin G. Lathrop, the president of the organization, will sail for the United States in pursuance of its plans. The American hospital at Rheims will not only constitute a monument to the thousands of American soldiers lying buried throughout the battle areas of France, but is intended also to be an enduring reminder that America had brought relief to France even before the American armies arrived.

DEATH OF CLARK ALVORD

The many friends of Clark Alvord will learn with deep regret that he made the supreme sacrifice for the cause of humanity February 23rd, while stationed in Northern France.

His sunny, frank, lovable nature, his tendency to see only the right side of every experience, endeared him to many to whom his death will come as a deep personal loss.

He volunteered to go across in the U. S. Army Ambulance Service, and later was assigned to Section 604, 5th Army Corps, 42nd Division which at the final drive at Argonne Forest was twice cited for bravery.

While overseas he manifested the same bright courageous spirit shown here and won the love and admiration of all his comrades. Therefore, not only here but there also will his going be held as one of the sad events of the war.

BILLETS FOR 26TH DIVISION

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic: This is to advise you about the billeting of the 26th division. A meeting was held Thursday, March 6th, at the North Eastern Headquarters of the War Department. Col. Williams presided and Capt. Cornarais, who had charge of billeting the men in France was present.

Every unit of the 26th division was represented. Official billeting has been attempted and given up as impracticable. It has been decided that the whole 26th division will go at once to Camp Devens where they will be in quarantine and thoroughly cleaned up, before being allowed "leaves" or "passes." They will then come to Boston for the Parade. After the Parade, the boys will be given a furlough of one week and it is at this time that the billeting will begin. There are in all 27,000 men to be cared for. The billeting of the 101st Engineers, numbering 1700 men, has been placed in the hands of the undersigned and has the hearty co-operation of parents and relatives who have boys in the unit. It is needless to say that all of these parents will work for this billeting and will take in the friends of their own as far as possible.

It is to the others not so vitally interested that personal appeal is to be made. They will respond and will not let it be said, that the parents who have suffered the strain and anxiety since September 1917 shall give all the hospitality that is necessary to make these boys comfortable and happy. It is a privilege. Just think for a moment of all the boys who have been in the front lines. Everything has been carefully thought out by those in charge. We want to make the welcome something more than a Hurrah!

If by reason of illness, lack of help or room, any one cannot billet a boy or two, then money may be contributed and in several instances we have had offers from those who wish to lend a hand, to do cooking, as they are unable to offer rooms for the boys.

Of the 1700 Engineers, perhaps 400 to 500 have homes near Boston, each man will go to his own home and will want to take one or more of his friends. This will leave approximately 800 men who live at a distance to be cared by those who do not have sons or relatives in the division. Great enthusiasm has been shown in many towns and suburbs. We look for a splendid response from Newton.

If you cannot billet boys for the whole week ask them to stay for two or three days following the Parade. The last official report is, that we may expect the 26th division about the middle of April.

Applications for billeting or subscriptions of money may be sent to the following committee:

Mrs. George F. Spaulding, Chairman, Newton Centre.
Mrs. Matt. B. Jones, Newton Centre.
Mrs. Edward D. VanTassel, Newtonville.
Mrs. Henry C. French, West Newton.
Mrs. Eben Ellison, Newton.
Mrs. Wallace Leonard, Newton Highlands.

TRAVELLERS' CLUB

This week the members of the Travellers' Club of Newton Centre, and their friends had the great privilege of hearing Mrs. Kenyon Brown, (Denebra Vaka) well known as a writer of books and magazine articles, tell of her home land and its problems. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Dudley Dowd on March 11th. About 150 people were present. Mrs. Brown spoke of the conditions of the girls in Greece under Turkish rule. Heirs of Greek culture, highly gifted, they have been so held down by Turkey that they have lost much of their initiative and self reliance. Mrs. Brown told of what it would mean to these girls to study in our American Colleges particularly such subjects as baby hygiene, nursing, domestic science, etc. She is hoping to form an organization which shall help those girls, who show the greatest promise both in scholarship and in character so that they may become the teachers and leaders of modern Greece. She would like to have this go into effect in 1921, the centennial of the Greek uprising for independence.

None who heard Mrs. Brown could fail to catch something of her inspiration, and to wish her success, in so worthy an undertaking.

CAMP REUNION

Fifty were present at the banquet which opened the festivities of the 1919 reunion of the campers of the F. A. Day Camp at East Brookfield. Music was furnished by Secretaries Alfred O'Brien and F. E. Doubleday. After the banquet many of the boys' parents and friends gathered in the large hall to listen to two plays which had been prepared by the campers under the leadership of Chase Kepner.

The first play "A Day in Camp" depicted camp life from reveille to mail time when the good news came that Messrs. Doubleday and Ellison were coming up to help in the annual minstrel show. The second play, "A Business Proposition" pictured life as it may be in 1970. The plays were written and arranged by Mrs. C. D. Kepner and Chase Kepner.

Those taking part were: Donald Cunningham, Anthony Gleason, Lyman Billings, R. S. Webster, Kenneth Kepner, Wm. Procter, Frederick Bray, John Tufts, Raymond Woolstop, Harold Woolston, Leslie Atwood, Hal Savory, Dick Payton, and Wm. Filene. Plans for the 1919 camp season were announced by President Kepner. Rev. ## NINTH ANNUAL STATE BOYS' DAY

The boys of Massachusetts and Rhode Island observe Saturday, March 15th as State Boys' Day. They have a Boy program and they put it across in a boy's way. It is a united campaign for funds to support the local, state, international and foreign work among boys. Of every dollar, given, 50 percent will go toward the support of the work in our own community, 25 per cent to the State Work, 15 per cent to the international work, and 10 per cent to the work among the boys of the Orient.

The plan is to have each boy send in the names of twenty-five friends on whom he will plan to call on March 15th; and secure small contributions for the work of the Young Men's Christian Association among boys. A leaflet showing how these funds are to be used is sent to each friend. The boy is given a certificate showing that he has been authorized to make collection for State Boys Day. Please do not give money to any boy not having a certificate.

This evening the boys will have a rally at which time complete instructions will be given to them. The boy will also enjoy a social evening. Saturday morning, March 15th the boys will be on the jump. There will be no gymnasium classes but the boys are urged to work fast and return to the association at twelve o'clock for a swim. ## WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

This month's Federation Bulletin is even more full than usual of vital suggestions, which committees may do well to consider. Space forbids more than a few brief quotations, but these may serve to stimulate interest in what is really the province of every well-regulated woman's club—the club which desires to serve the community as well as to enrich or merely entertain the individual members."Community life is but home keeping on a larger scale, says the Civics chairman, "and just as a well ordered household is a joy to the visitor as well as to the occupant, so a well ordered community is a pleasure to traveler and dweller alike.""The approach of spring brings to mind the subject of house-cleaning and it should be made to include yards and streets as well as cellars and attics."The chairman of Civil Service Reform calls attention to the many bills offering various forms of special privileges in the civil service to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors now engaging the attention of the Massachusetts Legislature, and quotes the following from the last report of the U. S. Civil Service Commission:"Public office should not be regarded as a gratuity, but as an opportunity for public service by those best fitted. The soldier is not admitted to the Army unless he meets the special physical tests. He should not be admitted to the civil service without a corresponding test of his ability to develop along the lines of activity which will be required in the civil branches of the Government."From the Conservation chairman:
"The war garden has passed but the home garden is here to stay; a more productive garden because many war restrictions have been removed and more time can now be given to it. Select seeds wisely, well known varieties and of a high grade. Have spraying material on hand and apply it as soon as trouble appears. Do not plant a larger garden than you can properly care for, constant cultivation is the keynote of success."Reference is made by the Education chairman to the report of the special commission on Education, which is now before the Legislature. She says:
"We recommend that the Education committee of each club make an analysis of the report and present at some club meeting, such portions of it as seem to touch the educational needs of the community."Again the Home Economics department furnishes pertinent questions to be used as a basis of work this time on "The Budget." They cover Expenditure, Shelter Standards, Food Standards, and Standards in Operating. Next month the questions will refer to Clothing and Food.Tuesday, March 18, 10.30 A. M. and 1.30 P. M. Joint conference of Home Economics and Conservation at Dorchester Woman's Club House by invitation of the Dorchester Woman's Club. At the morning session Mrs.
Arthur Bixby will speak of the "Household Budget" and Mrs. Frank Stewart on "Home Economic Ideals." In the afternoon Mrs. Frank B. Good on "Personal Experiences in Birdland" and Mrs. Effie S. Nowers on "The Woman's Garden." There will be community singing from one-thirty to two o'clock directed by Mr. Alfred Hallam, and led by the Glee Club of the Dorchester Woman's Club. Open to all club women interested.

Local Happenings

There was a large attendance at the all-day service meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday. Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, president of the State Federation, was the guest of the club at luncheon, and later gave a splendid address on "Club Spirit." There was a short business meeting when the crowded condition of the Waban school was brought to the attention of the club.Presidents' Day will be observed on March 24, when Miss Heloise E. Hersey will speak on "Russia as Interpreter by her greatest Novelist, Ivan Turgenev."On Tuesday afternoon there was the largest attendance of the season at the meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson, the president, after the business, presented Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, chairman of the War Service Committee, who presided over the program.
The speakers were Lieut. Geo. H. Mellen, Jr., and Col. Frank H. Lawton, who both having recently returned from the front, thrilled their audience with descriptions of experiences which they had witnessed. Both kept their own part in them modestly in the background, but were loud in their praise of the bravery of their men.Col. Lawton, who was with the First Division, stated that that division had been continually on the firing line and so great had been their losses that it had been replaced 110 per cent. Lieut.
Mellen told among other things of changes which took place in the trench warfare. First, they were spread out in long lines through the trenches, but gradually they learned from the Germans the better way of stationing them in little groups here and there in the front line and in those which receded from them.Miss Kerrigan, a cornetist, rendered solos which were much enjoyed. At the finish she asked the audience to join with her in "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and sounded Taps at the close.Mrs. Edgar J. Smith, chairman of the Music committee, stated that the proceeds of Mrs. Beach's recital amounted to $182.50, which had been sent at the latter's request to the Polish Relief Fund, and read a letter of appreciation which she had received from the committee in charge.The meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, which was held in the Congregational Chapel, March 11, was opened by the reading of a poem by Mrs. Mary E. Herron. The usual business meeting followed, at which various people made appeals for war relief and home settlement work.The program for the afternoon began with some spring songs which Mrs. Lyman W. Gore sang in a charming fashion. Then followed the illustrated lecture on "Luther Burbank and his Magical Garden," given by Mr.
Herbert Gleason. Mr. Gleason is a personal friend of Mr. Burbank, and has visited the noted horticulturist at his experimental farm in California, so that his opinions of the man and his work carried authority. He said that Mr. Burbank's aim is to aid in the welfare of the human race, and to that end he perpetuates only those plants which have a value, discarding useless freaks. This is an opinion which contradicts many of the current ideas about Mr. Burbank's use of his science. Mr. Gleason feels that the scientist's greatness lies in the fact that he persists in his efforts to obtain desired results in spite of well-nigh overwhelming failures. The beautifully colored slides which Mr. Gleason used to illustrate his talk were well chosen and rich in their variety and significance.The meeting of The Fortnightly Club of Newton Centre on March 12th, instead of being held at one of the homes, was spent at the Red Cross House, Centre street, and was the last of four meetings which have been devoted to War Work this winter.
The Club worked on garments for the Refugees, and the Directors expressed appreciation of the work accomplished as the need for this clothing is very great, and sewers are needed as much, if not more, than ever.

Surprise Party

The members of the Christian Era Study Club of Auburndale with their husbands gathered Thursday evening, March 13, at the home of the president, Miss Ella B. Smith, 15 Vista avenue, giving her a complete and happy surprise.Miss Smith is the founder of the club, and has not only been its faithful and devoted president through the six years of its existence, but has chosen and arranged its entire course of study from its start to the present time. The studies are giving the club a chance to grow the work of the Christian church, the Christ idea in

NEWTON CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The annual senior reception will be held Monday evening, March 31, in Temple Hall, Newtonville, from eight to twelve o'clock. The ushers are Oliver Sylvester, Merrill Nutting, Henry Pinkham, Stephen Palmer, George Mandell, Walter Holmes, Jocelyn Young, and Otis Stevenson. The matrons are Mrs. Sylvester, Mrs. Nutting, Mrs. Palmer, and Mrs. Rowe.

At a meeting of the debating club on Monday Howland Lord was elected manager of the team. As a result of the debating trials which were held on Tuesday, Charles Martin, Chauncey Spaulding, Roscoe Fuller, Roger Lutz, Raymond Ford, Benjamin Lane, Francis Donovan, and Hilton Smith were chosen for the team.

The results of the girls interclass basketball games were Freshmen 18, Sophomores 17, Seniors 20, Juniors 17. In the playoff between the Freshmen and the Seniors the latter won 58 to 22. The team defeated the Freshmen school team beat Miss Wining's School 26 to 15, and was again defeated by Lasell 39 to 18 on March 6. The lineup was, forwards, Ruth Furlong, Loretta Hughes, Eleanor Lyon; guards, Joy Delano, Muriel Esty, Katherine Slayter; centers, Elinor Pedley, Katherine Holmes, Elinor Wheeler. This completes the season. The team this year has been most ably coached by Miss Keys.

The Eliot Essay prize will be competed for this year by students of the Classical High School. All manuscripts must be in by June 2 and must contain from 1250 to 3000 words. A first prize of ten dollars and a second prize of five will be awarded at graduation. The topics which must be written on relate to colonial life in New England.

A dance will be given in the gymnasium Friday, March 21, from 8.00 to 5.00 for the benefit of the Newtonian. Wednesday the Rev. J. Edgar Park of West Newton read several poems. The first was written by Conan Doyle and told how the famous English Guards lived up to the traditions of the army on the battlefield as well as on the drill ground. The second was written by a Frenchman and told how a most important bridge was finally blown up by the English just as the Germans were about to cross it on their way to Paris. The third poem was a marching poem written by Kipling and the fourth a parody on this entitled The Historic Class of 1919, which told how 1919 would go forth from school and win success. Mr. Park was very enthusiastically applauded.

A dual track meet will be held this afternoon with Boston College high in the gym. Newton's intermediates and juniors will run the Allen School Juniors and intermediates at the same time.

It is probable that this year's Newtonian will be dedicated to the boys from the classical high school who have given their lives in the war.

At a meeting of the tennis team Edgar Crosby was unanimously elected captain. Leete and Crosby will play the singles and Fairfield and Holmes the doubles. Besides these four two more members will be chosen by an elimination tournament.

Last Friday the girls' debating team lost to Brookline on a technicality. The Newton girls were undoubtedly the better debaters but one of the speakers spoke a few moments over time. Newton's team was Katherine Chipman, Emily Parker, and Helen Hardy.

One of those delightful Assemblies for which General Hull Lodge No. 123, Ancient Order of United Workmen of Massachusetts is noted, took place on Friday evening, March 7th, at Dennison Hall, Newtonville, and both in attendance and enthusiasm was a decided success. It took the form of a whist party and dance, the music which was of a high order, being furnished by Knights' Orchestra, with an intermission, during which refreshments were served.

The fact that these Assemblies, which have been so popular in past years, are to be resumed, will be good news to the many friends of the lodge, who are sure to take advantage of the opportunity to meet together socially and enjoy the good time the lodge always provides. Due notice will be given of the date of the April Assembly.

A WELCOME INTRUSION

The whole-hearted welcome and unselfish treatment given to Canadian soldiers by the French and Belgians, who had lived through four years of Hun bondage, will always stand out strongly in our memories of the war. Let me tell you an incident in France, when three of us broke all billeting rules and were rewarded with hospitality. "Pitch dark, with rain and wind; yet we must 'carry on' and see the last stores transported to the new position before dawn and Fritz observation planes came over. John, 'Fannie' and self—three Canadian signallers had just taken in the last line, and were to ride on the clearing up lorry. Before, catch this bit bag! Over the high lorry back disappeared a dark shape in the wet and gloom. Our full kit having followed the final stores aboard, we climbed over the tail board into the interior of the lorry and with a jerk, we are off.

Sleepy and wet seated on blanket rolls, or recently reeled in wire, in the darkness we shaped our thoughts. Valenciennes had been captured that morning and now we were en route to a new position. What would it be like? Cras down a he goes the lorry, but onward we go over shell holes which have just been filled. Bodily comfort we expect only at the end of the ride. I believe on the way we lost the direction three times and almost plunged into the canal at Valenciennes as we crossed the plank bridge built by our engineers that morning. "All out." So this is our destination, where we are to be dumped out in the wet. The rain had ceased but the sky was still the color of ink. John slung the kit over the lorry back and we managed to save them from the mud and the pools in the road. Where are the signallers billeted? We asked the driver, but he did not know. The three of us must find for ourselves a shelter from the cold and the shells—a haven in which to snatch a few hours much-needed sleep perhaps sweetened by dreams of home. To the right fields to the left outlines of houses? We shouldered our kit bags and blankets. Our overcoats, gas masks, tin lids and great coats were already in place, and we headed towards the battered walls. Where is the 10th? shouted "Fannie", but received no answer. We reached a house and entered by the front window, but found no cellar. I proposed to guard the kits while John and "Fannie" hunted for a cellar. One slow long hour passed before they returned. A clock struck two. "Come on follow us," and laden with kit I blindly fell in line. Out by a back window, over a low fence, into a yard. What kind of a place I wondered? "Here's the window. Took an hour to force, but boy look inside!" The candle we lighted, after closing the blinds, revealed a clean kitchen, and in the centre a table on which stood a carton of cocoa, a bag of lump sugar, eleven tins of condensed milk and some German biscuits. We judged the place had been left the day before. "La Cave" was a heaven to us that night. While we had been hammering away with all sizes of artillery to force Fritz from Valenciennes these civilians had lived in their cellars. Two beds were there. John claimed the single one, and "Fannie" and I grabbed the double one. We heaved the stores to heat our newly acquired sleeping apartment, and made hot cocoa to warm our insides. "I'm going to wear this night-shirt no matter if it is a madame's. What a treat to be free of khaki if only for a night?" John found one much too small for him. Fannie and I had a hearty laugh at the figure he cut in it. Then between dry white sheets we felt like kings and the war was forgotten. Voices—whose? French? Had the owners returned? Up quick. Too late. Monsieur was at the entrance. We were too hardened to show much feeling, but John managed to explain that we were signallers in a Canadian Siege Battery who had come there by lorry, being dumped at the corner, and in the dark could not locate our comrades and necessity called for an abode. Monsieur laughed. We dressed rapidly and with full kit appeared in the kitchen expecting what? Madame had coffee for us and an invitation to live there while our battery was near. We heard from Monsieur that he, his wife and daughter had existed through our bombardment in "la cave" but when "Fritz" blew up three mines at the cross roads handy to the house the explosion was too much for them. They fled towards Valenciennes and our troops, and away from the retreating Hun. We accepted the kind hospitality but when we located the battery duty called us away so we had to leave our new post with promises to visit if we were ever in the vicinity again.

I wonder if these good people have forgotten the three Canadians they found asleep in their beds and whose intrusion they welcomed.

A short play "Double Crossed" was given by Misses Helen Brown, Priscilla Ordway, Beatrice Whitling, Florence Arnold, Doris Fales, and Frances McCullough. Not minimizing the unselfish side of the opportunity for service which everyone recognizes is the minister's, he claimed that there is much to be said on the selfish side which should appeal to the young man. In other professions, like the law, or medicine, the young man has to wait for his business to come to him and with it his income. In the ministry on the other hand as soon as he has a parish there is a living wage and particularly in the West and South plenty of romance. He told of some of his recent experiences in the camps of the country. His talk was supplemented by remarks by Rev. Dr. Charles W. Wendte. Tea was served, Mrs. Harry Lutz and Mrs. H. L. Simpson presiding over the tea table.

COLONEL KINGSBURY DEAD

City Clerk of Newton for 27 Years and a Civil War Veteran

Colonel Isaac Franklin Kingsbury, for twenty-seven years the City Clerk of Newton, died early Sunday morning at the home of his son, Dr. I. W. Kingsbury in Hartford, Conn., following an illness of about two weeks with apoplexy.

Col. Kingsbury, the third son of Isaac and Mary A. (Homer) Kingsbury, was born in the Chestnut Hill district of the city, then known as East Newton, January 2, 1841, in the old homestead purchased by his grandfather in 1816. He attended the Newton schools and the Normal School at Bridgewater. Upon graduation he preferred to reimburse the state for his tuition, and entered the agency in Boston of the Taunton Copper Company, remaining till his enlistment August 13, 1862, in the Newton Company K, 32nd Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry. He received promotion as sergeant in his company, sergeant-major of the regiment, second lieutenant and adjutant, and captain. On the latter commission he could not be mustered on account of the reduced number of men in the regiment. Frequent narrow escapes from injury were his lot, as in every regiment fighting in the army of the Potomac.

At Gettysburg his sword had been sheathed to more readily assist the colonel, who called that he was wounded, when a rebel shot struck the steel scabbard, which had swung to the right leg, indenting it but saving the leg. The sword, never since drawn, was sent safely home.

In the spring of 1864 Lieutenant Kingsbury was detached from his regiment and assigned to duty as brigade

MINSTREL SHOW

Newtonville Ladies In a Most Enjoyable Entertainment

A large and enthusiastic audience, every seat taken before the curtain went up, greeted the ladies of the Central Congregational Church, on both Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Fascinating posters of darkies in high hats and astounding ties were in evidence, while the music, under the able direction of Mr. Fred Mann, had so much "pep" in it that one knew he was to see a "lively show," and lively it certainly proved to be.

The ladies on the end, Mrs. Crave, Mrs. Sly, Mrs. Wakefield, and Mrs. Mann, wore white suits and gloves with black frock coats and carried canes, while the chorus were dressed in white with black gloves. Mrs. Horton Allen in black lace, made a charming interloper.

Both opening and closing choruses went with a snap. The "make-up" was so effective that many of the audience did not recognize their own friends. Mrs. Sly's "My Chocolate Soldier Sammy Boy" was timely and well sung, while the quartette, Mrs. Burgess, Miss Baker, Miss Gibbs, and Mrs. Jewett, gave a very harmonious rendering of "Pickaninies' Paradise." The end song "Anything is Nice if it comes from Dixieland," made one want to start for Dixieland at once. The ballad "After All" was very touchingly sung by Mrs. Moore.

But the hit of the evening was the topical song "How is Everybody in Newtonville," sung by Mrs. Mann. Mrs. Mann read, or rather sang, a letter

PRISON EXPERIENCES

Lieut. MacLure Talks to Men's Club of Grace Church

At the meeting of the Men's Club of Grace Church last Monday evening, Lieut. Henry G. MacLure of the 139th Aero Squadron gave a most interesting account of his experiences in German prisons. He said in part:

"I was ordered to go out on the morning of July 17th, 1918, to protect a photographic plane which was taking pictures behind the German lines before the big drive of July 18th began. Three planes assembled on our aerodrome and we were off. We circled about over Metz and then made for the Argonne.

When the work was done and we started home against a stiff headwind my engine failed. In this condition I was left behind, and suddenly found myself attacked by a German plane. Unable to escape, and with machine gun bullets raining about me, there was nothing to do but come down. This I did in the forest, hitting a tree and smashing my plane. I lost consciousness for a short time. On recovering consciousness I found my right leg caught in the belt of the machine and myself lying on my shoulders, with my left hip dislocated, two bad wounds in my legs where the engine had smashed me, my nose smashed up, my lips cut and my tongue, and a bad cut over my right eye.

Some German soldiers came up and released me. They laid me on the ground and began to make a stretcher of saplings to carry me to the field

LARGEST BUDGET IN HISTORY

Over $1,850,000 Appropriated for 1919 Expenses. Mayor Asked to Appeal Order for Smoke Screens in School Houses

An annual budget with a total of $1,852,295.92, the largest amount ever requested for city expenses, in this city, was passed Monday night by the board of aldermen with comparatively little discussion. Alderman Angier, chairman of the Finance Committee, stated that the order carried a 10 per cent increase in salary to nearly every clerk and head of department and that the items for new automobiles had been left for another recommendation from the Mayor. There was some discussion over the amount of $30,000 for resurfacing streets with some sentiment in favor of $50,000, but this could not be done without a previous recommendation from the Mayor. Alderman Hollis attempted to increase the salary of the bookkeeper in the Accounting Department by 10 per cent but could only muster 3 votes, after Alderman Allen had explained that the person in question was now receiving $350 more than he was a year ago.

President Harriman expressed his regret that the item of $1500 for the Planning Board had been eliminated and stated that he should request the Mayor to send another recommendation for this matter to the board.

The meeting opened with the usual hearings, the most important being the proposed widening of Walnut street from Newton Highlands square towards Dedham street and for a building line on the same. Opposition was expressed by Mrs. Kathleen M.

Phipps, Rev. Geo. G. Phipps and Messrs. Scipione, Delano and Logan, while Messrs. Charles E. Gibson and James Kingman, of the Planning Board spoke in favor and Mr. E. H. Ruby said he should oppose a different building line from the street line, but if both were the same he would not object.

There were also hearings on Edison poles on Nonantum street and Moffatt road which were unopposed.

Mayor Childs sent in recommendations for $900 for furnishing the lunch rooms at the Technical High, $600 for seats at the lunch room in the Classical High school, $200 for payment of tuition in State Vocational schools, $500 for completion of sewer in Centre street, $1250 for Dental Clinic, for $2700 salary for the City Clerk, recommended detailed salaries in the budget, $2856 for expenses of the training detachment at the Technical High School, the petition of the firemen for a 10 per cent increase in pay, $322.03 for laborers pensioned for Michael E. Thornton, Timothy Shinnick and San-

Richer because of the milk that's in it.

If milk is used more in cooking soups, puddings, bread, etc., a much more nutritious and economical diet is possible.

Try this:

- 1 pint Green Peas (or 1 can)
- 1 quart Water
- 2 tbs. Butter
- 2 tbs. Flour
- 1/2 tsp. Salt
- 1-1/2 tsp. White Pepper
- 1/2 tsp. Sugar
- 1 pint milk or cream

Cook peas in pint water till soft, mash them in the water, strain and add other pint water and the milk; make as white sauce, cook until thick and creamy and serve.

VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN WILL BE NEEDED TO REBUILD GALLANT AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Copyright Underwood & Underwood, N. Y.

ARTIFICIAL LEGS FOR SOLDIERS MAILED, TO ENABLE THEM TO EARN A LIVING.

The soldier who lost a leg "over there" need not worry about being able to work, for the government fits him out with an artificial leg. And soon he is walking about as before. The above shows a man being fitted for an artificial leg.

Reconstruction is one of the great items for which the country is spending money now. Spending it gladly and with the aid of the best surgeons. It is not the reconstruction for which devastated France plans.

It is reconstruction, rehabilitation, so far as it can be wrought out of the gallant American soldiers returning early wounded and broken from doing their share in the great war.

One feels, after a tour of one of the military hospitals, that he has been permitted a visit to a divine work shop where men are fashioned in parts, put together, and taught to function. It is done with safest skill.

When it is accomplished out of this hospital walks a man who was a machinist before his legs were blown off at Chateau Thierry.

Now he is a draughtsman on his way to a job, confident, happy, independent. He is walking on legs of iron and wood. You would have to see him take them off before you would believe it.

Operating this great workshop of the military surgeons is expensive. But it is one of the items in the debt of honor owed to the American soldier which every real American is glad to pay.

It is something to keep well in mind when the Victory Liberty Loan comes next month. It gives every citizen his chance to lend to the government to make the soldiers whole.

17 LIBERTY SHIPS IN NEW ENGLAND

Cities and Towns that Made the Records of the Fourth Loan Each Name a Boat.

Seventeen of the ships to be launched by the United States Shipping Board in the next three months will bear the names of New England cities or towns and the authorities of these towns and cities have named fifteen sponsors to christen the ships.

The municipalities won this privilege by their remarkable record in the Fourth Liberty Loan, either by securing, each in its class, the largest percentage of subscribers in proportion to population, or the largest number of subscribers per capita.

The cities which won the prizes of the first class with the names of the sponsors are: Portsmouth, N. H., 98% of population subscribers, Mrs. Christina A. Hislop, sponsor; Watertown, Mass., 84%, Miss Mary Louise Robinson; Quincy, Mass., 80.4%, Mrs. Geo. F. Hall; New Britain, Conn., 42.4%, Mrs. Marjorie G. Parsons; Hartford, Conn., 95%, Waterbury, Conn., 72.4%, Helen S. Chase; New Haven, Conn., 47.9%, Mrs. Isaac M. Ulman; Worcester, Mass., 43.1%, Mrs. Pehr G. Holmes; Boston, Mass., 36%, Miss Mary B. Hollowell.

The cities or towns winning the prizes in the second class—the largest number of subscribers per capita—with their sponsors, are: Hope-dale, Mass., $749 per capita, Mrs. B. H. Bristow Draper, sponsor; Weston, Mass., $536, Mrs. Alice H. Remick; Brookline, Mass., $286, Miss Grace Parker; Newton, Mass., $221, Miss Marguerite Waller Jones; Springfield, Mass., $181; Pawtucket, R. I., $151; Providence, R. I., $169.

The exact name of the winning city or town will be given to the different ships in all but three cases. There the Indian names will be used. Hope-dale calls its ship "Nipmuc"; Providence, "Moosehaucic"; and New Haven, "Quinnepack."

100,000 WAR MEDALS FOR NEW ENGLAND LOAN WORKERS.

At least one hundred thousand special war medals will be awarded to residents of New England during the next sixty days, the Liberty Loan Committee of New England announces upon authority from the Treasury Department.

These medals are to be made from captured German cannons and one is to go to each worker serving the Liberty Loan Committee during the coming Victory Loan, which begins April 21, and lasting three weeks.

The medals will be the size of the present silver half dollar and will have on one side a reproduction of the Treasury Building in Washington, and on the other the certification that the owner has taken part in the Victory Liberty Loan campaign. Space is left for engraving on each medal the name of the recipient.

LAST BIG LOAN IN FIVE-YEAR NOTES

Secretary Glass Calls for Widest Distribution by Intensive Campaign in Victory Liberty Drive from April 21-May 10.

The Liberty Loan organization of New England, following the instructions of Carter Glass, Secretary of the Treasury, is completing arrangements and strengthening lines in every city and town in the six states for the Victory Liberty Loan which opens Monday, April 21 and ends May 10.

Secretary Glass announces that this will be the last loan campaign undertaken by the Government and that the same kind of intensive campaign for the widest possible distribution is the aim and need of the Government.

The Secretary says: "The new issue will be one of short term notes running not over five years, which will serve the interests of the United States at this time better than by the issuance of longer term bonds which would have to bear the limited rate of interest of 4%." The exact interest rate will be made known April 10.

The notes will be, as were the Liberty Loan bonds, a direct promise to pay of the United States and will have interest coupons attached covering the entire life of the note. Secretary Glass expects the engraved notes will be ready for delivery April 21.

He says: "I am led to adopt the plan issuing short term notes rather than long-term bonds mainly because I believe a short term issue will maintain a price at about par after the campaign is over, more readily than would a longer term issue."

"The Treasury Department will carry on the same intensive campaign distribution as heretofore. It will be unfortunate if the people fail to take these notes, placing the burden of subscription on the banks. The business of the country looks to the banks for credit to carry on its operations, and if that credit is absorbed largely by buying Government securities, there will be many limitations in supplying credit for business purposes."

"I therefore ask the American people to give their support again to the Government that this loan may be made an overwhelming success by the widest possible distribution."

YANKS IN ACTION IN VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN FILM.

The greatest war film ever produced "The Price of Peace," is to be distributed throughout the United States in aid of the Victory Liberty Loan. In this great film will be shown every activity of the U. S. army and navy in the war, including 3,000 feet of the hardest fighting by the Yanks.

The five reels of 5,000 feet will be shown as a feature of special Liberty Loan mass meetings and it is planned that no admission charge will be made.

LARGEST BUDGET

to Stringillo, and notice of the death of Col. Kingsbury, former City Clerk. Petitions of Phillips Byfield, T. Wallace Travis and James W. French for auctioneer licenses and DeLoeff for an auto truck license were granted. Petition was also received from the Metropolitan Boston Motor Trans. Co. for permission to operate 10 auto hackney carriages.

Petitions of Thos. F. Eddy for transfer of Common Victualer license, and of C. Gordon McMullin for a private garage on Hillside road were granted, while requests for a sewer in Mill street and for widening of Walnut street, Newtonville, were referred.

These jurors were drawn, George J. Hugo, Lincoln park, Frederick L. Trowbridge, Hollis street, James K. Hemphill, Boylston street, E. Everett Bird, Chester street.

On recommendation of committee petitions of the Crystal Lake Ice Co. to keep gasoline on Norwood avenue, of the Saxony Worst Co. to keep 200,000 gallons Fuel oil on Bridge street, and of Herbert Swanson to sell gasoline at 1174 Beacon street were granted.

Orders were passed for $250 for legislative work on account of Greater Boston bills and for $500 for completion of sewer on Centre street.

Oswald J. McCourt was confirmed as Overseer of the Poor for one year. Aldermen Forknall, Whidden and Blake were named as a committee to represent the board at the funeral of Col. Kingsbury.

There was a long discussion over the recommendation of the Finance committee that $25,000 be appropriated for school repairs required by the District police. Alderman Kendrick wanted this amount placed at $50,000 in order that the whole work might be done the present year, instead of half this year and half next year as contemplated by the Finance committee. He believed the work was needed to protect the school children and that it was unfair to discriminate in favor of certain schools. Alderman Whidden emphasized the unnecessary requirements for smoke screens and strongly favored taking the statutory appeal on this matter. City Solicitor Bishop was called on and told the board that such an appeal would come from the Mayor. Alderman Angier said that the Fire Hazard Commission said our schools were safe but he had come to the opinion that if an appeal was taken the commission, which would hear the case, would not accept the responsibility of saying that the State Police were wrong on this matter. Mr. Kendrick had his $50,000 order withdrawn while a vote was taken on the desirability of taking an appeal, and which was defeated by a vote of 9 to 10. Later this vote was reconsidered and the Mayor was unanimously requested to take steps for an appeal while the $25,000 order was passed with but one negative vote, from Alderman Hollis.

There was another long discussion over an order introduced by Alderman Blake requesting the preparation of a new ordinance co-ordinating the Planning board with the Engineering Department with authority to pay salaries to the Planning Board members. Alderman Forknall thought this matter ought to come from the Public Works committee and after wasting some time in discussion, Alderman Goodwin settled it for the time being by entering a charter objection to its passage. The board adjourned at 10.45.

purported to have come from a friend "Over There" inquiring about his friends in Newtonville. Shouts of laughter greeted the local hits. Mrs. Wakefield, whose tender feelings were much hurt by being addressed as "Jo" instead of "Josephine," after much coaxing was persuaded to sing "At the Old Millinery Ball." This song did with much fervor and dramatic power. All of the singers received elaborate and appropriate flowers or other tributes to their skill, the quartette, for example, received pieces of watermelon.

The ladies on the end kept the interlocutor busy with their jokes. Some of the best were that of the lawyer who told his friend that he should have had his appendix taken out in his wife's name to avoid expense, and that of the Prodigal Son, who must have returned on a slippery night for the Bible says "he fell on his neck." The reason for Mr. Boyden's regularity at church was said to have been because "he liked to see one man keep fifty women quiet for an hour."

Between the acts, there was a clever auctioneering of the posters, which were represented as products of Egyptian Archaeology, of Roman triumphs and of famous Italian artists.

These readily sold for $2.00 and more apiece. The "Olio" consisted of a "Dance of the Daisies" arranged by Miss Pierce and charmingly executed by Martha Wilison. Plantation Melodies by Miss Jenkins were played with a rare appreciation of their emotional qualities. "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles" was a very tuneful song effectively sung by Miss Leete, who made a pretty picture in her white dress and black hat. The Bubble Dance by Miss Pierce, which accompanied it was charmingly light and airy, fittingly carrying out the thought of the singer.

OLDEST BOWLING LEAGUE

The Newton Bowling League, which has just closed a very successful season, is the oldest in New England, and had an unusual history of success. It has always promoted bottle pin bowling, but usually has held a supplementary Boston pin tournament, which those who prefer small pin rolling. This year the start of the big pin tournament had been delayed on account of the influenza epidemic, so the small pin tournament was given up. The League has held matches each season since 1903 and there has always been a waiting list of clubs desirous of entering.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

On Friday, March 14th, the Waban Girl Scouts of Troop 4, gave an entertainment in the Neighborhood Club House, Waban, for the benefit of the "Fatherless Children of France."

The speakers were Mrs. James Storow, Commissioner of Massachusetts, who spoke on "The Meaning and Value of Girl Scouts," and Miss Caroline Freeman, the local director of Newton. Following the speaking, there was an open meeting at which a tenderfoot, 9 second class, and 3 first class scouts were invested. The girls also gave demonstrations of signalling and first aid work. A dramatization of the "Song of Old Man Kankaroo," one of Kipling's "Just So Stories" followed. Those who took part were Emily Piser, Lois Burnham, Nellie Gerard, Olive Smith, and Nancy Kimball. In the Greek Chorus were Mary Sheehan, Margaret Troy, Barbara Brown, and Katherine Chandler. Then came a two-act play "The Land of Night." The cast was as follows: Princess of Night, Elizabeth Burnham; her attendants, Helen Andrews, Gladys Kellaway, Helen Kenny, Frances St. John, Harriet Bond, Phyllis Cotton, Princes of Dawn, Dorothy Frost, attendants, Olive Smith, Mary Sheehan, Jeannette Batz, Nancy Kimball, Hilda Piser, and Katherine Chandler. Others in the cast were Charlotte Arnold, Esma Brown, Helen Winchester, and Edith Lamont. Candy and ice cream were sold and the troop cleared nearly $150.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The results of State Boys' Day were satisfactory. Sixty boys were represented on the four teams. They made over 850 calls, bringing in a little over $400. When the money was counted it was found that there were 12 checks, 205 bills, and $55 coins.

The winning team was the one captained by Mr. F. E. Doubleday. His twelve boys brought in $130.78. The highest boy was Raymond Woolston, who brought in $32.55; the highest boy on Mr. O'Brien's team was Thomas Noonan, who brought in $23.71; the highest boy on Mr. Webster's team was Carleton Church, who brought in $26.75; and on Mr. Carling's team, Carter Flinn, who secured $16.35. Half of the total amount raised goes to the local work for boys; 25 per cent to State Boys' work; 15 per cent to work for the boys of North America; and 10 per cent for work for the boys of China.

Saturday evening the physical department members enjoyed a good singing with orchestra accompaniment. Mr. Warren Varley at the piano, Mr. Doubleday with that tenor banjo, and "Cutie" Cunningham blowing the horn, surely can make music.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. John F. Scully, superintendent of schools at Brockton, spoke on "Education and the War" at the regular teachers meeting Tuesday afternoon in the assembly hall. Mr. Scully was a former master in the Newton High School.

There has come to the American Red Cross from Europe an appeal such as was never made before by the people of so many nations to the people of one nation. From France, from Belgium, from Serbia, from Czechoslovakia, from Macedonia, from Montenegro, from Italy, from Greece, from Poland and from Armenia comes the appeal from thousands who are without clothing or the material with which to make clothes. They do not ask for money for if they had money there is no clothing for them to buy, no material for making clothes to buy. The war has stripped their lands bare of clothes and materials. There is only one way to clothe them and that is to send them clothes. You can help them at no cost to yourself by sending them the clothes with which you are through. Your old clothing may be made invaluable by sending it to these people of Europe who have come out of the great war victorious but practically naked. So grave is the emergency, so serious the need that the American Red Cross asks every American family to contribute something. Ships have been assigned to carry the contributed clothing to Europe. When it reaches there Mr. Hoover will provide the means of distributing it quickly.

The collection of clothing is to be made throughout the Nation beginning with Monday, March 24. The Newton Chapter of the Red Cross asks the people of Newton to give generously, to get together at once the garments and articles they are willing to give. It asks the people of Newton to help put Europe on its feet, to help clothe the naked, to carry on and complete the work in which so many Newton men and boys had a glorious part before the days of fighting were ended with victory.

How the Collection Will Be Made

Newton has been divided into districts with a group of canvassers, and a captain for each district. Every home in Newton will be visited by a canvasser who will leave a Red Cross pamphlet explaining the collection and the need for it. The canvasser will tell the householder on what day of next week the house to house collection in the district will be made and will ask that before that day the clothing and other articles to be given be made ready. For the convenience of those who may wish to contribute either before or after the day of collection in their district Collection Stations will be opened in the different parts of Newton as follows:

NEWTON—Eliot Church

NEWTONVILLE—Newton Club

WEST NEWTON—Unitarian Church

AUBURNDAL—Congregational Church

WABAN—Union Church

NEWTON HIGHLANDS—Hyde School

NEWTON CENTRE—Red Cross House, opposite Baptist Church

NEWTON UPPER FALLS—86 High St.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS—Methodist Church

OAK HILL—130 Dudley Road

CHESTNUT HILL—Chestnut Hill Club, Middlesex

Articles taken to any one of the above Collecting Stations will be received gratefully.

The Central Collecting Station, to which all articles will be taken from the District Stations, is to be in what was during the war the Mess Hall on the High School grounds in Newtonville. This building is now the property of Mr. Louis Boudrop who has contributed the use of it to the Newton Red Cross to show his appreciation of the work the Red Cross did during the war. This Central Station IS NOT for the reception of individual contributions.

The great demand for tickets for the lecture to be given by Mr. John Kendrick Bangs on Sunday, March 23, at 3.30 P.M. has made it necessary to secure a larger auditorium. The lecture will be given, therefore, in the West Newton Unitarian Church (near Players' Hall). Tickets issued for Players' Hall are of course good for the Church. Ticket holders are urged to kindly see that their tickets are used or to return them to the nearest Red Cross Branch.

EDITORIAL

Colonel Isaac F. Kingsbury, whose death it is our sad duty to record this week, was for fifty years a prominent figure in the life of this community. He was one of the leaders in the formation of the Newton Company in the Civil War and rendered four years of valiant service in the field. He was subsequently active in town affairs, and served for some years as one of the selectmen, and this was later rounded out by nearly twenty-seven years' service as City Clerk, and where his influence in city affairs was marked.

During a cordial friendship of nearly thirty-five years, the editor had the rare privilege, in his younger days, of a close and intimate daily association with Colonel Kingsbury for a period of over fifteen years. Such relationship reveals the heart and soul of a man, and the impressions of those early days have only been deepened and strengthened by the years which have passed. Colonel Kingsbury was always a Christian, always a gentleman. While he was firm and steadfast in his own ideas of the fundamentals of life, he was broad minded and tolerant of the rights and opinions of others. Always courteous, always sympathetic, he performed his daily duties with the constant endeavor to do the kindest thing in the kindest way. His happy disposition and genial personality made association with him a constant delight. An ardent patriot, he was loyal to the core and he carried that same spirit of loyalty into every relation of life.

He has completed a long and useful life and has left behind him the fragrant memories of many kindly thoughts and deeds which will be highly cherished by those who knew him.

We are glad to note that the aldermen have requested the Mayor, in authorizing certain repairs in the school buildings, to take steps to appeal from the order of the district police requiring smoke screens. Our school buildings at the present time, with some minor repairs, are in the judgment of experts practically safe from fire, and it is pointed out that the addition of smoke screens will not add any further safety but may be retarding the exit of pupils, become a positive danger. The proposed appeal to a commission appointed by the courts will settle this matter, and is well worth while.

33 FRANKLIN STREET, corner Hawley, BOSTON

The attempt to co-ordinate, which really means to subordinate, the Planning Board and the Engineering departments ought not to succeed. Either the present Planning Board should be given adequate funds to do the work for which it was created, or the whole proposition should be abandoned. The members of the Planning Board have had a thankless task during the past few years, as their recommendations have been almost wholly ignored and their requests for appropriations have, with one exception, been turned down. The Planning Board should work on lines entirely different from the present every-day routine of the City Engineer. They should prepare for the future as the Legislature intended, and should be given proper means to do their own work, in their own way.

Friends of the school teachers who are in favor of the payment of higher salaries will be glad to learn that the budget adopted this week by the aldermen carries an item which will allow $40,000 for increases for the school year beginning next September. This increase, however, is based on the present so-called merit system, and should not be confused with the fight the Teachers' Association is now making to have school salaries based on a different schedule.

Taxpayers will be interested in the budget just adopted by the city government, for it carries with it, on the basis of 1918 valuations, an increase in the tax rate of about $3.00.

The appeal of the Red Cross for old clothing to be sent across the water should meet with the heartiest kind of response from this city. Do it now!

FURNITURE GREATLY NEEDED

The "Newton Circle" has rented a house in Newton Upper Falls to be used jointly with the Welfare Bureau in the important welfare work. The Newton Circle works largely for children, many of them court cases, and it is in part as a temporary home for some of these that the house will be used.

Such a place has been needed in Newton for a long time and its acquisition marks another step forward towards better social conditions.

There are 4 bedrooms to be furnished. The articles most needed are single beds and mattresses, pillows and blankets, chairs, stands and bureaus.

Will anyone able to contribute kindly communicate with.

SCHOOL NOTES

Stearns School

Through the courtesy of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston, the eighth grade pupils visited the company's power plant at South Boston last Friday afternoon. This was the fifth trip of a series to different industrial plants about Boston.

A team composed of members of the All-Stearns Club defeated in the school hall, the Y. M. C. A. Working Boys' Club team at basketball last Thursday evening. Score 21 to 19. The visiting team led in the score until the last few minutes.

We have nearly five hundred-fifty children in the Stearns School, more than in any other elementary school in the city. The building is so crowded that our building assistant takes her classes out in the corridors.

The Stearns School has classes on Monday evening for the Girl Scouts, Cooking Class and Mothers' Club. On Tuesday there are classes in dress-making and millinery. On Thursday evening the Boys' Club, Cooking Class, Dressmaking and Millinery Classes meet. There are about 14 in each class.

Clafin School

The 6th, 7th, and 8th grades of the Clafin School held a meeting March 7th to consider home gardens, canning, etc. Mr. Carr, the principal, and Mr. Swett, head of the garden work in Newton spoke. Mr. Trask formerly of Springfield, told of his work there. He ended by stating that all clubs would be organized to help the work along. All pupils interested are to meet in the Clafin School hall, March 21 at 3 P. M.

On Tuesday, Miss Sanders, Mr. MacDonald's assistant during the summer, visited the school. She came to interest the pupils of the 6th, 7th and 8th grades in the United States School Garden Army.

A lecture was held in the Clafin School hall, March 18th. The subject was "The World War." It was illustrated by lantern slides. The 6th, 7th and 8th grades were present. The lecture was very interesting, and held the attention of the classes for two hours.

The record of the Clafin School per capita for the sale of Thrift stamps during 1918 was among the highest in the state, and we hope to pull through in 1919 with a similar record. The Clafin School has come to the front in everything that has been asked of it. It has now been proposed that we adopt a French orphan. We are saving our pennies and nickels for this.

On Thursday, March 13, James Stevenson accidentally fell from the chute at the Clafin School, and broke his wrist, but he is able to be in school though his arm is in a sling.

The Clafin print room has completed the printing of "The Horace Mann Speller," a book compiled by the teachers of the Horace Mann district. The boys of the 7th and 8th grades printed the book under the supervision of Mr. Alger.

Peirce School

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross is conducting classes in Newton grammar schools in "Home Nursing and Care of the Sick." Fifteen pupils are registered in a class at the Peirce School. They meet on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

The Junior Red Cross Campaign ending February 21, 1919, was very successful. The small amount of money lacking to complete the quota, was made up by girls in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades by sewing.

Every Friday afternoon an assembly is held in the hall. There the report and other weekly announcements are made. The school orchestra, composed of pupils in the different grades, plays at these assemblies. There are eight violins and one piano, but the school hopes to add to it soon.

Friday, March 7, 1919, Mr. Robert P. Trask spoke to the children of the Peirce School in the Warren Memorial Hall. He told us that there are going to be four clubs. The activities will include canning, gardening, poultry raising and pig raising. Mr. Swett and Mr. Trask will supervise the different clubs. There is a difference between the club work and the United States School Garden Army. The former is for children with a fourth of an acre garden or more. The U. S. S. G. A. takes care of children with gardens smaller than the one just mentioned.

On March 17th another assembly was held to give clearer information on the subject. Mr. Swett told us about prizes to be awarded for the best work in the clubs. The prize for the best work in the county, is a week's trip to Amherst Agricultural College with all expenses paid. The prize for the best work in the city of Newton, is a two-day trip like the above. We were given cards to sign to indicate the name of the club we want to join.

ALLEN SCHOOL NOTES

In the last game of basketball of the season played against Manchester N. H., the Allen School won 72-23. Arrangements are now being made for the dance which closes the winter schedule, on Wednesday, March 26. Elaborate gymnasium equipment has recently been put into the school, and under Lieut. Cunningham all boys are to be enrolled.

There are at present 115 boys in the school. This is the best enrollment, which the school has had in the 70 years of its existence.

MT. IDA NOTES

Last night the students of Mt. Ida gave a very successful gymnasium exhibition under the direction of Miss Gretchen Bilings. The exercises included dumb bells, wand exercises, Indian clubs and marching. The dancing was especially noteworthy. In addition to the aesthetic dances, there was a Russian dance, and a Court dance of the period of Louis 16th and Marie Antoinette.

ATTENTION is especially called to the adv. of FRANK A. LOCKE, the tuner

DEATH OF A. A. SAVAGE

Prominent in Fire Department for Many Years

The death took place quite suddenly at his home on Brooks avenue early this morning of Mr. Albert A. Savage, office manager of the Nonantum Coal Company. Mr. Savage had been able to go to his work yesterday, though a few days ago he had complained of a slight illness. He was 72 years of age, and spent his early life in Charlestown. He had lived in Newtonville for 40 years, where he for many years was engaged in the grocery business. He had been in the coal business for some 15 years.

Mr. Savage was a member of the Common Council in 1894, and was very active in the fire department for a great many years. He was captain of the Newtonville Truck for many years and at the time of his death was treasurer and secretary of the Fireman's Relief Association. He was a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons. Mr. Savage's long residence in Newtonville had given him many friends there. Funeral arrangements are not yet made.

He leaves his widow, whose maiden name was Cornelia M. Ferris, and who was from Charlestown, and two children, Mr. Harry W. Savage of Wells, Maine, and Mrs. Alfred Stegelman of Watertown.

LIEUT. CARTER HAS CROSS

Lieut. Eliot A. Carter, formerly of West Newton, son of Mr. James Richard Carter of the firm of Carter, Rice & Co., has received the Distinguished Service Cross for bravery in action in the fighting at the Bois de St. Remy, September 12, 1918. This was a part of the St. Mihiel push. Lieutenant Carter was commended for advancing against greatly superior numbers and, though painfully wounded, he declined evacuation until his objective had been attained. His unit captured or killed 60 Germans, and he and another soldier captured seven who came out of a dugout.

Lieutenant Carter has seen hard service in the war. His wound received at that time was not serious, but he was gassed a few days before the armistice. He is now well and is with his regiment, which is the 103d infantry, at St. Gervaise en Belin Sarthe, France. Lieutenant Carter attended Newton High School and was graduated from Phillips Andover Academy and Yale College, and was the manager of Carter, Rice & Co.'s factory at Manchester, N. H. He served on the Mexican border with Troop B of the Second Massachusetts Cavalry. He attended all the Plattsburgh camps, and was commissioned as a second lieutenant, afterward being promoted to first lieutenant.

WILLIAM HICKOX, JR.

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Mr. William Hickox, Jr., at the home of his mother Mrs. William Hickox of Jennison street, Newtonville. Rev. Mr. Hunt of the Christian Science Church officiated, and the body was cremated at Forest Hills. The six brothers of Mr. Hickox were pall bearers.

He died Saturday at Toledo, O., where he had been sick for some weeks with typhoid, though it had been thought he was recovering. Mr. Hickox was 33 years old, was born in Newton, was a Harvard graduate, class of 1908, and was captain of the Harvard golf team, also a prominent member of the Algonquin golf club of West Newton. Mr. Hickox was for some years connected with the Cole Automobile Company, but later went to Toledo as assistant executive for Mr. Jackson of the Willys-Overland Company. With the experience he previously had as eastern sales manager for the Cole Motor Company, and as one of the executives of the Willys-Overland, he had a very promising business career ahead of him. He was a member of the Harvard Club, of the Toledo Club and of the Inverness Country Club of Toledo, O. He married Miss Mary B. Smith of Dorchester, Mass., who survives him. There are two children.

RECEPTION TO MR. FEWKES

Garden City Encampment of Odd Fellows is to give a reception next Monday night for Mr. Charles W. Fewkes, who has been elected as grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Massachusetts. He has been an Odd Fellow for 21 years, having joined Home City Lodge of Newton Highlands. He is a past chief patriarch of Garden City Encampment, and has held the subordinate offices in the grand encampment. He is a native of Ipswich, has lived at Newton Highlands for 30 years, and is employed in the freight department at Boston of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. As this is the first time that a member of Garden City Encampment has been given this honor, some celebration is expected, but Mr. Fewkes has not yet been able to get any details of what they are going to do to him. The celebration takes place at Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville.

The board of grand officers, with Past Grand Sire Pinkerton of Worcester, Grand Master Walker of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, and Mayor Childs, will be present at the reception to Mr. Fewkes. Supper will be served at 6:30 P.M., followed by a reception at 8 o'clock, and an entertainment will then be given. The committee in charge consists of Chief Patriarch L. M. Lupien, chairman, F. E. Perkins, P. C. P., treasurer, Charles F. Dow, P. C. P., secretary, Hiram W. Forbes, A. L. McDougall.

Mr. Fewkes fell on the walk a few weeks ago and broke his leg, and is just getting out after that accident.

DR. ROEDER SPEAKS

In spite of unfavorable weather, a good audience assembled Monday evening at the Church of the New Jerusalem to listen to a lecture by Rev. Dr. Adolph Roeder of Orange, N. J., on "The New Immortality."

Dr. Roeder is president of the New Jersey Civic Federation. The lecture was delivered under the auspices of the Lecture Bureau of the New Church in co-operation with the "Rally to the Church" movement. The lecture was preceded by a very pleasant musical program. Rev. John Goddard introduced the speaker. Dr. Roeder showed how the war had revealed the weakness of the material philosophy. He also felt that the other extreme of pure spiritualism as represented by Hindoo philosophy was equally only a half truth. He went on to show how any reasonable conception must include both material and spiritual truth. At 9:15 the lecture was followed by a short organ recital. Dr. Roeder replied to questions in a satisfactory manner. The third and final lecture of this course will be given by Rev. Julian K. Smyth of New York Monday evening, March 24.

T. A. DALY AT CATHOLIC CLUB

"Neighborly Nights" have been featured at the Newton Catholic Club during the winter and have been most successful. The next gathering in the series will occur Monday, March 31st, and will consist of an evening of music and humor.

Mr. Thomas Augustine Daly, the post-humorous of Philadelphia, will give his highly interesting lecture, "The Laughing Muse." Mr. Daly is best known by his Italian dialect verses, but he is equally a master of other dialects and with his serious verse has won a high place in American letters. This is Mr. Daly's first appearance in Newton and it is expected the capacity of the Club hall will be taxed to accommodate all who wish to hear him. The musical program, both vocal and instrumental will be furnished by a quintet of talented musicians from Providence, directed by Mr. Leonard Smith.

WANT VIEWS ON VACCINATION

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic. This morning's paper states that Representative Leland Powers conducted the case for the anti-vaccinationists at a hearing on the petition for the repeal of the compulsory vaccination law.

As one who voted for Mr. Powers, I would like to ask him for a public statement of his views concerning vaccination.

EDWARD MELLUS, M. D. Newton, Mass. March 20, 1919.

EXCESS QUOTA

Mrs. Arthur Howland of West Newton, in charge of the Y. W. C. A. campaign which closed Feb. 21, has a most gratifying report to make. She says that whereas the City of Newton was asked for $5000 as its quota, the city has responded by subscribing $7,955.10. In addition, there have been seven life memberships of $25 each. Mrs. Howland wishes to thank the people of Newton for this generous response, and in particular, those to whom this has meant real sacrifice.

JOSEPH WALKER SPEAKS

Big Turnout for Newton Board of Trade with Address on League of Nations

There was a large turnout for the March meeting of the Newton Board of Trade held Tuesday evening at Odd Fellows hall, Newtonville, with 100 present. Supper was served by Paxton, and the president, Mr. John H. Gordon, presided. Hon. Joseph Walker was the speaker, and gave an able address on the question of the League of Nations.

Mr. Walker expressed himself strongly in favor of the organization of such a league. He believes that it strengthens the Monroe Doctrine rather than weakens it. He felt that the world is so closely knit together by common interests at the present time that some such organization is absolutely necessary. Replying to the objection felt to entangling alliances, he felt that the United States by entering the war had already contracted such alliances. Our soldiers already are serving with allied armies and are obeying the orders of French generals. At the close of his address, the speaker urged the meeting to ask questions very frankly, and many were asked. In reply to the question whether he felt that the constitution of the league already drawn up was an ideal basis for such an organization, he replied that like many other things it was an exceptionally good start, but is capable of being improved upon.

The committee on employment for returning soldiers and sailors, consisting of Messrs. H. W. Orr, J. B. Jannison, Alfred MacDonald, and Harold Moore, and the committee on the reception to returning soldiers and sailors, Messrs. Henry W. Crowell, and John H. Gordon, also made reports of progress.

RUMMAGE SALE

The committee in charge of the All-Newton Rummage Sale, of which Mrs. H. O. Marcy, Jr., is chairman, has been busy all the week receiving and arranging the many donations of furniture, clothing, etc., which have already come in from the various parts of Newton.

The four stores to be used for the Sale are beginning to present a very attractive appearance.

A special feature is to be made of hats, and the committee is very grateful to C. Lathrop Higgins, Maurice, the Boston Millinery Co. and others for up-to-date hats and millinery supplies, as well as to Mrs. Wiggins and two or three of her trimmers, who have donated their services for one or two evenings for re-modelling some of the hats which have been sent in.

A variety of delicious candy andainty food will be found in the Food Shop.

Loyson's Home for Convalescent Soldiers in Paris." A box luncheon will follow, and sewing and campers and dresses for the emergency needs of the Newton Welfare Bureau.

—Rev. Julian C. Jaynes gave the second of his informal talks on the fundamental things of the Unitarian Faith in the parish house of the Unitarian Church in West Newton, last Tuesday evening. The subject was "The World and the Supreme Spirit," an elucidation of the first point in the Unitarian Faith: "The Fatherhood of God." The subject for the next talk on Tuesday, March 26, will be "Humanity and Jesus Christ."

—The great demand for tickets for the lecture to be given by Mr. John Kendrick Bangs on Sunday, March 23, at 3:30 P. M. has made it necessary to secure a larger auditorium. The lecture will be given therefore in the West Newton Unitarian Church (near Players Hall). Tickets issued for Players Hall are of course good for the church. Ticket holders are urged to kindly see that their tickets are used or to return them to the nearest Red Cross Branch. Adv.

—Mrs. Celia Wellman, Assistant Probation Officer, spoke at the W. C. T. U. Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. Lisle, Perkins street, West Newton. She told of the work of a probation officer, and of how the authority which she represented was of much assistance in this work. The court and the Newton circle are to open a home on May 1st near the Twombly House for the benefit of children, who need care temporarily. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

—The West Newton Branch of the American Red Cross will hold all-day meetings at the rooms of the Congregational Church on Wednesday of each week. These meetings are merely a continuation of those held for the past three years by the Soldiers' Aid and it is earnestly hoped that those who have worked so faithfully will continue their interest in the work of making clothing or knitted articles for the refugees, or in other work along these lines, the need for which is of such vital importance at the present time. The sewing will stop each afternoon at four when tea will be served and a social half hour enjoyed by all. Come and help to make this reconstruction work as great a success in West Newton as has been the war work.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The pamphlet just issued by the publicity committee of the Newton Teachers' Association should be read thoughtfully by all citizens of Newton. The facts which it gives regarding salaries and cost of living are enough to set even the careless to thinking. That our teachers are not receiving a living wage comes as a surprise, no, as a shock, to those who have not been thinking along these lines. Everyone, of course, realizes the increased cost of living, yet how many have considered what it means to these faithful servants of the people of Newton. The teaching profession has had little of inducement for young people in recent years has been known in a general way, also that the colleges have taken pains to interest girls, in particular, in professions other than teaching. But that there is really a shortage of teachers and that Newton offers no inducements to them are facts that thoughtful people should consider and remedy. This, of course, means increase in taxes, but upon what other one thing does the prosperity of Newton depend more than upon the efficiency of those who are training our future citizens?

"A Newton teacher," the report says, "is expected to be well informed, alert, broadly educated, suitably dressed, socially intelligent, enthusiastic in her profession, with a background of successful teaching experience. . . . This standard is high in Newton. The community is intelligent, it knows what is good; it is critical because it knows, and it rightly demands teachers of character, culture and education. Such teachers can be secured and held only when unhampered by financial strain."

Newton schools have held an enviable reputation for many years. Are they going to retain it?

Local Happenings

The West Newton Women's Educational club met at the Lincoln Baptist church on Friday last when the club was kindly given the use of very fine stereopticon. The speaker, Mr. John Adams Lowe, Supervisor of War Library Work for this State, told a most interesting story of his experiences in this line. The accompanying pictures showed more plainly than words what difficulties and problems he has encountered in the work and how successful it has been in so many ways in helping the men both on this side and across the water.

The chairman, Mrs. Ellen F. Reed, contributed an original song entitled, "My Boy has gone to the War," which was very appropriate. It was effectively sung by Mrs. G. M. Holmes. This thoroughly enjoyable program was followed by a social tea.

A large number of the members of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club met at the home of Mrs. F. C. Snow on Saturday afternoon to read and discuss the last two acts of "Much Ado About Nothing." Miss Alberta J. Crombie was in charge of the quiz.

The Charity Whist held by the Auburndale Woman's Club at Woodland Park Saturday evening, March 15, was a huge success. The hall was filled and a little over one hundred dollars cleared. This satisfactory sum will be used to establish a philanthropic fund for the club. Those ladies who gave prizes to add to the enjoyment of the evening were: Mrs. Charles A. Brown, Mrs. Mabel Eager, Mrs. George E. Farrington, Mrs. J. Arthur Furbish, Mrs. Robert P. Gilman, Miss Margaret Haskell, Mrs. Edward Legge, Mrs. H. H. Longfellow, Mrs. H. W. Nash, Miss Louise Peloubet, Mrs. G. M. Stearns, and Mrs. J. W. Weinberg. The committee who made the affair one of profit as well as pleasure consisted of Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, president of the club, Mrs. Henry S. Dawson, Mrs. Edward J. Frost, Mrs. E. Arthur Robinson, and Mrs. Walter S. Wells. They were ably assisted by Mrs. T. F. Burbank, Mrs. H. L. Goodman, Mrs. Ernest L. Johnson, Mrs. Henry F. Kever, Miss P. D. Lane, Mrs. John B. Shaw, Mrs. W. J. Spaulding, and Mrs. E. J. Winslow, as well as by Miss Huston, Mrs. McDonald, and Miss Wood, three teachers of the Woodland Park School. Other workers outside of the club whose assistance was invaluable were Mr. Edward J. Frost, Mr. E. Arthur Robinson, and Mr. W. J. Spaulding.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands met with Mrs. S. Arthur Thompson of Walnut street on March 17. Mrs. C. S. Luitwieler reviewed Dorothy Canfield's book, "Homes Fires in France," and Mrs. G. A. Salmon was in charge of current events.

Mrs. William T. Logan was in charge of the study at the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon held at Dr. Carone's home. Current Poetry was the subject.

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club held a most successful meeting at the Auditorium Theatre on Monday evening. Already there are about 80 charter members. The following were appointed delegates to the Newton Federation, which the club has voted to join: Mrs. Charles Mills to the Executive committee, to the Education committee, Miss Ethel Proctor; Social committee, Miss Emily Fanning; Civics and Social Service committee, Mrs. Earl Smith.

The evening's program included the singing of Schubert's Serenade by Mrs. C. H. Leighton and an address on "The Spirit and Standard of Womanhood in a State," by Mrs. H. J. Gurney, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Auburndale Review Club met on Tuesday, March 18, at the home of Mrs. Arthur C. Farley, 251 Central street. Mrs. George P. Knapp, in charge of the program told of the six-day trip she took from Constantinople over the Black Sea to Trebizond, thence a journey on horseback lasting seven days to Bitlis, where she went as a bride with her husband to do missionary work.

One learned of many strange Turkish customs: for instance, that bread is baked only about four times a year, a barrel of flour being used at a time by each household; and that the common way for a woman to mount a horse is to step on the back of a man as he stoops on his hands and feet.

Mrs. Knapp showed a beautiful Turkish rug made by the girls in the Orphanage in Harpoot, where she lived for some years.

Miss Gertrude Erhart sang twice during the morning, Mrs. Freeman accompanying.

At the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon Miss Julia A. Orvis gave the usual lecture on current events. Tea was served by the Executive Board at the close. Tickets for the annual luncheon, April 15, were on sale and will be again at the next meeting, April 1, which will be the last chance to secure them.

On Wednesday morning at the meeting of the Social Science Club, the resignation of Mrs. John H. Chase, corresponding secretary, was received with great regret. Mrs. W. F. Hollings will fill the office for the rest of the year. "America" was sung with fine spirit. Mrs. Edmund I. Leeds presented the pamphlet issued by the Newton teachers and pointed out some of the significant facts contained in it concerning their salaries and living expenses. Miss Jessie M. Fisher reported the meeting of the Newton Federation Executive Board.

The program of the morning was a paper on "The Labor Problem" by Mr. F. O. Stanley, in which he set forth the conclusions at which he has arrived in the matter after careful study of the reports of the Board of Labor and expressed the opinion that this organization, which is supposed to represent democracy, is in reality most autocratic.

Newton Federation

Mr. George M. Angier, president of the Newton Welfare Bureau, in a brief address before the Executive Board of the Newton Federation on Monday morning at the New Church parlors, told of the plan to unite the 25 to 40 organizations doing some sort of welfare work by means of a council in order to prevent duplication and overlapping of effort. He spoke of the ultimate need of some sort of a community welfare house in which could be united these various agencies. Referring to the form which a memorial to our soldiers should take, Mr. Angier felt that a building of some use to the community would be fitting. He also spoke of the coming Red Cross Drive for clothing, and said Newton should provide a carload, at least.

The investigations of the Civics and Social Service committee as reported by the chairman, Mrs. C. D. Kepner, show that the need for dental work among those above school age is great, but that it cannot be secured through the Dental clinic unless it becomes a municipal clinic rather than a school clinic as it is at the present time. The request for names, etc., to amuse the children while waiting their turn at the clinic, has been met. More helpers at Twombly House on Wednesday afternoons are needed. The West Newton Music School and its needs were commended to the generosity of the clubs. Furnishings for the bedrooms of the house at Upper Falls, which the Newton Circle is helping finance, were solicited. This house is to be a temporary boarding place for women and children who come under the attention of the probation officer. The committee also reported concerning welfare work at the Saco-Lowell Mills at Upper Falls and at the Saxony Mills at Nonantum.

Mrs. B. E. Taylor, chairman of the Legislative committee spoke of several bills before the present session and recommended the endorsement of the three bills endorsed by the State Federation. This action was taken.

Mrs. G. W. St. Amant of the Education committee stated that the Girl's Health League work is to be taken up in connection with the playground work the coming summer and asked that the Federation supply the outfit necessary, which includes a doll of baby size, which can be washed as a baby should be, and two sets of clothing. The board voted that the outfit be purchased. She stated that the Americanization work is going on satisfactorily.

The question was asked as to how many clubs support scholarships and if they are open to freshmen. The report concerning teachers' salaries in Newton was presented and an urgent appeal made that we support our teachers.

The following resolutions were passed:

Resolved that the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs representing 4300 women of the city, appreciates the efficient services of the teachers in the Newton schools. That such service may be continued possible and in justice to the teachers themselves, the Federation is heartily in favor of a substantial increase in the salaries of the teaching force of Newton.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

1921 was the first Sophomore Class in the Technical High School to organize for the election of officers. The granting of this privilege by the principal was justified by the good judgment the class has displayed in the selection of its nominating committee. In the ballots they submitted and in the results of the election held in the library Wednesday morning, March 19, the following were elected: Frank Quinn, president; Florence Smith, vice-president; Marion Van Wormer, secretary; Archibald MacGregor, treasurer.

Of the seventeen students on the honor-list for the second quarter 8 are Seniors and 7 are Freshmen. They are: Clara, Gertrude Bradley, Irene, Cowley, Florence Orrill, Marjorie, Edward Fisher, Louis LaCroix, George Sanderson, Juniors: Marie Sullivan, "Sophomores: Clarke Weymouth, Freshmen: Kathleen Batchelor, Theresa Caruso, Della Gravel, Eleanor Hammersley, Elizabeth Peterson, Dorothy Weir, Mildred Wiggin.

The plans for the Senior Play to be given the latter part of April by the class of 1919, are now under way. The cast for "Bachelor Hall" is composed of Ruth Stickney, Alice McLaughlin, Sadie Goldrick, Mary Whalen, Alice Hooley, Hazel Lupien, Elmer Priest, Fred Manter, Edward Fisher, Thomas Forristall, Edward Harrington, and Leslie McNeil.

During the past week a great many pupils have enjoyed the privilege of attending the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, to which they were invited by Mr. Blake. Their eagerness to avail themselves of this opportunity to learn practical citizenship was demonstrated by their large attendance, and their interested attention to all that was said on during the session. The school heartily thanks and appreciates the kindness of Mr. Blake and the Board of Aldermen.

A thrifty campaign, started by some of the Sophomore boys in Mr. Thurbur's room, who made one minute "stamp speeches" just before school for a week, is well under way throughout the school. It is hoped that the efforts of the leaders will result in greater thrift during the whole year.

The returns from the Declaration this year are the largest in the history of the school. $332.40 was collected from the sale of tickets for the three performances. The net amount earned was $277.15.

BIG GAME AT Y. M. C. A.

Brockton is represented by a fast team and a record crowd is looked for as they always have been a good drawing card. Between the halves the Y. M. C. A. 2nd team will play the Somerville Y. M. C. A. team, and a close game is looked for.

MAKES SUPREME SACRIFICE

On March 12 word was received from the War Department of the death in a German hospital of Sergt. Eugene Joseph Daley of Chestnut Hill.

Sergeant Daley was drafted from Newton on October 4, 1917, and after training a few weeks at Camp Devens, was transferred to the all America 82d Division, Camp Gordon, Georgia, where he remained until the middle of April.

About April 15 he left Camp Gordon for New York, and spent the 19th and 20th of April at home on furlough. On returning to camp, the division at once sailed overseas, arriving at Liverpool on April 28, where they remained for several weeks.

On reaching France the division immediately went into active service and saw much hard fighting and suffered heavily. It relieved the 26th division north of Verdun on October 1.

On October 9 they were ordered to advance and take the city of St. Juvin. This they did without artillery support, and the losses at this encounter were terrific, during which Sergeant Daley was severely wounded on October 11, and later captured by the enemy and died in a German hospital on October 19.

Sergeant Daley was well known and very popular in Newton. He graduated from the Newton High School with honors in 1916, and for two years attended Northeastern College. At the time of entering the service was employed by the First National Bank of Boston.

Although he was captured by the Germans on October 11, his family was not notified of this until January 2, and while he died on October 19, this information was not received until five months later, when word was finally obtained through the insistent and untiring efforts of Mr. John F. Cronan of Chestnut Hill.

THE ART OF BEING WELL

Stirring Address by Rev. Mr. Park at the Second Church

The first of the series of popular evening services opened last Sunday evening in spite of weather conditions with a large attendance. Mr. Park spoke upon the Art of Being Well. He said that the number of books published on this subject grew in number at an alarming proportion daily. The author of each was sure he or she had the truth. Each system claimed for itself superiority and finality. To follow it was the way to health.

As one studied these books one found that practically all of them had the truth, for there was no subject that had so many different legitimate approaches as the subject of health. You could approach through chewing, or breathing, or thinking or imagining or believing. Each way led many to health.

The speaker in his turn laid down three great principles on the subject.

First. Health is not so much a matter of the individual as it is of the community. As long as there is one dark pocket left in the world where human beings live in filth and disease, so long will the health of none be secure. The best insurance for your own health is to care for the health of others. If we let Russia become a sink of smallpox and famine and pestilence, we shall have to pay by the lives of our dearest for the offence which gained its strength against human life in these months of war and disease.

The human race could kill out several of its most deadly diseases today if it only would clean up its back alleys, and care for the health of all as it does for the selected few. We ought also to kill off a number of our hopeless growlers who always are telling folks about the troubles in their own insides. Health is the most infectious thing in the world, but you cannot produce healthy children from a home where father and mother are issuing bulletins as to the state of their health at every mealtime, and burdening the atmosphere of the home with anxious and morbid fears. If you want to be well, create a healthy atmosphere to live in.

Second. Health is not so much a matter of drugs as of habits. The speaker said that in his boyhood he had somehow connected health with the large spoonfuls of sulphur and molasses he had looked forward to every spring. Hosts of people connect health with drugs. Health is far rather a matter of habits. Our bodies are only loaned to us. We cannot beat our own hearts or look after our breathing when we are asleep. God is the only being who has a body. We are loaned a body which He takes care of if we will only let Him do so. If we let Him point the right amount of air, food, exercise, and discipline, God does all the rest. Get children of the present generation to form correct habits of living and the drugstore of the future will be wholly in the cosmetics and soft drink business. But the man who does not have a pair of blue overalls hanging in his shed will always have a box of pills in his bureau drawer. Health is a matter of habits.

Third. Health is not so much a matter of body as of mind. All disease begins in the mind. A merry heart is the best medicine. The most valuable medical prescription ever given in the history of preventative medicine is Psalm 103. Repeat it every morning when you awake, and germs will have little chance with you. The last point the speaker made was that when all is said and done we must not get too engrossed in our own health. There are bigger things in life than health. Hosts of sainted mothers and aunts have deliberately chosen ill-health rather than health for the love they had for children, and to give the children a chance, they have overworked and undernourished themselves into disease. Because duty is a bigger thing than health.

The speaker closed by quoting the "Soldiers Prayer" by "Woodbine Willy."

It ain't as I 'opes 'E'll keep me safe While the other blokes goes down. It ain't as I wants to leave this world And wear an 'ero's crown.

It ain't for that as I says my prayers When I goes to the attack. But I pray that whatever comes my way I may never turn me back.

I leaves the matter o' life and death To the Father who knows what's best, And I prays that I still may play the man Whether I turns east or west. To Blighly and my gal Sue. I'd sooner be there, wif the gold in 'er 'air.

And the skies be'ind all blue. But still I pray I may do my bit. And then, if I must turn west, I'll be unashamed when my name is named.

And I'll find a soldier's rest. Next Sunday evening Mr. Park's subject is to be "How to Get on."

BOTTLED HEALTH

Nobscot Spring Water is so pure and soft that to drink it is like drinking bottled health.

Analysis shows residue on evaporation only 3.8 parts per 100,000, and rating for hardness only 1.7 parts per 100,000. That's why Nobscot means better digestion, less rheumatism, for those who drink it.

SEND YOUR OLD CLOTHES TO EUROPE

Help the Red Cross to Clothe the People of the War Devastated Countries 3000 Miles Away

Next week is the week when every family in the United States is to be asked to contribute at least one used article of clothing or one pair of used shoes to the destitute of Europe.

The destitution of certain parts of Europe is almost unbelievable. It is not the poor alone who are without clothing, the well-to-do are also without it. There is no clothing to be had, no materials with which to make it can be bought for any price. Paper clothing was used in some places, but now there is no paper. The people are like people cast ashore on a desert island, the one with nothing at all is as well off as the one cast ashore with a belt of gold still secure about the waist. Money is of no use, so far as securing clothes is concerned, because there are no clothes to be bought at any price. Mr. Hoover in his cable to the American Red Cross said the lack of clothing is so great that the sufferings of the people are indescribable and that the mortality that must follow unless clothing is provided will double the horrors of the war. To such a plea America is certain to make a generous answer, and the Red Cross throughout the nation in taking charge of the collection of used clothing is acting only as the agents of the American people.

In Newton the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross has appointed a special committee to collect clothing, and this committee asks every family in Newton to contribute something. The used coat, suit, jacket, or dress that has hung unused for month after month in your closet, or the clothes which are packed away in moth-balls and camphor in the attic, against the chance that sometime they may prove of use, are the ones to get out and make ready to give through the Red Cross to the shivering and naked of Europe. And do not forget in getting them out that garments of all sizes are of value as whole populations are suffering, men, women and children. What is sent should be clean but need not be whole, for to those who have nothing a patched garment is something to be received with rejoicing.

It may be that you yourself could not get to the scene of the war, but now is the chance to send your clothes there and in a few weeks some man, woman, or child, now without adequate clothing, may be walking about in happiness and comfort in the clothes you once wore, and thanking the good Lord for the kindness of the generous people of Newton.

COPELY THEATRE—For its first production in Boston, the Henry Jewett Players will appear at the Copley Repertory Theatre next week in Sir Arthur Pinero's drama, "The Thunderbolt." It has had only a very few performances in this country, although it is one of the best known of that master dramatist's work for the stage, and it should be of no little interest among our local public that likes to see the most-talked-about plays of the present epoch. "The Thunderbolt" is remarkable for the powerful story it tells of modern social life and is one of Pinero's most ingeniously constructed and interesting plays, and it will be cordially welcomed by Boston audiences.

SCHOOL TEACHERS' SALARIES

Newtonville, Mass.,
March 15, 1919.
To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:
I am in receipt of a pamphlet entitled "Facts Regarding Newton Public Schools," which has been issued by the Publicity Committee of the Newton Teachers' Association.

I desire to express a few thoughts in connection with the matter of efficiency as related to teaching standards and proper compensation of teachers.

First, it seems to me that the teachers of Newton have performed a public service in calling the attention of the citizens to a subject of such vital importance. Secondly, I think the dignified manner in which they have handled the subject bespeaks their high character as well as the high estimation in which they hold their calling.

This should lead to a very grave consideration of their requests as coming from a source whose importance and influence are such large factors in our community life. The principals and teachers are not in any sense ordinary public servants, and I think great attention should be attached to their requests as a body particularly when it is evident they would never have appealed for increased salary as a body except as an absolute necessity.

We are all familiar with the low purchasing power of the dollar on present standards, so there is no doubt of the need of increase in present salaries to meet the increased cost of living. The slight increase given in this school term over a year ago has been wholly inadequate to keep company with the increased living cost. The teachers are in an unenviable position with regard to securing increased salaries as compared with some in other public positions whose calling or profession is not as dignified. Various unions exist in other callings whose members "go on strike" and successfully enforce, not their requests, but demands, to the great detriment of public comfort while the strike lasts. Imagine if you can our children coming home about 9.30 A.M. and calmly stating "There is no school today—the teachers are on strike for more pay."

But these teachers are not of the striking kind. They have in a dignified and thorough manner stated their case to the Newton public as to convince all of the necessity of some action being taken to relieve their financial situation for the balance of the present school term.

I have always believed that as a profession school teachers and principals were underpaid, and if that was true an ordinary citizen there is most certainly a greater disparity now between their great value and what they actually receive. I believe their reasonable request for a 12 per cent. increase should be favorably acted upon at once, quite regardless of present teachers' contracts.

We have been justly proud of the work of the principals and teachers and the standing of Newton as regards its schools. Let us not be so proud that we fail to see how to advance to higher levels. Certainly a teaching force which is worried about financial matters and the difficulty of making both ends meet cannot give undivided attention to their scholars and teaching problems. There is no worry equal to a financial worry as a means of lowering one's efficiency.

I hope that every citizen will express himself to his local school board member and alderman so that it will appear beyond doubt that the majority wish the teachers' requests granted. It seems to me a matter of simple elementary justice and one we are all interested in as a business matter as a means of assuring a full return on the money already expended on educational matters.

If it is true that Newton spends a larger proportional amount for its educational program than the majority of cities it is evident that we have set a high standard in quality and number of subjects and methods of teaching which standard cannot be realized if inadequate salaries are paid to principals and teachers.

It is to be hoped immediate relief will be given for the balance of this school term. It is very evident there is some need of it.

War Council on Retirement Announces Cash and Supplies Contributed.

WORKERS WILL "CARRY ON."

Five Big Societies in World Wide Plan.
H. P. Davison Heads International American Red Cross Commission.
Dr. Livingston Farrand Permanent Leader of Peace Organization.

Washington.—(Special.)—Henry P. Davison as chairman issues the following statement on behalf of the War Council of the American Red Cross:

"To the American People:

"The War Council of the American Red Cross appointed by President Wilson on May 10, 1917, to carry on the work of the American Red Cross during the war, at their request and by vote of the Central Committee, ceased at midnight, February 28.

"Immediately the armistice was signed the War Council instituted studies to determine when the strictly war work of the organization would have been sufficiently matured to enable the direction of affairs to be resumed by the permanent staff. Henry P. Davison, being in Paris when the armistice was signed, summoned a conference there of the heads of all the Red Cross Commissions in Europe to canvass the situation. After considering all the factors it was concluded to make the transition on March 1. The very fortunate choice of Dr. Livingston Farrand as the new chairman of the Central Committee, and thereby the permanent chief executive of the Red Cross, makes possible the consummation of this plan under the most favorable conditions.

Accounts Audited by War Department.

"Detailed reports to Congress and a complete audit of its accounts by the War Department will constitute the final record of Red Cross activity during the war. Although it has been the rule to make public all expenditures when authorized and to give detailed information relative to all work undertaken, the War Council in turning over its responsibilities to Dr. Farrand and his associates desire to give a brief resume of Red Cross war time activities to the American people, to whom the Red Cross belongs, and whose generous contributions have made possible all that has been accomplished.

"During the past nearly twenty months the American people have given in cash and supplies to the American Red Cross more than $400,000,000. No value can be placed upon the contributions of service which have been given without stint and oftentimes at great sacrifice by millions of our people.

"The effort of the American Red Cross in this war has constituted by far the largest voluntary gifts of money, of hand and heart, ever contributed purely for the relief of human suffering. Through the Red Cross the heart and spirit of the whole American people have been mobilized to take care of our own, to relieve the misery incident to the war, and also to reveal to the world the supreme ideals of our national life.

"Everyone who has had any part in this war effort of the Red Cross is entitled to congratulate himself. No thanks from anyone could be equal in value to the self satisfaction everyone should feel for the part taken. Fully 8,000,000 American women have exerted themselves in Red Cross service.

Has Over 17,000,000 Adult Members.

"When we entered the war the American Red Cross had about 500,000 members. Today, as the result of the recent Christmas membership Roll Call, there are upwards of 17,000,000 full paid members outside of the members of the Junior Red Cross, numbering perhaps 9,000,000 school children additional.

"The chief effort of the Red Cross during the war has been to care for our men in service and to aid our army and navy wherever the Red Cross may be called on to assist. As to this phase of the work Surgeon General Ireland of the U. S. Army recently said: "The Red Cross has been an enterprise as vast as the war itself. From the beginning it has done those things which the Army Medical Corps wanted done, but could not do itself."

"The Red Cross endeavor in France has naturally been upon an exceptionally large scale where service has been rendered to the American Army and to the French Army and the French people as well, the latter particularly during the trying period when the Allied World was waiting for the American Army to arise in force and power. Hospital emergency service for our army in France has greatly diminished, but the Red Cross is still being called upon for service upon a large scale in the great base hospitals, where thousands of American sick and wounded are still receiving attention. At these hospitals the Red Cross supplies huts and facilities for the amusement and recreation of the men as they become convalescent. Our Army of Occupation in Germany was followed with Medical units prepared to render the same emergency aid and supply service which was the primary business of the Red Cross during hostilities. The Army Canteen service along the lines of travel has actually increased since the armistice.

"As for work among the French people, now that hostilities have ceased, the French themselves naturally prefer as far as possible to provide for their own. It has accordingly been determined that the guiding principle of Red Cross policy in France henceforth shall be to have punctilious regard to its every responsibility, but to direct its efforts primarily to assisting French relief societies. The liberated and devastated regions of France have been divided by the government into small districts, each officially assigned to a designated French relief organization.

"The American Red Cross work in France was initiated by a commission of eighteen men who landed on French shores June 13, 1917. Since then some 9,000 persons have been upon the rolls in France, of whom 7,000 were actively engaged when the armistice was signed. An indication of the present scale of the work will be obtained from the fact that the services of 6,000 persons are still required.

"Our American Expeditionary Force having largely evacuated England, the activities of the Red Cross Commission there are naturally upon a diminishing scale period. Active operations are still in progress in Archangel and Siberia.

"The work in Italy has been almost entirely on behalf of the civilian population of that country. In the critical hours of Italy's struggle the American people, through their Red Cross, sent a practical message of sympathy and relief, for which the government and people of Italy have never ceased to express their gratitude.

Supplies and Personnel to Near East.

"The occasion for such concentration of effort in Italy, England, Belgium and even in France having naturally and normally diminished, it has been possible to divert supplies and personnel in large measure to the aid of those people in the Near East who have hitherto been inaccessible to outside assistance, but whose sufferings have been upon an appalling scale.

"The needs of these peoples are so vast that government alone can meet them, but the American Red Cross is making an effort to relieve immediately the more acute distress.

"An extensive group of American workers has been dispatched to carry vitally needed supplies, and to work this winter in the various Balkan countries. In order to co-ordinate their activities, a Balkan commission has been established, with headquarters at Rome, Italy, from which point alone all the Balkan centers can be reached promptly.

"A commission has just reached Poland with doctors and nurses, medical supplies, and food for sick children and invalids. An American Red Cross Commission has also been appointed to aid in relieving the suffering of Russian prisoners still confined in German prison camps.

"An important commission is still working in Palestine. Through the war special co-operation has been given to the Armenian and Syrian Relief Commission, which was the only agency able to carry relief in the interior of Turkish dominions.

Red Cross Will Continue.

"Red Cross effort is thus far flung. It will continue to be so. But the movement represented by this work has likewise assumed an intimate place in the daily life of our people at home. The army of workers which has been recruited and trained during the war must not be demobilized. All our experience in the war shows clearly that there is an unlimited field for service of the kind which can be performed with peculiar effectiveness by the Red Cross. What its future tasks may be it is yet impossible to forecast. We know that so long as there is an American army in the field the Red Cross will have a special function to perform.

"Nothing could be of greater importance to the American Red Cross than the plans just set in motion by the five great Red Cross societies of the world to develop a program of extended activities in the interest of humanity.

"The conception involves not alone efforts to relieve human suffering, but an attempt to arouse all people to a sense of their responsibility for the welfare of their fellow beings throughout the world. It is a program both ideal and practical. Ideal in that its supreme aim is nothing less than veritable "Peace on earth good will to men," and practical in that it seeks to take means and measures which are actually available and make them effective in meeting without delay the crisis which is daily recurrent in the lives of all peoples.

"For accomplishing its mission in the years of peace which must lie ahead of us the Red Cross will require the ablest possible leadership, and must enjoy the continued support, sympathy, and participation in its work of the whole American people. It is particularly fortunate that such a man as Dr. Livingston Farrand should have been selected as the permanent head of the organization. The unstinted fashion in which all our people gave of themselves throughout the war is the best assurance that our Red Cross will continue to receive that co-operation which will make its work a source of pride and inspiration to every American."

Mr. Davison, as chairman of the International Commission of the American Red Cross, has undertaken to represent the American Red Cross in the preparation of the program for extended Red Cross activities, and will spend the next several months in Europe in consultation with other Red Cross societies for that purpose.

CANNOT LOSE TOAD

Little Amphibian Has Strong 'Homing Instinct.'

Like the Proverbial Cat, He Will Come Back to His Fixed Abode if There Is Any Possibility of His Doing It.

When I was a boy down on Cape Cod, writes a friend of the Companion, I remember my mother scraping the side of a toad with her hoe while working in the garden. The next day mother noticed there was a large scab in the toad's side. It made her nervous to look at it, and she asked me to put the toad in a box and carry it away. I carried the toad a distance of three miles into the woods and dropped him. He was back in our garden the very next day, and although I repeated the performance three times, it hopped back every time. Finally mother said not to bother him, for the scab was healing.

I never gave that a second thought until I happened to be studying under Professor Sharp at Boston university, when, to illustrate a point to the class, he said that toads, like carrier pigeons, possessed the homing instinct; then I thought of the toad that mother had asked me to carry away from our garden at Provincetown, 30 years before.

It happened next morning after Professor Sharp made the remark about the homing instinct of hop-toads that a freight conductor came into the signal tower where I am employed and showed me a hop-toad he had picked up on the lawn at the Saugus station and brought to Boston in his caboose; he said he intended to put the toad in his garden at Somerville to eat the bugs.

I told the conductor about the experience I had with a toad down on Cape Cod and that Professor Sharp had said that toads did really possess the homing instinct. Finally, we decided to tie a small tag to the toad's hind leg with the conductor's name and address written on it; and he was to turn the toad loose in his garden at Somerville that afternoon. When the conductor's train arrived at Saugus the next noon the toad with a tag on which his name was written was hopping round on the lawn at the Saugus station.

In order to prove still further that toads do really possess the homing instinct I took a toad from my garden at Wakefield, ten miles from Boston. Putting the toad in a box, I walked to the Wakefield station and took a train for Boston at half-past ten in the evening. When I arrived in Boston I transferred to the Elevated and rode to Charlestown, and at the corner of Perkins and Haverhill streets, Charlestown, one mile from Boston, near the signal tower where I work, I released the toad. The toad was tagged with my name and address.

As I walked into my driveway in Wakefield at half-past eight the next morning a dusty-looking toad with a small tag tied to his hind leg hopped across the lawn from the direction of the Metropolitan park reservation and placed himself under the sill cock, where the water dripped on him and bathed his dusty back.—Youth's Companion.

Historic Firth of Forth.

The Firth of Forth is, of course, one of the most notable things in all Scotland. From Kluendine, where it officially begins, to that imaginary line just west of the Isle of May, from the East Neuk of Fife to the mouth of the Tyne, in Haddingtonshire, where it officially ends, is a distance of 48 miles; while from shore to shore the expanse of water measures anything from one and a half miles, at Queensferry to seventeen and a half miles off the Isle of May. Within this great expanse of water whole fleets may ride at anchor in perfect safety, and, although little is known of the great scenes which must have taken place in these waters during the last four years, the story of the Firth of Forth during the great war, culminating, as it did the other day, with the surrender there of the German high seas fleet, will be not the least interesting of the many stories which still remain to be written.

The Military Haircut.

"We are all militarists now," said Representative Kirby of Arkansas.

"I was being shaved in a barber shop the other day when a grizzled chap in a captain's uniform came in. He saluted smartly and seated himself in the chair next to my own."

"Hair cut," he said in gruff tones.

"How would you like it cut, sir?" the barber asked.

"The captain, who was baldish, answered, gruffer than ever: "Line up the hairs and number off to the right. Odd numbers each want a half inch off. Dress smartly with bay rum and brillantane. Then dismiss."

Easy Money.

"You have grown rich as a stock promoter."

"Yes," replied the man who wore a diamond scarf pin.

"How did you get into that line of business?"

"I realized early in life that it is human nature for people to count their chickens before they are hatched."

"Well?"

"That makes it easy to sell them phony eggs."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

hospital. One of them said to me, in French, "The war is over for you." Then came running up the aviator who had chased me, and said, "I am sorry I had to shoot you." "Oh, you never hit me," I answered, and he seemed quite astonished.

I was carried to the hospital, put under ether and my leg set, wounds sewed up, and came to myself in a room, alone. Then came the German intelligence officers. To their inquiry about the number of Americans in France, I said there were about five millions. They smiled at that and said they thought I exaggerated.

I was given good care, and taken, after four days, to a hospital in Germany. I could eat little as my teeth were loosened, and my tongue cut. It was almost impossible to sleep, or find any comfortable position in which to lie, for the first few days.

After two weeks I was taken to the hospital at Stuttgart. Here the care was fairly good and the food tolerable. The bread was the worst. There were two bombing raids by English reprisal squadrons. They locked the prisoners in and took the German wounded and themselves to the cellar. The hospital seemed to be a high-school building. We learned that no special damage was done by the first raid, but in the second eleven were killed and a number injured. There were two Italian officers, two French officers, three English, and one American beside myself. The rest of the building was filled with wounded German officers.

About the middle of October, I was well enough to be sent to a prison-camp and went to Landsburg in Bavaria. We were in the court-yard of an old castle. Here I met Capt. James Norman Hall, who has written the articles in the Atlantic Monthly about aviation. We were allowed to buy the German daily papers and learned that things were not going any too well for the Central Powers. The papers were busy explaining their "strategic retreats." At first the Germans had ridiculed the Americans and Wilson, but changed their tune wonderfully as time went on. They became more considerate of American prisoners, too. Finally we learned of the collapse of Bulgaria, then Turkey.

and then Austria. We heard of the revolution in Bavaria, and that the King had abdicated. One day our turnkey came in and cried out, "Kaiser Kaput! Gone to Holland! It is all over!" They all seemed to be very glad that the war was ended, and began to try to get the good will of the officer-prisoners.

We were then taken to Villigen, in the Black Forest. It was an exceedingly cold place, and already, by the middle of November, there was snow on the ground. As the armistice had been signed and we were only waiting release, we were allowed considerable more liberty and were allowed to go out, on own parole, for three hours a day, and go about the neighborhood. We were all anxious to get back to France for Thanksgiving Day, and made a great protest against being kept longer. On the morning of Nov. 26th we were assembled, the prison commandant read us a speech in which we were told to go back and tell our friends that Germany had no hatred for us and that we should have none for the Germans. That there was a new government, and if the old government had been blamed, and perhaps justly, that was all over now. "We hope you will soon be back with your dear ones and will find them all well. Tell them not to harbor any hate for us. Again, farewell!"

We spent two days on the border of Switzerland, and then on Nov. 29th, we went through Switzerland like a triumphal procession. The Red Cross gave us food, clothing and cigarettes. At Berne the streets were crowded with English and Americans; a band was playing; the American Minister and his wife, with the Red Cross officials, gave us a reception; and we had a big dinner. Then on we went to the French border and across it.

I was captured just when things were beginning to break against the Germans, and no doubt that had much influence on the treatment we received. It was much better than I expected. They evidently looked to America to soften their fate at the hands of the English and French.

TO AMERICA

On came the German horde.
That mass of surging gray.
To Paris, Paris, their cry,
Was there none to block the way?

They came in measured tread,
With blood on hands and feet.
Poor France, what could she do,
That awful charge to meet?

Across the expanse of the ocean,
From a nation far away,
Food, ammunition, and soldiers
Had come to save the day.

There twenty miles from Paris,
On the road near Belleau Wood,
They planted down the cannon
And there undaunted stood.

They charged across the open,
Dislodging every Hun.
Courage to France and Belgium,
For that day that war was won.

"Thanks, thanks, America,
You've brought us hope and cheer,
And o'er our troubled land
The bells of peace ring clear."

Kenneth E. Kepner.

THE MOTHERS' REST

Unique Newton Charity Makes Appeal for Friends to Extend Work

The Mothers' Rest was opened and dedicated in the old "Town Farm" at Waban on June 29, 1900, by the Rev. Everett D. Burr, D.D., pastor of the First Baptist Church in Newton, at Newton Centre. Dr. Burr had worked for many years among the unfortunate poor of Boston and when he came to Newton Centre, he inspired the women of his church with his great desire for a home in the country where the mothers and little children of the stifling tenements of Boston could find quiet, pure air and nourishing food without expense.

During the first summer 193 guests, 78 mothers and 115 children, were cared for in Waban. They were invited in parties of 18 women with their children under 5 years of age, and each party remained two weeks. The next year the City of Newton sold the old house and the Mothers' Rest moved to the old Winchester Street house in Newton Highlands, where it was maintained for five years.

On February 19, 1903, a mass meeting of the women of Newton Centre was held to consider organizing an interdenominational association to carry on this charity. A constitution was adopted, officers from the different churches were elected and the Board of Managers was chosen. On May 4, 1903, this organization was incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts with the title of "The Mothers' Rest Association of Newton Centre." The money in the treasury which was turned over to the new corporation, amounting to $815.61, was immediately set aside as the nucleus of a building fund.

The Board of Managers, then as now, was made up of a President, two Vice-Presidents, Secretary, Treasurer and six Directors, who are chairman of the committees on finance, house and grounds, special relief, religious services, visiting and a committee on guests and transportation. The Mothers' Rest was open for fifteen weeks in this year of 1903 and 90 mothers and 97 children were cared for, the expense being less than fifty cents per day for each person. Ten different churches and missions of various denominations were represented.

In 1905, the building fund, which had been steadily increased, was nearly doubled by the generous gift of $5,000.00 from Mr. Frank A. Schirmer of Newton Centre and on the expiration of the lease of the Winchester Street house, the Association was enabled to purchase, the following year, an estate of nine acres of land in Needham Heights containing several buildings and abundance of fruit and shade trees. Gradually these buildings have been repaired and rearranged until the Association has its property in a fairly serviceable condition. The main dwelling house has eleven sleeping rooms, two bathrooms and a diet kitchen. There is also a dormitory building of five sleeping rooms with a large dining room and kitchen; a small cottage used by the matron and servants, and the barn which furnishes a very attractive recreation room, with a large fireplace and wide doors looking through the orchard and up the hill to the deep woods beyond the boundary of the property.

In February, 1907, a Reserve Fund of $1,000 was established and called "The Everett D. Burr Memorial Fund." This was designed to insure the perpetuity of the work.

WILL CARRY ON

Newton Chapter of Red Cross Will Keep Workrooms Open

Red Cross work is to go on. In Newton, the Red Cross workrooms will be continued, and home work will be encouraged. The war work of the Red Cross stopped with the retirement of the War Council on the 1st of March, but the great after-the-war work of rehabilitation and relief of those who have suffered cruelly by the war has only begun.

The Red Cross work from now on will be such as the women will volunteer to do. On the amount of work done by the Red Cross, will depend the comfort and the lives of many women and children in the devastated districts of Europe. It will be for the women to say just how much of their time they will give to the work. Those women who feel they have done their share of work, or that enough has been done for the women and children of Europe, will probably do nothing. Those women whose consciences and hearts stir them to do something will give definite time each week.

In the lecture which Mr. John Kendrick Bangs gave at West Newton, last Sunday, and which he has given in other parts of Newton, he told something of what the sufferings and needs of Europe are. He told of the sufferings and burdens of the young and the old, and of the brave and cheerful manner in which the burdens are being borne and the future faced. He told also of how Christian and humane a thing it is to help make those burdens lighter, and of how beautiful a thing it will be for the women of America to work for the women who have lost husbands, brothers, fathers and sons, who have lived in the hell of war.

GIRL SCOUT DRIVE

Reasons Why Newton Should Support the Splendid Work

Girl Scouts started in Newton two years ago. The first troop was organized in Newtonville in April 1917 with a membership of 50 girls. There are now 350 Girl Scouts in the City. There is a Local Council with Mrs. Frank Day of Newton as Commissioner, Mrs. Addison Burnham, Newton Centre, Deputy Commissioner, Mrs. C. D. Meserve, Newtonville, Secretary and Mrs. F. I. Walsh of West Newton, Treasurer, and Caroline L. Freeman, Local Director.

There are six Troops in the City. They are:

TO WELCOME SOLDIERS

All Newton Celebration Planned For June 17th

There was a large attendance at the first meeting of the general committee to welcome soldiers, held Monday evening at the City Hall, over fifty representative ladies and gentlemen being present. Alderman Harriman presided and there was a general discussion of ways and means to accomplish the best results.

During a recess the following ward committees met and organized as follows:—

Ward 1—Reuben Forknall, chairman, Mrs. Alice Burns, secretary, Harold Moore, treasurer.
Ward 2—Joseph F. Bryant, chairman, Mrs. C. G. McDavitt, secretary, Leland Powers, treasurer.
Ward 3—Herbert M. Cole, chairman, Justin A. McCarthy, secretary, William F. Chase, treasurer.
Ward 4—W. J. Spaulding, chairman, John H. Gordon, secretary and treasurer.
Ward 5—Herbert R. Lane, chairman, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, secretary, Abbott B. Rice, treasurer.
Ward 7—Joseph B. Jamieson, chairman, Miss Edith R. Fisher, secretary, William F. Bacon, treasurer.

The discussion indicated that it was the general sentiment that the All-Newton celebration should be held first and that local, village receptions should be held later. June 17 was favorably mentioned as a good time for the affair, which will undoubtedly include a parade, speaking, out-door sports, a luncheon or banquet, and possibly a speech.

WELCOME HOME FLAG

Unfurled at West Newton in Presence of General Edwards

West Newton did itself proud on Sunday afternoon, when a splendid flag bearing the inscription "Welcome Home, Boys" was unfurled over Washington street in front of the City Hall. The occasion was honored by the presence of General Clarence R. Edwards, the commander of the Department of the Northeast and recently in command of the Yankee Division. Fully three thousand people were attracted by the event, notwithstanding the threatening weather, and enjoyed a program of popular music by the Waltham Watch Factory band, while waiting for the ceremonies to begin.

The General was a half hour late, but received an enthusiastic greeting when he passed through the crowd to the reviewing stand erected in front of the City Hall.

Mayor Childs presented General Edwards to the gathering in a brief speech.

There was some trouble with unfurling the flag, and the General began his remarks while it was being drawn back to the City Hall tower. As the flag reached the tower it unexpectedly unfurled and the distinguished guests standing on the City Hall steps were showered with confetti and small American flags, to the great delight of the many small boys in the crowd.

When he could make himself heard the General gave high praise to the men of the Yankee Division, saying there were none longer in service, in no harder places, none gained more ground and none were more of a factor in winning the war. They would come back, he said, better than you can realize, with a sense of proportion and the poise of grown men. He said that the Division always gave him 60 per cent. more than he expected or believed it was possible for them to do. He was so proud of them that there was no limit of his praise of them. He spoke of the wonderful democracy of the division, the millionaire bunking with the stone mason, and said there was no dollar standard, no caste and but one standard, "manhood," and manhood he claimed would mean everything on earth to the future of America.

Capt. Henry D. Cormerais, the former captain of old Company C, said the Newton boys were all clean, decent, and gallant soldiers. He hoped the old company would be reorganized so that they could still "carry on," and be ready again if necessary.

Alderman McCarthy was the chairman, and spoke as follows in opening the exercises before General Edwards arrived.

We are gathered here today to manifest in a small degree at least our heartfelt appreciation to the 403 West Newton boys who went forth in defence of their beloved country during the great war, and in their honor this Welcome Home flag has been unfurled. Of the total 403, 210 served across the sea, and 193 performed their duty here awaiting the command to go forth and join their comrades on the other side. Fourteen of West Newton's sons laid down their lives for their country, and greater love hath no man than he who lays down his life for his country or his friend. Those who gave their all for the land they loved so well were as follows: Lieut. Richard A. Blodgett, Lieut. Philip W. Davis, Lieut. Elery Peabody, Jr., Lieut. Howard Rogers Clapp, Paul B. Palamontain, John L. Kelly, Earl J. Reinhalter, Ed.

BETTER BREAD!

Bread and rolls are much better if milk is used instead of water. Try this:

Parker House Rolls
2 cups Scalded Milk
2 tbs. Butter
1 tsp. Salt
1 Yeast Cake in
1/4 cup warm water
Dissolve yeast in water, melt butter, combine all ingredients except flour. Add flour gradually beating vigorously until no more can be added, cover and allow to rise until three times original bulk. Roll 1/2 inch thick. Cut, spread half with butter and fold over. Put in buttered tins to rise, placing one inch apart. Bake when light in a hot oven 15 to 20 minutes.

ward E. Carley, Clifford G. McKinnis, Michael J. Devine, Robert A. Dowling, Kenneth R. Lucas, Howard Mitchell and Raymond Bryson.

They made the supreme sacrifice, they died for the Old Flag, that flag which means so much to you and to me, which means so much to us all. How glorious has been its origin, and how glorious its meaning; in all the world there is no other banner that carries such hope, such grandeur of spirit, such soul-inspiring truth, as our dear old American flag; made by liberty, made for liberty, nourished in its spirit, carried in its service, and which typifies the nobility of American manhood and womanhood, and proclaims to the world, the patriotism, the loyalty and the devotion of the citizens of our great Republic.

That flag which first saw the light in the days of the Revolution during that memorable conflict between the "Serapis" and the "Bon Homme Richard" when Paul Jones on the burning deck of a sinking ship lashed his yard arms to those of the enemy and fought hand to hand and man to man until the British colors struck, and then under the very cliffs of Old England, were run up, for the first time, the Stars and Stripes; with a field of blue into which the skillful fingers of Betsy Ross had woven in distinguishable stars, the red stripes typifying the glory, the valor and the self-sacrifice of the men who died that Liberty might live; and the white emblematic of purity and fidelity representing the principles to preserve which those men had sanctified themselves by an immortal self-dedication.

That flag which has never been given to conquest, for never yet have the Stars and Stripes been unfolded in battle but for the cause of justice and right; for the protection of the oppressed; for the enfranchisement of men; for the extension of popular government by aiding weak races struggling for constitutional liberty; for peace with honor, but never for the subjugation of a weaker nation or a sister republic.

And how the benighted of all lands have seen the light of hope, shine out from the stars of its azure blue, and have lifted up their heads with the awakening of a conscious manhood. When else have we read in all the ages of a nation carrying its banner beyond its own frontier and planting it among a strange people, but left it there to remind them of conquest and subjugation.

Herein lies the greatness of our country and our flag, and here fame; that we go forth not to oppress but to uplift; not to wrangle but to counsel; not to destroy, but to uphold.

Alderman Whidden spoke as follows: As we behold with admiration this emblem which has been dedicated to wave with nature's grace its message to our soldiers and sailors the uppermost thought to which we would give expression is the simple one which rises out of a genuine desire to give intimate and personal greeting suitable to the occasion of a great restoration to home.

This emblem bears testimony of this sentiment to those comparatively few who have already arrived.

For them the sentiment of this flag is hallowed by a sympathy which is born of our knowledge of their trying experiences upon the fields of battle. And with still loftier impulse and with most sincere reverence do we remember, in humble acknowledgement, those who have answered the call of duty with their lives.

These shall and must be held ever sacred to our highest praise and honor.

For them and to their memory we tender a sublime and solemn welcome. Fortunately and happily there will arrive among us soon the greater proportion of the men of West Newton who have been serving under their response to the country's call to arms.

They are representatives of the greatest adventure ever undertaken by mortals which is known to mankind. From them we shall learn and we shall be taught.

Perhaps it is of most significance about this flag that it proclaims by its mute appeal to the blessings of reunion that we are ready for this adjustment of a new relation. We have learned as we never knew before how far it is possible to work for others, to give, to be patient and to forego the prosecution of our personal interests.

It has yet to be fully shown how we shall be taught, but if we construe aright the character of these modest heroes who have arrived in advance of the returning host, we shall be taught in any event and by the force of example that at least we may never forget the lessons so richly earned to our advantage, while we were here alone trying as best we could to help those who were winning the war over there.

Other remarks were made by Captain Breen of Co. C, 101st Regiment, Mr. Martin T. Hall of Natick, and Mr. James S. Cannon of Newton.

The program closed with the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the band.

Wednesday the senior class met in the assembly hall. Mr. Adams read a letter inviting the girls of the class who are intending to go to Vassar to be present at the Boston Woman's City Club, Friday afternoon, April 4, at 2.30. It was announced that as the marks stood at present Robert Anderson would be the class valedictorian. There is a chance of someones equaling Anderson's marks however, before the year ends. Miss Hilda Lawrence read a letter from the mother of the child whom the senior class has adopted. The mother is a dressmaker and the child whose name is Roger Potter, is about four years old.

Outdoor baseball practice began last Friday. About twenty-five candidates reported for the outfield alone. Captain Sawyer, Owen and Nagle are veteran pitchers, and Wallace Richmond is the only last year's man on the team.

At the boys' debating club meeting on Monday the debating team, Watson, Groves, and Bacon defeated the affirmative team, Whittinghill, Hunt, and Young on the subject, Resolved, that Labor Unions do not serve the best interests of the laboring man.

GIRL SCOUT DRIVE

March 29-April 5

girls were present at the first meeting and now the troop numbers about eighty.

There should be a troop of Girl Scouts in every Ward of the City and in some of the Wards more than one troop should be organized. Funds are needed to start new troops and to extend the work. The Citizens of Newton are going to have a chance this coming week to help push this movement forward, to help it to grow.

Why does Scouting succeed? Because Girls like it.

Why do girls like it? Because Scouts do woman's jobs cut down to a Girl's size.

The Girl Scout Movement stands for the development of Initiative, Responsibility, and Leadership and it encourages Group Spirit. It emphasizes Home making, and Good Citizenship.

There is something in it for every girl, and every girl in Newton should have the chance of joining a troop.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Newton Highlands Improvement Society was held Tuesday at the Congregational Church. The following officers were chosen: President, J. ### BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Drum and Bugle Corps is making fine progress at their meetings, which are now held at the High School gymnasium every other Wednesday evening at 7.30. At the last meeting over 20 scouts came, but it is hoped that this number can be increased to over 40 before long. The meetings during April will come on the 9th and 23d. All scouts that play either drum or bugle are asked to come. Paste these notices in your hat so you won't forget them.

Camp Committee Meets
The Camp Committee met at the Scout office on Tuesday at 4.30 P. M. Mr. Wm. N. Dudley, and it was decided to hold a District Camp. While no particulars are yet announced, it looks as if the camp would be on Cape Cod, and the cost would not exceed $8 per scout per week. The committee went to the proposed site last Wednesday, and will make a report to the Scoutmasters' meeting next Sunday, March 30, which is to be held at the Newton Club at 3 P. M.

Troop 13 Has Mobilization Call
The Scoutmaster of Troop 13 issued a call last week Thursday at 4.30 P. M. for a special meeting of the troop at his house, the scouts to be present at 7 P. M. the same night.

Every scout showed up on time, and such singing was never heard in all your life, as when those scouts got started on a "song fest." The idea of calling this meeting on such short notice was to see how promptly the boys would respond, and the Scoutmaster was much pleased with the showing they made.

The summer work was planned for, and in order to raise more money for the camp, a candy sale was planned for. This candy will be home made, and will be sold at reasonable prices from house to house.

RUMMAGE SALE

The committee reports that the rummage sale for the benefit of the hospital in France is progressing splendidly. By Monday noon all of the trimmed hats had been sold, and Stearns had promised to send two ladies from their store to trim others. On Saturday, the last day of the sale, the special feature will be the food shop.

petuation of the charity, and has been increased from year to year as a fund which may be used in emergencies.

In 1907 the total expense of maintaining the Mothers' Rest, including some repairs and furnishings, was $1,898.88 and 107 women and 83 children were entertained. The record for the current season (1918) was in point of numbers, the largest in the history of the Rest at Needham Heights—325 women and children were cared for—137 women and 188 children. There was a large waiting list and the committee on guests and transportation was obliged to disappoint at least 50 families who could not be accommodated.

It is not the aim or the desire of the Association to become an institution but to give each guest an idea of a genuine home, full of personal influence and with plenty of well cooked and economically chosen food such as any woman might prepare in her own home.

A trained nurse is always in attendance to care for such mothers as need medical aid and to instruct them in the care and feeding of their little children. Good cheer, health, knowledge and rest in the open air is what the Mothers' Rest desires to give to such women as most deeply need these gifts.

The cost of living has increased to such a tremendous extent in recent years that the task of raising sufficient money to meet the expenses is a heavy burden upon the Finance Committee, as the Association is entirely dependent upon the loyalty and generosity of its members and donors.

It is the aim of this committee to so increase the membership that the income from regular fees shall be sufficient to meet the yearly expenditure. The active membership now consists of women from any part of Newton who pay $2.00 or more yearly, the year running from the third Thursday in October when the annual meeting is held. The associated membership is unlimited as regards sex, place of residence or amount over $2.00 contributed. There are now 463 active and 136 associate members.

With the growth of our own city of Newton, conditions have arisen similar to those of other congested centres, therefore this year the privileges of the Rest are extended to women of Newton who are in need of the aid and comfort for which this charity was established.

In order to carry on this work to a greater extent and to help needy Newton women, we need a large support from all Newton. Annual dues $2.00. Larger gifts earnestly desired. Mrs. W. R. Holt, Treasurer, 15 Rice street, Newton Centre.

DEATH OF HENRY A. MANSFIELD

Mr. Henry Almond Mansfield, a lifelong resident of Newton, died at his home, 67 Walnut street, Newtonville, on Tuesday, March 25. He had been in failing health for some time, his illness assuming in the summer of 1918 the form of valvular heart trouble.

Mr. Mansfield was born on Brighton Hill, October 2, 1842, the son of William Mansfield, who died when his son Henry was little more than a child. His mother was Mary (Rouse) Mansfield, a sister of the first superintendent of the Newton Cemetery. He attended the elementary schools of Newton, but went early to work that he might be of aid to his mother in the care of the family. His first employer was George F. Hyde, a well known nurseryman of his day. Later he entered the florist establishment of Edward Perkins on Walnut street, Newtonville, where his faithful discharge of duty and his interest in customers' needs made him a favorite with people from all parts of Newton. Upon the retirement of Mr. Perkins, Mr. Mansfield took over the business carrying it on successfully till increasing years made it advisable for him to give up active life for a few years of well earned rest. The first winter of his release from business was spent by Mr. Mansfield and his wife in California, and for nine years following they wintered in Florida, finding in both localities much to interest them in the flora and fruits, of these mild climates. The Mansfields were pioneer members of the summer colony at Mearns, Mass., building a cottage there in 1882. Mr. Mansfield served in the 44th Massachusetts Regiment in the Civil War and was an active and faithful member of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R.

In 1868 Mr. Mansfield was married to Miss Amelia Heppenstall, who died in 1873. In December 1874 he married Miss Mabel S. Preston, who survives him.

Funeral services for Mr. Mansfield were held at his late home on Thursday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. George S. Butters of Aburndale, and a delegation from Charles Ward Post, G. A. R. Interment was in the family lot, Newton Cemetery.

EDITORIAL

There should be a cordial support given the suggestion of the general committee appointed to make arrangements for a welcome to our returning soldiers and sailors, that the village celebration should follow and not precede the All-Newton glorification. It is most fitting that the city should take the lead in this matter, and the welcome to their immediate neighbors will be none the less cordial, if it does come a few days later. Arrangements are now under way to hold this city-wide celebration on June 17, when it is hoped the larger proportion of the men will have returned, and which will also allow sufficient time to provide for a fitting observance of the event.

The suggestion that there should be memorial tablets in each village, giving the names of the boys who entered the service from that particular locality is one which should be acted upon by the local committees in each place. There are too many names to have but one tablet erected for the entire city, if, indeed, it would be possible to select an appropriate location for such a memorial. Village tablets will better express the feelings of us all.

NEWTON PUBLIC LIBRARY

No lover of nature can afford to miss the splendid opportunity offered by the Newton Public Library to learn about the History and development of spiders, flies, bugs, hornets, etc. The photographs are so large that they show every part of the tiniest creature's anatomy. Those desirous of protecting their vegetables and flowers this Spring would do well to study the ways of the enemies of the plant world, while the thrifty housewife will be interested in the dragon-fly which in two hours' time is capable of eating at least 40 house flies.

Every child will be interested in the development of bugs, wasps, hornets and butterflies. Teachers of nature work will be glad to bring their classes to the Library for the mutual pleasure and enlightenment of all.

Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson dies on Lecturing Trip in Iowa

Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson of Newton, known all over the world as a leading W. C. T. U. worker, died suddenly yesterday in Des Moines, Iowa, according to word received by her friends here. No details have been received. She had a serious operation in 1915 and her health had failed a little since that time. However she had courage to undertake a long speaking campaign in Iowa on behalf of the million dollar drive for the National W. C. T. U. She had set out to help the Iowa organization to secure $50,000 of that money.

Mrs. Stevenson was the daughter of a Methodist minister, Rev. Martin Lent, and was born 65 years ago at Copake, N. Y. Her mother was Hannah Louisa Lent. She came to Newton at the time of her marriage to Mr. James Stevenson, a former lumber merchant and had lived here since that time.

She had very remarkable gifts as a lecturer and organizer. On the platform she was clear and convincing with a very pleasing manner as a speaker. She was a gifted writer, was the author of a number of poems and of a brief history of the W. C. T. U. organization. She also had very remarkable executive gifts and the work of which she had charge always prospered under her efficient methods.

Mrs. Stevenson was a graduate of Boston University school of theology and was a licensed preacher. She never held a pastorate, but entered W. C. T. U. work some 35 years ago, and had given it her entire interest. Her first work was as corresponding secretary of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U., and later she was made corresponding secretary for the National W. C. T. U., and for some time made her headquarters in Chicago while retaining her residence in Newton. Twenty years ago she returned to become the president of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U., resigning this position last fall. She then became national superintendent of Americanization work.

For many years she was world superintendent of the W. C. T. U. organization in the department of Christian citizenship. She became the world missionary for the organization for a period of two years, when she made a trip to Japan, China, India, Australia, the West Indies, and other lands, for the purpose of stimulating such organization as had been formed in those countries and to establish new branches. She delivered hundreds of lectures describing her work and experiences on this trip, the result of which was greatly to promote the work of the organization all over the world. She had travelled over this country very extensively on her lecturing tours.

Mrs. Stevenson was a member of the Tremont Street Methodist Church of Boston. Her home was on Willard street. She leaves her husband and three stepdaughters, Mrs. Cranwick Monroe, Miss Margaret Stevenson, and Miss Ellen Stevenson. Funeral arrangements are not yet made.

FOUND DEAD

Mr. Hubert G. Seeley was found dead in his shop at 377 A Washington street, late Tuesday night, with the room full of gas. Mr. Seeley, a resident of Newtonville for about twenty years, lives at 495 Watertown street and when he did not return home that evening Mrs. Seeley went to the shop to look for him. It is said that Mr. Seeley, who is 72 years of age, has but little sense of smell and gas has frequently been noticed leaking from the gas stove which he uses in his business as a cobbler. It is thought that in this way he was overcome on Tuesday night.

He is survived by a widow and six sons, Messrs. James A. Seeley, William H. Seeley, George Edgar Seeley and Silas A. Seeley of Newtonville, Mr. Walter J. Seeley of Middletown, N. Y., and Mr. Burton F. Seeley of Boston.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon from his late residence, Rev. Dr. Charles R. Ross of the Methodist Church officiating, and the interment will be in the Newton Cemetery.

LASELL NOTES

Owing to illness, Prof. Prown of Lowell, was unable to speak Thursday as scheduled, but the school was fortunate in being able to secure the services of Adamiski, the well-known opera singer, who gave a very fine concert.

Thursday evening, Mrs. Lucia Mead of Boston, spoke on the Peace Conference.

Last Saturday, Miss Eliza Kendrick Ph.D., head of the Bible Department at Wellesley, spoke on the "Mountain Whites of Kentucky."

Rev. J. Edgar Park of West Newton will be the speaker next Sunday.

ENTHUSIASTIC BOYS' NIGHT

The Central Club of the Central Congregational church had its annual boys' night last evening at the church parlors. The attendance was over 100 and the youngsters were out in full force and contributed much enthusiasm. The president, Mr. H. P. Patey, reminded the company that they were all boys tonight, and a recitation was very prettily given by Miss Philippa Patey. An excellent supper was given under direction of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Edmunds, and seven of the young women. Rev. Dr. Charles Wedder asked the blessing. Mr. Fred Rust led the singing of community war songs, with Mr. Claire Leonard at the piano. Six of the young men gave in pantomime a very amusing playlet called "The Silent Lovers."

The first speaker was Capt. Huntington Hardwick, formerly a noted all-around athlete for Harvard. Capt. Hardwick saw fifteen months of very hard and hazardous service in command of a trench battery, but he spoke with the utmost modesty of his own achievements, and gave a most interesting picture of his experiences. His company was a rather tough proposition including some moonshiners and similar characters from Tennessee, but he won their respect and obedience and became much attached to them.

He took a somewhat different view of the American army from that commonly current. He felt that they were on the way to make the greatest army in the world, and that they no doubt stopped the Germans at Chateau Thierry. But he said that as far as actual accomplishments went, they were the poorest army on the front because of their inexperience. The men were imperfectly trained. The officers would frequently be promoted to be majors and colonels after a very short experience, and they did not understand how to handle large bodies of men. The American people should not feel that they can improvise an army all at once, he said, and have it able to lick the world.

The second speaker was Mr. Frank Palmer Speare, president of Northeastern college, Boston, who spoke on "The Boy Who Arrives." Mr. Speare has 4200 young men studying at his institution, and he told how they are making excellent progress and getting good positions. He expects to have 10,000 students in his school, spoke of the fundamental of success, including a healthy, clean life and thoughts, efficiency, preparation for work, and religion. Mr. Speare is one who has a great gift for interesting both men and boys, with an unusual sense of humor, and one who concentrates much wisdom into a short and incisive speech.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Eight members of Miss Fiske's vocal expression classes gave a programme at the C. C. Burr School, Auburndale, on Wednesday evening, March 19th, at the invitation of Mr. Leighton. They were welcomed by the pupils of the Burr School, who made an appreciative and enthusiastic audience.

The business management of the Senior play has chosen the ushers for "Bachelor Hall." They are: Mildred Crosby, chairman; Eleanor Barry, Josephine Gibbons, Irene Cowley, Kathryn Gibbons, Gladys Holland, Marion McKoon, Gladys Poor, and Mary Sheg.

The second senior debate was held Mar. 14th. The question, "Resolved, That woman suffrage should be adopted in Mass." was supported with fire and eloquence by Dorothy Hill, Marion King and Alice McLaughlin. The negative speakers were Catherine Boughdrick, Ruth Jenkins and Sadie Goldrick. The judges pronounced the debate won by the affirmative side, but a vote of the class upon the issue itself showed that the supporters had not converted the majority of the class. Alice McLaughlin was declared the best speaker of the day, and won the prize.

The seniors' dancing lesson, held Mar. 16th, was a St. Patrick's party. There were lucky dances, and flag dances featuring the event. Edith Patchett sang, and Miss Farrington was presented with a gift from the Seniors as a token of their appreciation of her work.

Of the designs for a Memorial Tablet which were exhibited in the lower corridor, Gladys Armstrong's was chosen as second best. The tablet will be made here in school, it was necessary to pick out a simpler one. The design made by Roxey Dunham was chosen as second best. The tablet will be made as soon as we are sure that the list of casualties is complete.

Mr. P. Isola of Waban has given the school an enameling kiln with about six pounds of French enamels. The kiln will be set up in the Applied Arts room. It will be greatly appreciated by those pupils who wish to do enameling on metal, as they have never had the instruments to carry out this process very successfully.

Clafin School

On Friday, March 21, Mr. R. M. Swett had a meeting in the Clafin School Hall, for the purpose of organizing Agricultural, Poultry, Pig and Canning clubs under his leadership.

Cards were given out to be filled by the children designating the club which they wished to join.

On Wednesday afternoon the second meeting was held by Mr. Trask and Mr. Swett.

The constitution was read and accepted with one amendment. A nominating committee was appointed to bring to the next meeting nominations for the officers of the club.

On Wednesday afternoon, March 19, a photographer from Boston took the pictures of the children of the eight grades. On Monday the pictures came, and for the most part are very satisfactory.

The boys of the 7th and 8th grades have organized their ball teams for play at recess. The 8th grade is in the lead up to date.

At a class meeting on Wednesday the Clafin, 8th grade chose Philip Evans as baseball captain.

Stearns School

Both boys and girls have begun practicing for the sports in the annual spring grammar school meet.

The season promises to open rapidly for the baseball fans. Already several games of scrub have been played where the boys could find ground free from mud.

The Allstearns Club are expecting to stage their annual spring play, the date to be announced later. The plans are in care of Hughie Boyd, who was very recently discharged as paymaster from the Navy.

The Allstearns Club team defeated the Y. M. C. A. Employed Boys' Team in basketball for the second time last Thursday evening. Some very spectacular shots were made by the home team which undoubtedly won them the game. The visitors played a more skillful game, but were unfortunate in their ability to raise their own score. The score was 17-14.

A Girls' Scout Troop consisting of eight members has been organized at the Stearns School under the direction of Miss Caroline Freeman. The Captain Miss Dorothy Seaward and seven Lieutenants have been chosen from the Girls' Club. The Troop has already met six times and has learned the scout laws, salutes, slogan, girls' scouts promise and the tying of knots.

The girls of the troop meet regularly Tuesday and Thursday evenings for dressmaking and millinery. These classes are made possible by the State Extension work. The Sewing Class is directed by Miss Welch, a draper at Chandler's in Boston. Miss Concanon, a milliner in Cambridge, conducts the millinery class.

The children of the Stearns School are supporting a French child named Bernadette Robert of Clino on Baden, Morbihan, France. Her father was killed and left the wife with five small children. The Stearns pupils have already collected more than one half of the amount necessary to support the child for one year.

Chesley White of Rowe street, age 13, was thrown from his bicycle Sunday on colliding with an automobile driven by a Weston man. The boy was taken home. His injuries are not serious, but the wheel was considerably damaged.

Mayor Childs was the guest of the Lawrence (Men's) Club, Church of the Messiah at their March meeting on Tuesday evening. He delivered an interesting address on the problems of reconstruction in Newton and the part the church has to play in solving them.

The Knights of King Arthur cleared $80 in a play this month. The money is to be used to welcome the 75 of their members who are returning from service. Dana Kendall, one of the members has won the "Croix de Guerre."

At the weekly meeting of the Messiah Women's Guild Mr. Y. L. Tang of Shanghai, China, made an address on that country. At the meeting of the Guild next Monday afternoon Mr. K. M. Matsuno of Sendai, Japan, will speak of his native country. Mr. Tang and Mr. Matsuno are Graduate students at Harvard University.

The musical and reception at Lasell Seminary was a charming society affair. Mr. Adamsky, who was the soloist for the evening, has appeared before the Women's Clubs in Newton a number of times most acceptably. His accompanist played entirely without notes, an unusual accomplishment, and the instrument and voice seemed as one.

The April meeting of the Auburndale Mothers' Association will be held in the chapel of the Congregational Church on Wednesday, April 2, at 3 P. M. The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Arthur G. Wellman and she will tell us about the work of the Newton Woman Probation Officer. Every mother should be interested in the work that is being done in our own city for juveniles and the conditions which here exist. Come and hear what Mrs. Wellman has to tell us.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Considerable interest is already being manifested in the coming Council meeting of the General Federation, which will be held at Asheville, North Carolina, the last week of May. The Massachusetts State Federation has arranged an itinerary and invited all the other New England State Federations to join with them on the journey.
Connecticut and Rhode Island have already accepted. Reservations have been made at the Grove Park Hotel.
Up to date about twenty-five have expressed their intention of attending.The Federation season is fast drawing to a close, but there still remain several important conferences, which will be of more than usual interest.
The only appointments next week apply to members of the Executive Board and of State committees, but the following week at Sharon on April 8th
there will be a Presidents' Conference, details of which will be given in a later issue, at Reading on the 11th an Education conference and on the same day at Fitchburg a Civics conference, which will occupy both morning and afternoon. This last is primarily for the 7th and 8th districts, but any interested club women will be welcome.

eral committees and election of officers cial hour will follow. Tea will be served.

Local Happenings

Last Monday was President's Day at the Waban Woman's Club, and there were many club members and visiting officers present. At the business meeting a strong plea was made for contributions toward the support of the Junior League for Social Service at the Newton Hospital.After a group of three songs by Mrs.
Gifford LeClear, Mrs. Arnold introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Heloise E. Hersey, who gave an interpretation of Russia at the present time. When Miss Hersey visited Russia five years before the war the thing which impressed her most was the enormous influence which the Russian Church has upon its people. This fact, and the contented ignorance of the Russian people are the basis of a population of one hundred and thirty million, only 4 per cent are educated.
They are indifferent to education.
There are 110 nationalities and 140 dialects. The Russian Jew is the dangerous element. There are great possibilities in Russia, for the natural resources of the country are enormous. For information regarding theRussian situation, Miss Hersey referred to Thomas Whittemore's article in the National Geographic Magazine for November, and to an article in the March Atlantic. Particular mention was made of two recent novels which show Russian life, "The Dark Forest" and "The Secret City" by Hugh Walpole. It is difficult to know just what should be done about sending help to Russia, but Miss Hersey is certain that those people who are sent to Russia must know something of the language, know the people, and know something about the Church and its liturgy. They must not try to make the Russian people into Americans.
Tea was served during the social hour which followed.The next meeting of the club will be a service day at the Union Church Vestry, with a luncheon, and the annual meeting, on Monday, April 7.At the meeting of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands held in the Congregational Church Tuesday afternoon it was voted to establish a philanthropic fund which shall be in addition to the regular dues. A resolution of appreciation of the work of the Newton teachers and favoring an increase of their salaries was passed.Mrs. W. C. Crawford lectured upon current events.Discussion of the line of work for next year occupied most of the time of the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning. It was decided to return to the former plan of devoting one meeting a month to business and reports of committees, another to current events under a competent leader and the remaining ones to the study of some related topic with papers for the most part by members. Of the topics presented "Americanization" appeared to be the most popular and the final vote will be taken at the meeting next week.The annual meeting will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club on April 30.A Forestry bill, House Bill 51, was presented by the conservation committee and received the endorsement of the club.The Conservation Class held its last meeting for the season at the Newton Library on Thursday morning.The Fortnightly Club of Newton Centre held a meeting on the afternoon of March 26th, at the home of Mrs. Solomon Young, and took the form of a lecture given by Mrs. G. A.
Chase. Her subject was "China—Foreign and Domestic Wares," and proved instructive as well as interesting, as she described many different kinds of pottery, and where made.
Tea was then served.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Miss Marion Keep, Editor

The need for saving food still exists, even though the war is over.
Where is the food coming from that Europe needs to make up her shortage?Are we thinking of those parts of the world which, if not given assistance will be on the verge of starvation or actually starve when we plan for Sunday dinner?Since there are now no national restrictions, it is the duty of every housewife to plan her menu's economically.
The menu's given below have been planned with this idea in mind.

Dunbar, Miss Amy Hubbard, Capt. W. I. Fearing, and Messrs. E. Irving Locke, W. V. M. Fawcett and Carlton Brown.

BOYS IN STATE MEET

Several Newton High school boys took part in the second annual Massachusetts High school athletic carnival held at the East Armory, Boston, Saturday.

Newton was tied for sixth place with six points in the senior competition. Fourteen teams competed.

One of the sensations of the day occurred when Capt. "Steve" Palmer of Newton won the final of the 600 yard run in the remarkable time of 1 minute 23 seconds. This was 4-2-5 better than the mark made by Jake Driscoll of High School of Commerce in 1918.

In the 60 yard senior dash, H. S. Moore won the fifth trial heat. W. Bell of Newton was second in one trial heat of the 300 yard run, Clarence McDavitt of Newton was third in the fifth heat of the 220 yard race of the intermediate division. In the same division A. Beane of Newton won the third heat of the 600 yard run.

SHUBERT THEATRE—The musical comedy treat of the season is confidently expected in the announced engagement of Elliot, Comstock & Gest's newest success, "Oh, Look!" at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, next week, beginning next Monday, March 31. For this show, which has captivated New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia, has for its stars that delightful trio of youthful entertainers—the fascinating Dolly Sisters and the amusing Harry Fox, who are surrounded by the entire original cast of metropolitan favorites and the chorus of singing and dancing beauties characteristic of the New York theatre music shows. The visits of the Dolly Sisters and Harry Fox away from Broadway are so frequent that their coming is always in the nature of an event, and in "Oh, Look!" they are rediscovered as musical comedy stars of the first magnitude.

GOVERNOR AT DEDICATION

Tablets Dedicated at First Church for Men of Four Wars

A notable service was held at the First Church in Newton, at Newton Centre, Sunday evening, with Gov. Calvin Coolidge as one of the speakers, for the four honor roll tablets just erected in the vestibule of that church. These are for members of the parish who served in four American wars, the Revolutionary war, the Civil war, the Spanish-American war, and the European war. There are 76 names on the tablet of the recent war. These tablets are of oak, and are intended as temporary memorials. It is hoped eventually to place bronze tablets for this purpose. The late Col. Kingsbury subscribed $200 for such a tablet for the Civil War veterans.

The church was crowded for this event. The church orchestra, which included about 25 members largely of the parish, furnished music, and the choir sang selections.

The pastor, Rev. Edward M. Noyes, gave a historical sermon on the subject from the text, Joshua 4, 7, "These stones shall be to you for a memorial." He discussed the need and service of memorials and spoke of the national ideals for which they stand and which they bring to remembrance. He illustrated from various events in the history of the nation and the church. Gov. Coolidge spoke of some of the things for which the American nation stands, of the results gained in the wars it has fought, and some of the tasks yet to be accomplished. Mayor Childs spoke of problems yet to be worked out and the necessity of a full completion of the task set before the nation in the effort to realize its ideals.

At the close of the service Gov. and Mrs. Coolidge held an informal reception in the church parlor and greeted a large number of people.

THE NEW CHRISTIANITY

The third lecture in the course "The Great Awakening" topic "The New Christianity" was given on Monday evening in the New Church, Highland avenue, Newtonville, by Rev. Julian K. Smyth of New York to a large audience. The speaker said it was in the air that we were to have a new era in religion, some regarded the Christian Church as having failed in its mission because it did not prevent the recent great war, but in his opinion the Christian religion was yet to be tried and now was the time for the Church to stand forth with the true Christian doctrines and challenge men to give them fair trial. Many would readily admit that victory in the war came from the adherence to high principles, and incentives to duty, courage, unselfish patriotism and clean living might men by religion. Religion would give comfort, confidence, hope, peace in some of the darkest hours of the conflict. To many in the war the Church had played the part of the guardian angel. He thought religion militant had won the war. By victory we won the right "being delivered from the hands of our enemies to serve the Lord without fear." More than 150 years ago Swedenborg taught that if the commandments of the Lord Jesus Christ were obeyed war would be impossible and this principle was winning its way to recognition and perhaps the League of Nations would lead the way to the prevention of all wars. That would be the greatest of all victories. Bolshevism as commonly understood regarded true religion and marriage as enemies. Unless the evils of Bolshevism and society were overcome by true religion then Bolshevism would win. The nature of true religion derived from our Lord was never to despair of victory for the right. Marshal Foch was a deeply religious man but claimed only one merit, that of never despairing, and this spirit of endurance and faith he cultivated in his mind by prayer.

There was a little chapel near his post, where he asked daily for faith, strength, hope, devotion, protection and faithfulness to those under his command. He looked for that spirit which never despaired to the Lord himself, for it was the spirit of the Divine Master, who said "Heaven and Earth shall pass away but my words shall not pass away." Our new religion would teach us never to despair of God.

Some claimed we now should have a new statement of the Christian faith. We had that in a concise form already as a basis for a new Heaven and earth as revealed to John on Patmos. Instead of 14 points Swedenborg had drawn from the Lord's Word and called men to accept eight rules of life as necessary for the reconstruction of society. True religion consisted in them.

There must be first, what is divine among the people; second, justice among them; third, morality; fourth, diligence, skill and probity; fifth, the necessities of life; sixth, things necessary for carrying on occupation; seventh, the things necessary for protection; eighth, a sufficient employment whereby comes wealth.

The speaker claimed the second great feature in the New Christianity would be that the Bible would become the book of the hour. It would be seen to be a book of infinite wisdom because containing the words of Jehovah in which there are most hidden things. Men would search the Scripture because in them would be found the words of eternal life.

The third great feature of spiritual reconstruction in the Church would be that the Lord Jesus Christ would be recognized as God Man, a Divine Being, who had reached down and assumed the human nature so that he might touch and help and redeem men. This doctrine was beautifully taught in the first chapter of St. John's Gospel.

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God and the Word was God. And the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us and we beheld his glory, the glory of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth. The Law was given by Moses grace and truth came by Jesus Christ."

MT. IDA NOTES

Last Friday the French Department gave a play, "Ma Tante et Mon Cure, which was a great credit to the school. Yesterday the school held its annual Easter dance preceding the Easter vacation of two weeks.

MR. PUFFER DEAD

News of the sudden death of Lewis R. Puffer at Hartford, Conn., on last Friday, March 21st, came as a great shock to his many friends in Newton. He was the only son of William L. and Anna W. Puffer of West Newton, born January 12, 1892, and educated in the Newton Schools, graduating from the Newton High School in 1910. He attended Cornell University, where he was a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, the College Glee Club and of the Varsity Band. Graduating from college in 1914 he at once went into business with a firm of contractors having offices in Boston and Worcester. He assisted in the construction of the new buildings at Wellesley College. He was married June 23, 1917, to Margaret T. Thayer of Harvard, Mass., and made his home in Hartford, Conn., where he was employed in the engineering department of the Automatic Refrigerating Company until last week when he was run down and instantly killed by a switching engine on the freight yards where it is supposed he went in search of some missing freight. He was a member of the Connecticut State Guard previous to enlisting in the army. Early in 1918 he joined the Aviation Section of the U. S. Army. He began his training at Mass. Institute of Technology, finished it at Cornell University, and was assigned first to Camp Dick, Dallas, Texas, and then to Camp Ebert, Lonoke, Arkansas, where he was honorably discharged at the signing of the Armistice.

Lewis Puffer made friends easily because of his winsome personality, and held the respect of all who knew him because of his absolutely dependable character. He was a member of the Central Congregational Church which he joined in May 1906, always remaining true to his profession of faith made at that time. Cut off in the promise of early young manhood he will always be held in our loving remembrance for his quiet but sterling Christian manhood.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at Mt. Auburn chapel where he was in charge of Rev. Dr. Charles F. Weed.

COPLY THEATRE—"Arms and the Man." George Bernard Shaw's comedy which the Henry Jewett Players are to act during the coming week at the Copley Repertory Theatre, beginning Tuesday afternoon, was the first of that brilliant writer's plays to be given in this country. It firmly established his reputation as a playwright, and it remains one of his most successful and most frequently acted comedies. It was given two seasons ago at the Copley, and its revival will repeat its success here. From start to finish "Arms and the Man" is a play that should be read by all who wish to see it, or who have seen it, on the stage, and should be seen on the stage by all who have read it.

LETTER OF THANKS

U. S. Naval Air Station,
The following letter has been received at Headquarters.
Key West, Fla., Feb. 5, 1919.

Miss L. Mason,
Executive Secretary,
Special Aid Society, Boston, Mass.
My dear Miss Mason:

I thank you heartily for your good letter of the 19th, and for the altogether splendid outfit which followed it. I appreciate it far more than I can say, and I hope you will be so kind as to transmit this expression of gratitude to the Special Aid Society and the ladies of the Newton Branch particularly, since they seem to have had a major share in the making of the most useful articles you have sent me. I especially appreciate the sweater, helmet and socks because we have been having some surprisingly cold weather here lately for flying. The body protector, mittens and little cap I shall be able to make good use of later, since I expect to leave with Captain Bartlett's Roosevelt Memorial Expedition to the North Pole. Included in the outfit are several small sea planes and a large one for long distance explorations around the North Pole, and I hope to pilot one of the machines. I understand Ruth Law, the famous aviatrix, is to be one of the party. With renewed thanks for your kindness, believe me,

Faithfully yours,
E. F. Plank, Flight Cadet.
